CITY TO FIGHT HIGHER FARES ON ALL LINES

Council Orders Suit Started Without Hoyne Aid.

Chicago traction fare controversies yesterday occupied the center of the stage in state, county, and city officialdom. While Cook county and Chicago officials discussed ways and means to defeat the increased fare grant to the "L" roads, the proposal of the Chicago Surface lines increase furnished a new problem. The outstanding features of the lively day in city transportation affairs may be listed as follows:

City council at a special session directs Corporation Counsel Ettelson to fight fare increase demands of all traction companies.

City council refuses to adopt Ald. Kennedy's "blacklist" resolution against "L" lines.

City council orders State's Attorney Hoyne to keep hands off the city's fare increase resistance program.

Corporation Counsel Ettelson announces that he will start the fight against the traction interests today.

State's Attorney Hoyne assails aldermen in statement and prepares to take independent action to stop fare advances.

Chief interest of the day centered about the special council meeting called to set in motion the city and county legal machinery to fight the fare increases. For the first time in many months Mayor Thompson and anti-administration aldermen counseled together in amity.

To Appeal to Courts.

Mayor Thompson immediately after the special session had been called to order caused to be read a letter he had written to Mr. Ettelson directing the corporation counsel to take an appeal to the Circuit court of Sangamon county against the decision of the state utilities commission granting a temporary fare of 6 cents to the elevated lines.

Ald. Schwartz then offered a resolution providing that the state's attorney and the corporation counsel start the immediate prosecution of suits to prevent the collection of any fare higher than 5 cents and an order directing that the corporation counsel be given an appropriation of $5,000 for expenses.

City to Do Own Fighting.

A debate that lasted more than an hour followed. It ended with a roll call on Ald. Lipps' motion to strike out all reference to Mr. Hoyne and make the resolutions simply directory to the city's chief law officer. The Lipps motion carried by the vote of 33 to 30.

Speaking to his resolution, Ald. Schwartz said that the Supreme court had not definitely specified that the state utilities commission had authority to raise fares in defiance of contract obligations agreed to by traction lines and municipalities.

"We should fight these proposed raises to the limit of our ability," he said. "We should accept the proffer by the state's attorney, who alone may bring some kind of court action that might be desired."

Ordinance Vote Cited.

Ald. Capitain was the first to object. He said that had the people adopted the universal traction ordinance at the last election, "we should not be in this predicament today."

"Why should the state's attorney wait for the council's suggestion in proceeding?" he asked. "Why didn't he take action yesterday? The city council, time and again, ever since the Harrison administration, has admitted that it had no control over the transportation lines—it never had any over the elevated lines, which have always been under state control.

"Let the public know that as far as rate regulations and service regulations are concerned the council has no control. When you put yourselves on record that such is the case, then we may have a chance to get home rule.

"We know why the increase has been made necessary—the extraordi-

WILSON'S PARTY OF 200 TO SAIL IN TWO WEEKS

Start Between the 4th and the 10th for Versailles.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—[Special.]—President Wilson will sail for France between Dec. 4 and 10 on a former trans-Atlantic liner convoyed by naval craft, according to the plans now being made. His entourage, including the American peace delegation, advisers, experts, secretaries, stenographers and the wives of some of the officials, will number approximately 200 persons.

Secretary Lansing said today that neither the date, seat nor program of the peace conference has been decided upon by the associated governments. There is thought to be little question, however, that the tribunal will sit at Versailles, where preparations already are under way for it.

Wilson Will Reply.

President Wilson, it is now understood, will make an important statement on the purpose of his visit abroad just before leaving here and at the same time reply indirectly to criticism which is being directed at certain features of his peace program.

The president's plans are rapidly maturing. He will visit England for a day or two before going to France and expects to visit the battle fields where the American troops distinguished themselves. The president may have Christmas dinner with the American troops overseas.

May Meet in January.

There is reason to believe that the program, if not the date of the conference, will not be finally arranged until after the preliminary conferences to be held at Versailles or Paris between President Wilson and the representatives of the allied governments. It is extremely unlikely that the formal peace congress will be convened before Jan. 1 or even later.

The preliminary conferences with President Wilson are expected to be nearly as important as the formal conference. What is decided at the preliminary conference will have the force of binding the peace conference itself, inasmuch as the heads of the entente and American governments will have made the decisions.

Differences Between Allies.

There are extreme differences between some of the allied nations, and also, it is thought, between the entente powers and the United States, the former differences relating to questions of territorial dispositions, the latter to the application of President Wilson's principles. It is understood to be President Wilson's hope that most of these differences may be resolved before the formal congress sits.

Preparations already are under way in France for an unparalleled ceremony and pageant on the occasion of the signing of the peace. The French government intends to invite the heads of all the allied nations to visit Paris at that time.

Duration of Visit.

It is believed the duration of President Wilson's visit will depend upon developments overseas. If he should be elected president of the peace conference it is thought he would find it possible to prolong his stay, and should occasion require his return to the United States the vice president of the conference would preside.

The great powers, it is declared, will be put to the supreme test by President Wilson's proposals. They will face the necessity of accepting the new order, or clinging to the old; the league of nations, and free seas will be guaranteed by them, or they will have the alternative of confessing their unbelief in the new order and their belief that measures to prevent future wars are not practical.

Britain for League.

Great Britain has unequivocally declared for a league of nations. Italy is enthusiastically in favor of it. The smaller nations even more earnestly desire it. Only France is thought to be opposed, and her opposition can be overcome, the president believes.

Some of the allied countries, it was learned, desire a more comprehensive scheme for the league of nations than was thought to have been contemplated here. The idea has prevailed in Washington that President Wilson's proposal would comprise a treaty, to be universally signed, creating an international court, to which all the signatory nations would be obligated to submit their disputes for settlement or be put outside the pale of international intercourse.

The name of former President Taft, who has been mentioned in connection with the peace commission, could be eliminated as a possibility, it was said today on the authority of Secretary Lansing.

ODD CENT CAR FARE STARTS NEW TROUBLES FOR RIDING PUBLIC

There is one fellow who is gleeful over this 6 cent elevated fare. He's the man who used to walk to save a nickel. Now he saves 6 cents.

Some of them took the penny raise at midnight as a good joke. Others seemed surprised and now and then a man was inclined to argue. Flipping down a nickel and dashing for the train seems something of a habit.

"Hey! Another cent, please," brought quite a few back.

Six cent fare also gave the moocher a chance to try new ground. He discovered at midnight that he could brace a man with the plea:

"Say, mister, could you give me a penny? I forgot and I only saved a nickel for car fare."

And then came the ever present mathematician.

"I've got it doped out," he observed, "that if every one will give a dime and pocket his four pennies and keep his change every day for a week the "L" riding public will acquire 4,000,000 pennies. In a little while there'd be no pennies left. Hoyne could save his $25,000. The company couldn't make change, see? Have a penny strike."

U. S. LIFTS BARS ON ALL BUILDING

No More Permits Needed to Resume Work Held Up by the War.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—[Special.]—All remaining restrictions on nonwar construction throughout the United States were removed today. Building operations of any character, which were suspended by the war, now may be resumed without further permits.

Chairman Baruch of the war industries board announced today that D. R. McLennan, chief of the nonwar construction section of the board, had telegraphed the order to chairmen of State Councils of Defense.

No Bar on Building.

"The action taken permits all building operations of whatever character, held up in the interest of the war program, to proceed," the official announcement says. "No further permits will be required from the war industries board or the state councils, through whom control over the situation in each state was maintained.

"Since Nov. 11, with a view to assisting the industry back to a complete peace basis as quickly as possible, a careful canvass has been made of the conditions in each state with respect to building materials, transportation, and the supply of fuel and labor.

Replies from All Sections.

"In this investigation the nonwar construction section sought the views of the industry itself and of the State Councils of Defense. The replies received, coming from practically all the states, showed an unanimous opinion in favor of such action."

Gibbons Hires Men to Tear Down His Election Signs

County Treasurer Elect H. R. Gibbons has employed a force of men to tear down all the signs and posters that helped to elect him.

"These had their purpose, but I fail to see what right a candidate has to leave the city littered up with them after the campaign is over," he said. "I consider it my duty to clean up the city so far as my campaign was instrumental in dirtying things."

SWIFT GIVES EMPLOYES TEN PER CENT BONUS

The employés of Swift & Co.—those who work in the offices and the steady time men—will receive reinforcements in their battle with our old friend, Gen. H. C. O. Living. The reinforcements will be sent from the headquarters of the concern as soon as transportation can be arranged.

Yesterday the firm announced the award of a bonus of 10 per cent of each employé's yearly salary, just as a little help in the fight. Every employé, from office boy to officer, except the laborers who are not on steady time, will come in for his share.

F. S. Hayward, secretary of the company, said last night that the checks would be sent out as soon as they could be written and mailed. The total of the bonus will amount to something like $750,000!

JERUSALEM RID OF MOSQUITOES

New York, Nov. 21.—Jerusalem has been freed of its epidemic-breeding pest of mosquito and credit for the achievement belongs to Louis Cantor of Rochester, N. Y. The crusade involved petrolizing 1,350 cisterns and elimination of many other breeding places.

Mr. Cantor formerly was a sanitarian with the Goethals commission at the Panama canal and was attached to the navy department when he was released for service with the Zionist unit in Palestine.

Yank Red Cross Party First to Reach Foe Soil

PARIS, Nov. 21.—A delegation of the American Red Cross has crossed the Rhine into Baden at Huningue (Huningen), placing the first Americans on German soil. The place where the river was crossed is a short distance north of the Swiss frontier. The German soldiers accepted American flags and officers cleared the roads for the Red Cross trucks and insisted that the Red Cross workers drink with them.

"Lightless Nights" Gone by Order of Garfield

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—[Special.]—"Lightless nights" are over in the United States. Next Saturday night the cities and towns of the country may blaze with all their pre-war show of electric signs, and gay white ways. Fuel Administrator Garfield today rescinded the "lightless" order and set Saturday, Nov. 23, as the first night for the full use of illumination.

WILSON SIGNS BILL DOOMING ALL LIQUORS

Intoxicants Barred Until Army Is Demobilized.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—[Special.]—The United States will be bone dry after June 30 next until the termination of demobilization of America's fighting forces is proclaimed by the president of the United States.

This tremendous victory for prohibition of the liquor traffic was accomplished late today when President Wilson signed the food production stimulation bill containing the Jones nation-wide prohibition rider.

What New Law Does.

After May 1, 1919, until the conclusion of the present war and thereafter until the termination of demobilization, the date of which shall be determined and proclaimed by the president of the United States, no grain, cereals, fruits, or other product shall be used in the manufacture or production of beer, wine, or other intoxicating malt or vinous liquor for beverage purposes.

After June 30, 1919, until the conclusion of the present war and thereafter until the termination of demobilization, the date of which shall be determined and proclaimed by the president of the United States, no beer, wine, or other intoxicating malt or vinous liquor shall be sold for beverage purposes except for export.

Stops Importation of Liquors.

The provision further directs:

The commissioner of internal revenue is hereby authorized and directed to prescribe rules and regulations, subject to the approval of the secretary of the treasury, in regard to the manufacture and sale of distilled spirits and removal of distilled spirits held in bond as of June 30, 1919, until this act shall cease to operate, for other than beverage purpose; also in regard to the manufacture, sale, and distribution of wine for sacramental, medicinal, or other than beverage uses.

After the approval of this act no distilled, malt, vinous, or other intoxicating liquors shall be imported into the United States during the continuance of the present war and period of demobilization except wines, which may be imported until May 1, 1919, provided that this provision against importation shall not apply to shipments en route to the United States at the time of the passage of this act.

Liquor Men May Fight.

The president's approval of the measure was a surprise to many members of congress, who believed that he was not in sympathy with its purpose, in view of the pending prohibition constitutional amendment which is in the hands of the states for approval, and especially in view of the fact that the manufacture and importation of distilled liquors are already under the ban for the period of the war, and the manufacture of malt liquors must be stopped Dec. 1 next under a proclamation.

Some authorities hold that the Jones amendment is unconstitutional, and it may be that the liquor interests will carry it to the Supreme court, but by the time the Supreme court decides the case prohibition leaders believe the nation-wide absolute prohibition bill will have been passed.

BEER SUPPLY NOW MEAGER.

Chicago brewers were not taken by surprise at the action of President Wilson in signing the dry bill. They were forced to shut down or curtail production several weeks ago, when their grain supply was cut off. There is enough beer on hand to last two or three months only.

Henry C. Bannard, president of the United Breweries, said last night:

"This bill adds nothing to previous orders. The thing amounts to confiscation of property without compensation. I noticed in THE TRIBUNE this morning a story of the Chinese government buying opium and then destroying it. They do not do that here. They simply take our property.

"This means, of course, that the industry in Chicago will be dead, that all of the employés in breweries and saloons will be thrown out of work, and that the factories will nearly go to waste. I do not know what will become of them. There will be no further fight. The brewers are helpless."

Invalid Yanks Back Home in Two Months

TOURS, Nov. 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—The American expeditionary forces will have all sick, wounded, and convalescent American soldiers back in the United States within two months. The number of hospitals has been considerably reduced already by the medical corps. In the daily census of hospitals there are now 100,000 vacant beds.

WHAT IS YOUR IDEA?

Send "The Tribune" your suggestion as to what shall be the proper form of a permanent memorial to the Chicago boys who died in the war, the memorial to bear their names. What shall it be? A monument? An arch? A temple? A hospital? A great hall? A bridge? A parkway? What? Write your ideas in 50 to 100 Words. Address "The Tribune."

IT is suggested that the sudden end of the war brings up this question: "Would it not be better to abandon the postponed temporary memorial to Chicago's soldier dead and center the public thought upon a permanent memorial?"

The temporary memorial was not undertaken last summer because material could not be obtained under the war industries ruling. Now the roll of dead in war is being made up and nearing completion. The idea of a temporary memorial tablet was to afford a place to record the names of battle victims as they came in week by week.

Ald. Kostner, who has the city council's work for this memorial, thinks efforts now should be bent toward an adequate and permanent memorial to these dead heroes.

What form should the memorial take? Mr. Kostner says:

"People with whom I have talked have doubted whether we should go ahead now with the temporary memorial idea. It is suggested that the home coming of the boys will be marked by the appearance of many victory arches and similar structures.

"The question also is raised whether there should not be begun at once a great movement for a memorial big enough and fine enough to serve as the city's monument to its heroes. If that is done it would be better to put the $25,000 that the temporary structure would cost into the larger plan.

"Another question is as to the form that should be given to the permanent memorial. Should it be a monument? Should it be a building on the lake front? Should it be a hall called 'Liberty hall,' with the names of our 'gold stars' in gold framed paintings of the battles where they fell?"

YANKEE FLYERS SHOT DOWN 926; LOST ONLY 268

AMERICAN HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, Nov. 21.—When hostilities were suspended American aviators had destroyed 661 more German planes and thirty-five more German balloons than the Americans had lost. The total number of enemy planes destroyed by the Americans was 926 and the total number of balloons seventy-three. Two hundred and sixty-five American planes and thirty-eight balloons were destroyed by the enemy.

On Nov. 11, the day of the signing of the armistice, there were actually engaged on the front 740 American planes, 744 pilots, 457 observers, and 23 aerial gunners.

Of the total number of planes 329 were of the pursuit type, 296 were for observation, and 115 were bombers.

FRENCH PREMIER SEEKS WAY TO SEIZE KAISER

PARIS, Nov. 21.—Premier Clemenceau has asked Charles Lyon-Caen, dean of the faculty of law at the University of Paris, to give an opinion on the question whether the extradition of William Hohenzollern, the former German emperor, can be demanded. Owing to the complexity of the question M. Lyon-Caen has asked that he be given time to prepare a reply, La Liberte says. Edouard Clunet, the leading French authority on international law, has given it as his opinion that it is impossible to demand the former emperor's extradition.

71 WARSHIPS SURRENDERED BY GERMANY

U.S. Squadron Helps Receive Fleet of Beaten Enemy.

EDINBURGH, Scotland, Nov. 21.—[By the Associated Press.]—Germany's high seas fleet, after its surrender to the allied navies, was brought to the Firth of Forth today. The British grand fleet and five American battleships and three French warships, in two long columns, escorted the seventy-one German vessels to their anchorage.

Give Up 19 More U-Boats.

HARWICH, England, Nov. 21.—Another flotilla of nineteen U-boats was surrendered today to a British squadron. A twentieth broke down on the way.

Mine Sinks One German Ship.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—The German fleet surrendered to the British today, it became known this evening, consisted of nine battleships, five battle cruisers, seven light cruisers, and fifty destroyers.

One German destroyer while on its way across the North sea with the other ships of the German high seas fleet to surrender to the allies struck a mine. The warship was badly damaged and sank.

Take Fleet to Scapa Flow.

The surrendered German fleet will be taken to the Scapa flow tomorrow.

[The Scapa flow is in the middle of the Orkney islands, off the northeast coast of Scotland. It is a small inland sea, with an area of fifty square miles. It contains many small islands and has numerous good harbors and roadsteads. There is good anchorage in the Scapa flow for a great number of large vessels. Before the war it was the headquarters of the British home fleet during the naval training season.]

Surrendered at 9:30 o'Clock.

The announcement of the surrender of the German fleet was made officially by the admiralty this afternoon in this statement:

"The commander in chief of the grand fleet has reported that at 9:30 o'clock this morning he met the first and main installment of the German high seas fleet, which is surrendering for internment.

U. S. Battle Squadron Present.

The British grand fleet, accompanied by an American battle squadron and French cruisers, steamed out at 3 o'clock this morning from it Scottish base to accept the surrender.

The point of rendezvous for the allied and German sea forces was between thirty and forty miles east of May island, opposite the Firth of Forth.

The fog which had enveloped the grand fleet for three days cleared last night and this morning the weather was dull with a slight haze hanging over the Firth of Forth.

The fleet which witnessed the surrender consisted of some 400 ships, including 60 dreadnaughts, 50 light cruisers, and nearly 200 destroyers. Admiral Sir David Beatty, commander of the grand fleet, was on the Queen Elizabeth.

Fleet Cheers Beatty.

Describing the surrender of the German warships to the commander in chief of the grand fleet, Sir David Beatty, today, correspondents say that after all the German ships had been taken over the British admiral came through the line on the Queen Elizabeth, every allied vessel being manned and greeting the admiral and the flagship with loud and ringing cheers.

The British grand fleet formed in two single lines six miles apart and so formed as to enable the surrendering fleet to come up the center. The leading ship of the German line was sighted between 9 and 10 o'clock in the morning. It was the Seydlitz, flying the German naval ensign.

GET GIANT SHIPS.

The names of the battleships, battle cruisers, and light cruisers which have been surrendered to the allies have not been announced officially. However, a telegram received in Amsterdam from Berlin Sunday named these as among the surrendered fleet:

Battleships—Kaiser, 24,113 tons; Kaiserin, 24,113 tons; Koenig Albert, 24,113 tons; Kronprinz Wilhelm, 25,000 tons; Prinzregent Luitpold, 24,113 tons; Markgraf, 25,391 tons; Grosser Kurfuerst, 25,293 tons; Bayern, 28,000 tons; Koenig, 25,293 tons, and Friedrich der Grosse, 24,113 tons.

Battle cruisers—Hindenburg, about 27,000 tons; Derflinger, 28,000 tons; Seydlitz, 25,000 tons; Moltke, 23,000 tons, and Von der Tann, 18,800 tons.

Light cruisers—Bremen, 4,000 tons; Brummer, 4,000 tons; Frankfurt, 5,400 tons; Koeln, tonnage uncertain; Dresden, tonnage uncertain, and Emden, 5,400 tons.

KING DINES ADMIRALS.

ROSYTH, Scotland, Nov. 20, via Montreal.—[Delayed.]—King George and Queen Mary entertained today on board Admiral Beatty's flagship the British, French, and American admirals assembled here in connection with the surrender of the German warships. The king reviewed the entire British grand fleet and was received enthusiastically. Afterward the king and queen witnessed the departure of the fast destroyers forming the vanguard of the fighting ships to which the Germans were to surrender.

How U-Boats Surrendered.

ON BOARD A BRITISH CRUISER, Wednesday, Nov. 20.—[By the Associated Press.]—Twenty German submarines, the first of the German fleet to surrender, were taken over by the British thirty-six miles east of Harwich this morning. The transfer, by admiralty orders, was made silently and without demonstration. The German crews sullenly obeyed the orders which had been given them, and tonight the U-boats lie moored under the British flag near a British submarine base.

During the ceremony of surrender American seaplanes flew low overhead while American submarine chasers carried British crews to the undersea boats.

The scene that began about sunrise, when the first submarine was sighted, until late this evening, when the last one was rounded up, might easily have been mistaken for fleet maneuvers. The work was carried out with such precision that there were few signs of the momentous significance of it all.

Sullen, but Well Fed.

The German crews appeared a sullen but well fed lot when the first British officers stepped aboard and curtly saluted. British sailors followed the officers and the Germans went to their forward deck and the British and German officers went below to examine the first ship to be taken over.

The German commander briefly answered questions regarding the machinery, but said nothing else. Evidence of strain and deep chagrin was unmistakably written on the faces of some enemy officers. The machinery was generally in good shape, but the vessels were extremely dirty and devoid of all unessentials.

The first submarine boat flew no flag, and it seemed a long time to the British sailors on the other vessels before the flag appeared. Finally, however, a white ensign was broken out. Even this last signal of total submission by Germany did not cause the British sailors to disobey the order of silence.

The German crews were placed on a destroyer and taken to the two transports which had accompanied them. These vessels were escorted to the rendezvous of the morning, where they were left to make their return trip to Germany alone.

"90 PER CENT OF GERMANS WANT TIRPITZ TRIED"

Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.

BERLIN, Nov. 19.—[Delayed.]—Stories are coming out about Admiral Von Tirpitz, now that he has fled to Switzerland.

Tirpitz, it is said, collected enormous funds, especially from the Rhenish industrial circles, for the pan-German aims. From other sources, too, he drew many millions to be used in corrupting newspapers and for other sinister purposes. The Bavarian king alone paid him 5,000,000 marks to be used in popularizing the idea to embody Alsace-Lorraine in a Lorraine-Bavarian kingdom.

Perhaps 90 per cent of the people in Germany demand today that Tirpitz be court martialed for the part he played in the U-boat war.

France Must Eat Slow So Germans Can Be Fed

PARIS, Nov. 21.—[Havas.]—Victor Boret, the French minister of provisions, in an interview today, said it would be impossible at present to increase the war time rations to civilians because of the necessity of supplying food to the central powers and neutral countries.

DROWNED IN BATHTUB.

Mrs. Anna Woods, 50 years old, 1107 Leland avenue, a divorcee, who was found dead in the bathtub in her flat Wednesday night, met death through accidental drowning when unconscious from a fall, according to a coroner's jury verdict yesterday.

WITH REVOLT 7 DAYS OLD, BERLIN DRIFTS QUIETLY

Councils Being Formed by Everybody; All Aid New Government.

BY JOSEPH HERRINGS.
Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.
[Copyright: 1918.]

BERLIN, Nov. 16.—[Via The Hague.] — No casual visitor who dropped into Berlin on this seventh day of the revolution could possibly form the faintest idea of the series of tremendous earthquakes that have shaken Germany to her very foundations and caused all the petrified idols to tumble from their lofty heights in shattered ruins, never to rise again.

If it were not for the red flags flying from most of the public buildings nothing would distinguish the Berlin of today very much from the Berlin of November, 1917, excepting, perhaps, the utter absence of the Prussian officer, the fact being that the long war had already impoverished the once gay appearance of the German capital.

A week ago Berliners went to bed in an absolute monarchy, and when they awoke the next morning they found themselves in a most radical republic. It was like a dream, people said; but after celebrating and wondering, as the case might be, for twelve hours, the people have sobered up quickly under the pressure of the awful realities of the general situation, and almost everybody is resolutely putting his shoulder to the wheel today.

Unable to Stun Them.

The long war and its fearful sacrifices had schooled this people, and of course after the fearful and absolutely unexpected military catastrophes nothing whatever could really stun them any more.

Today the revolution is an accepted fact, and everybody to outward appearances goes quietly about his business. True, many, even among the uninitiated, saw it coming, and nearly the whole people, excepting the very small reactionary percentage, had for weeks been asking:

"Why doesn't he go? Why in hell doesn't he quit?" Meaning, of course, his once so terrible majesty, William II.

Max's Government Too Weak.

When finally he went it was too late to prevent a complete change of everything. The revolution was already progressing. Max von Baden's so-called People's government being far too weak to stop the silently swelling tide of liberty.

Although many would like to have seen emerge from the catastrophe a government more on the lines of the western democracies, for the present nearly all intelligent people are thankfully recognizing that none but the strong organization of the Social Democratic party could possibly have saved the situation from the utter chaos to which the former kaiser's criminally selfish attitude seemed to doom the German people.

So far the Socialist government has made good. Everything is orderly and quiet. The masses of the people, after the first few days, returned to work. There were no flowers, no music, no alcohol about this revolution, nor were there bonfires, or much gunpowder spent, as proved by the scant traces on the Royal palace.

Everybody Forming Councils.

This was indeed a very unpicturesque and sober revolution, and if its results seem to develop somewhat on the Russian lines, it is only in outward appearance. The German revolutionaries have borrowed the names of Russian institutions such as "Councils of Soldiers and Workers." Such councils are blossoming forth in great variety; even the Bourgeoise classes, having somewhat recovered from their stupefaction, are forming councils.

Today the newspapers tell of a council of the stock exchange men, including mere employes; of a council of academicians, embracing students and professors alike; of a council of the Reformed Liberal parties, of a council of Berlin municipal employes, a council of gardeners and peasants, and many others.

"Soon we shall hear of a council of junkers, or even a council of abdicated princes," remarks an irrepressible jester.

Centrist Party Helps.

But, joking aside, the Centrist party, led by the archbishop of Munich and even various conservative organizations, have issued appeals this morning to the members to aid the present government, insisting, however, that a national convention be called as soon as possible for the reconstitution of the state. This, Chancellor Ebert promised, shall be convened in the beginning of January.

With more apprehension, however, the public press and government regard the swelling tide of uniformed humanity that is beginning to flow back from the western frontier and has already inundated Westphalia. Within one week it will probably have reached Berlin. Everything imaginable is being done to prevent another catastrophe and to load this great flood into proper channels, but the question is: Will the impoverished and exhausted people and this terribly handicapped government be able to accomplish this?

To this end supplies are being scraped together wherever found. To civilians all distant travel is barred; every locomotive, every car is reserved for home coming soldiers. The former prince's palace and the house of lords, in which the people's fate used to be decided, are prepared for the reception of those that cannot find room in the already overcrowded barracks, and whom the war has deprived of their own homes.

Around Cologne, Berlin, and other great cities cordons of soldiers are being formed to divert the threatening flood into harmless channels if possible.

Reform City Governments.

Much, too, has been done for reform in municipal government in Berlin, Hamburg, and all other cities. Everywhere the old form of election for city parliaments has been replaced by a secret universal ballot. In Berlin, the people's new police president, Eichorn, has abolished the much hated political branch and the hated name of "Schutzmann" ("protector"), which has been replaced by "watchman."

The watchmen no longer carry sabers, but will go unarmed until they can be furnished with rubber clubs. Meanwhile they are aided by members of the council of soldiers, who are carried through the streets on autos formerly in the military service. They carry rifles and machine guns and are the terror of housebreakers and plunderers, with whom they make short work.

Considering the circumstances, however, there have been astonishingly few cases of robbery and similar crimes. Among the autos now employed in patrolling the city are some that formerly belonged to the former kaiser, and their horns, sounding the "Zuetion hasectat," familiar to all Berliners, were heard on their new duty as they raced for the first time along the crowded Roten Linden (Red Linden), as that famous street—Unter den Linden that was—is named now.

CHICAGO'S PROPOSED BOULEVARD OF VICTORY

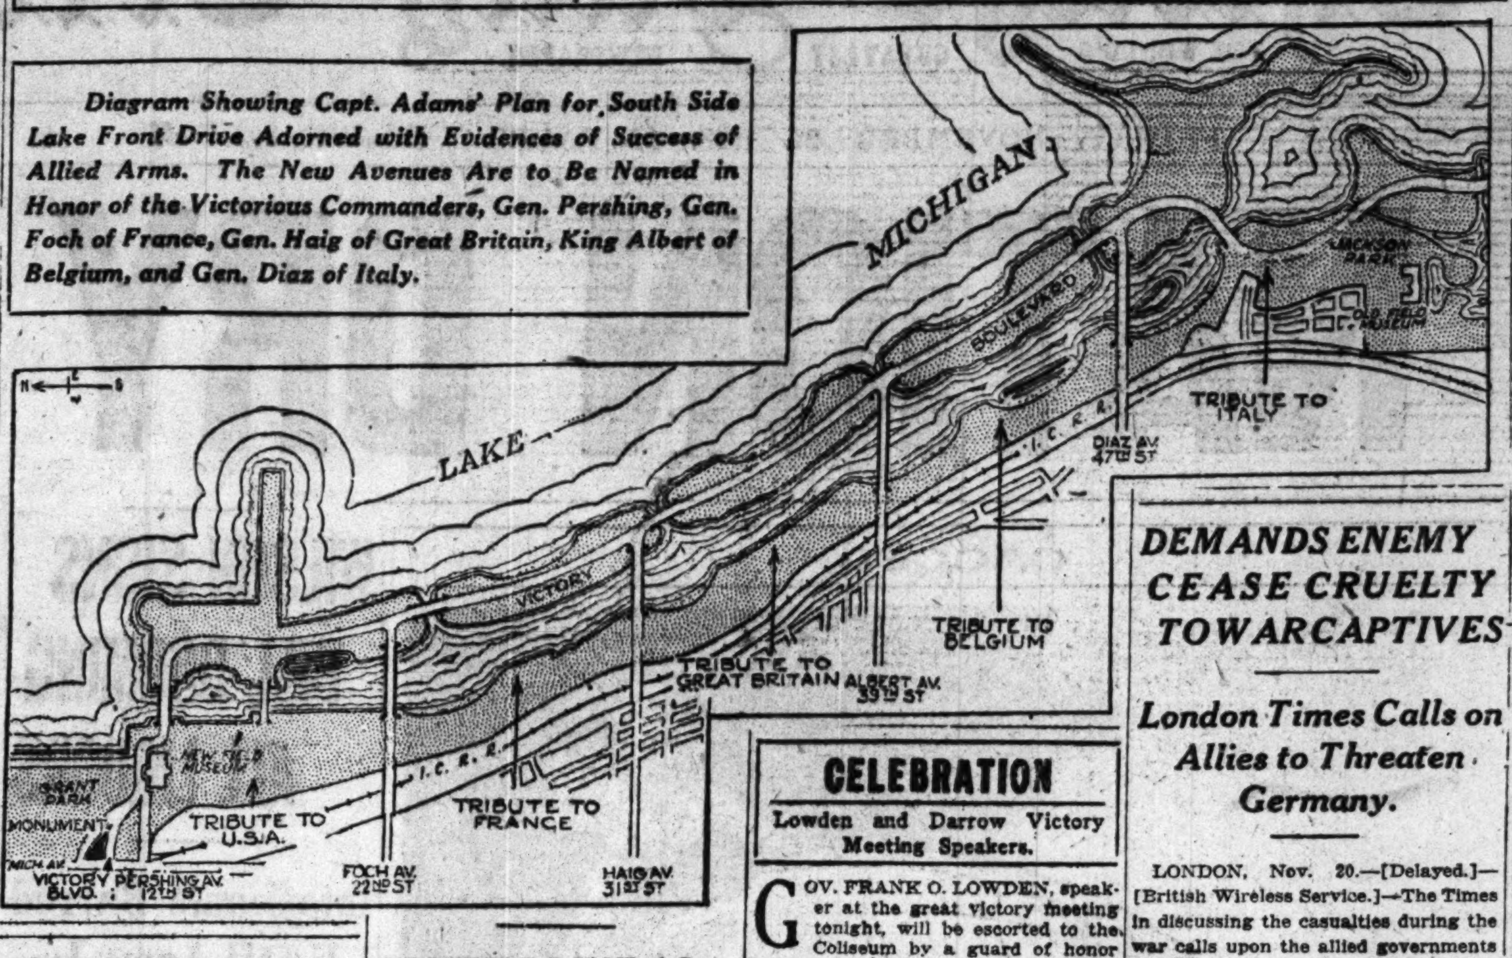

Diagram Showing Capt. Adams' Plan for South Side Lake Front Drive Adorned with Evidences of Success of Allied Arms. The New Avenues Are to Be Named in Honor of the Victorious Commanders, Gen. Pershing, Gen. Foch of France, Gen. Haig of Great Britain, King Albert of Belgium, and Gen. Diaz of Italy.

SOUTH DRIVE AS WAR MEMORIAL TO VICTORS, PLAN

Capt. Adams Outlines Historic Avenue on Lake Shore.

A permanent military and naval memorial, six miles long, commemorating on a magnificent scale the deeds of the world democracies, which beat autocracy into unconditional surrender, was proposed yesterday by Capt. Myron E. Adams. It can be built without costing Chicago anything.

Capt. Adams, who was an expert in city planning before he entered the army, proposes that the contemplated south shore project be developed as a war monument to America and our great allies. His plan, which has met with favor from officials of the South park board and the Chicago plan commission, to whom it was submitted, in brief is as follows:

Give the name Victory boulevard to the outer driveway that is to be built off the present shore line of the lake between Grant and Jackson parks.

Honor Five Countries.

From Twelfth to Forty-seventh streets divide the new park area into five sections of one mile each. Make each of these sections a distinctive tribute, one to the United States and the others to France, Great Britain, Belgium, and Italy.

At one mile intervals name the connecting streets between Victory boulevard and the present shore after the great military leaders of the allied nations. Twelfth street extended to the new water line would be Pershing drive, Twenty-second street would be Foch drive, Thirty-first street would be named Haig drive, Thirty-ninth street King Albert drive, and Forty-seventh street Diaz drive.

Bridges where these drives are to cross the lagoon would be named after naval leaders of the allied countries. Between Twelfth street and the mouth of the Chicago river would be opportunity for Polish, Japanese, Czecho-Slovak, and other memorials.

Opportunity for City.

"Chicago has the most wonderful opportunity of any city in the world to build a war memorial of a size and distinction that would be unique," said Capt. Adams, in elaborating his plan. "The opportunity lies in the fact that the south shore project can be developed as a monument without any change in plans and without additional expense. Think what a six mile memorial, out in the lake, silhouetted against the water line, would be—nothing like it in the world. It would become famous."

DEMANDS ENEMY CEASE CRUELTY TO WAR CAPTIVES

London Times Calls on Allies to Threaten Germany.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—[Delayed.]—[British Wireless Service.]—The Times in discussing the casualties during the war calls upon the allied governments to compel the Germans to treat the prisoners in their hands without abuse. It says that the losses in the war are the greatest since Asiatic barbarians carried on wars of extermination.

"Now for the first time," the Times says, "we begin to learn officially at how great a cost the victory has been won. Our casualties on land amount to the enormous figure of 3,049,000. To judge the full sum of bloody sacrifice the casualties of our allies and the murders Germany has done must be added.

"Since wars of extermination were carried on by the barbaric conquerors of Asia no such sea of blood has deluged the world.

"Even now, when the Germans are whining and clamoring for the modifications of conditions incomparably milder than those they forced upon Russia and Roumania, they show neither pity nor common prudence toward the helpless victims still in their power. The brutality they are showing our unfortunate prisoners almost exceeds belief.

"It is time, and high time, for the allies to tell the Germans that this monstrous and inhuman abuse must cease promptly."

The Daily News urges that the names of commandants and all officers in the German camps which release prisoners in a helpless condition should be demanded at once, "preferably by wireless," so that they may be made to answer for their behavior.

POLES SEIZE POSEN, GREAT PRUSSIA FORT

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 21.—The town of Posen and a great part of the province of Posen in Prussia, are in Polish hands, according to the Berlin Vorwaerts.

The Poles in the soldiers' and workmen's organization have seized the reins of power and are forming a legion. They are in possession of munitions and provisions.

[Posen is one of the most ancient Polish towns, having been the residence of the kings of Poland down to 1296. It was a Prussian fortress of the first rank, with 157,000 inhabitants. It is the capital of the province of Posen, with a population of nearly 2,000,000. Prussia appropriated the northern part of Posen in the first partition of Poland in 1772 and the bulk of it in the second partition in 1793.]

Want to Cleanse Souls.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Copenhagen says Hans Delbrueck and other German conservative politicians have appealed to the government to appoint a committee of impartial men, including prominent neutrals, to investigate accusations of breaches of international law by Germany during the war.

The appeal said the investigation must be conducted regardless of the rank or dignity of the accused persons, so that "the German people may be able to clear its conscience."

Anarchy in Western Germany.

GENEVA, Switzerland, Sunday, Nov. 17.—[Delayed.]—The retreat of the German armies from the western front is continuing in the greatest disorder, according to information received by the Swiss federal authorities at Berne.

The anarchy in Germany is said to be far worse than during the Austrian retreat from Italy. Swiss newspapers say that military and civil authority has disappeared in western Germany.

Count Montgelas, a general in the Bavarian army, who was dismissed at Ypres in 1915 because he refused to use poisonous gas, has been recalled from Switzerland to Munich to enter the Bavarian cabinet. The count, who is a liberal and a writer, had been living at Montheux since his retirement.

MURDER THEORY DISCARDED.

The theory that John Berello, 9120 Burley avenue, an Austrian, had been murdered because of his alleged pro-German utterances was discarded by the police yesterday. It is believed he broke his neck in a fall.

HAIG'S CAVALRY GALLOPS ACROSS WATERLOO FIELD

American Army Reported to Be in Capital of Luxemburg.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—British cavalry today were riding across the field of Waterloo on their way to the German frontier. Large numbers of guns were taken over yesterday in groups by the British.

Field Marshal Haig tonight reports as follows:

"The Second and Fourth armies resumed their march this morning toward the German frontier. The movement of our troops is being conducted in accordance with program, without incident.

"On our right advanced detachments are pushing forward toward the Meuse south of Namur. On our left we have reached the general line of Gembloux-Wavre."

IN LUXEMBURG CAPITAL.

PARIS, Nov. 21.—[Havas.]—American troops tonight are presumed to be in the city of Luxemburg. Gen. John J. Pershing, commander of the American army, who is accompanying the forces, was scheduled to call on Grand Duchess Marie Adelaide.

A proclamation has been addressed to the people of Luxemburg announcing that the passage of American troops through their country is necessary, and guaranteeing the discipline and friendliness of the soldiers toward the population.

Food Prices High.

The Americans who on Wednesday passed the Luxemburg frontier got an idea of the high prices of food and other articles prevailing in Germany as a result of the war. In Esch the Americans found plenty of candy in the stores, but it was 20 francs a pound. Sugar brought from Germany was retailing at 2 francs a pound. A square of chocolate, the size that sells in the United States for 40 cents, sold at from 10 to 12 francs. But there was little to be had, even at that price. What chocolate that was available had been held over from prewar days or was brought into the country by way of Switzerland.

Coffee in Esch retails at 30 francs a pound. Eggs were selling at about a franc each. The Americans had bought all the eggs in the Esch stores within an hour after their arrival.

Advance by French.

The French official statement, issued this evening on the progress of the march of occupation, says:

"In Belgium our cavalry elements have reached Bastogne. Further south our troops have entered Habay La-Neuve. In that locality we have taken possession of part of the enemy's aviation equipment. One thousand German soldiers still remaining in the village of Grosbons have been made prisoners with their colonel.

"In Lorraine we have reached the line of Zuterheim, Neuviller, Gottesheim, Hochfelding, Stotzheim, and Phalsbourg. Petite-Pierre and Marontiers have also been occupied. These localities were beflagged and our soldiers received an enthusiastic welcome.

"The forward march continues in Alsace amid intense manifestations of sympathy. On the preceding days our troops made a solemn entry into Neuf Brisach, Huningue (Huningen), and Markolsveim, where the conditions prescribed as to the delivery of important enemy material were fulfilled."

YANKS' TRIUMPHAL MARCH.

By Edwin L. James.

Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY OF OCCUPATION, Nov. 21, 9 a. m.—Progress of the American Third army across the duchy of Luxemburg has taken on the nature of a triumphal procession. Yesterday's march took the doughboys through villages filled with cheering people and down streets lined with American flags. This morning when the advance was resumed the same sort of procession greeted them on all sides. On our right, in Lorraine, the joy at the sight of the Americans knew no bounds.

From ahead comes word that the capital of the duchy and towns all along to the German border are dressed up in holiday clothes and spirit to honor the Americans. This development delights the Americans, who had expected at best a lukewarm reception in the little country, supposed to be pro-German.

Move to Rest Billets.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Nov. 21.—[By the Associated Press.]—The movement of American troops to the rest areas behind the former fighting front is progressing rapidly. The Seventy-eighth, Eighty-second, Twenty-ninth and Twenty-sixth divisions have been withdrawn from the front and now are in rest camps. The Thirty-sixth, Eightieth, Eighty-first, and Sixth divisions are marching to the rest areas. It is understood that the Seventy-seventh division will be moved to a rest camp in southern France.

The Fifth, Eighty-ninth, Ninetieth, and Seventy-ninth divisions have been formed into the Seventh army corps and will remain temporarily in their old positions.

No Lowering of Wages, Baker Warns Country

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 21.—Secretary of War Baker in an address here tonight before the annual meeting of the National Consumers' league, of which he is president, said that in the reconstruction days of peace there must be no depression in wages and that the same high standard of living existing during the war must be maintained. Secretary Baker said that unless a better understanding and a more unselfish mode of general living resulted from the war the fruits of victory would be lost and the sacrifice of men and money would have been in vain.

CHICAGO BOYS TELL OF WORK AS PRISONERS

AMERICAN ARMY AT REVIGNY, Nov. 20.—[Delayed.]—How over 200 American prisoners, forced by the Germans to work on railroads at Montmedy, struck and compelled the Germans to take them to Corcy, was related today by Sergt. Walter Sampson, who lives at 112 North Robey street, Chicago. Sampson and several other soldiers have arrived at Revigny.

"We worked at Montmedy," Sampson said, "for fear that, if we didn't, they would send us so far to the rear and we wouldn't keep next to what was going on. The German privates kept telling us the news and joyously predicting that the war was going to stop soon.

"After they put us at Montmedy the American planes came over and let loose a deluge of bombs which badly damaged the place. We beat it early for cover and refused to work around a bombed railhead any more. So they moved us."

"At the prison camp I found a fellow who used to come around to my counter when I worked for John R. Thompson's restaurants in Chicago," said Frank Kocurek, a cook in the Thirty-third division, who lives at 235 South Halsted street, Chicago. "There he is now."

"They certainly cleaned us good when they captured us," said Corporal James Valodiska of 3007 South Trumbull avenue, Chicago. "They took my knife, wrist watch, raincoat, and about everything else except my underwear."

LONDON, Nov. 21.—The former German crown prince will take up his residence on Wieringen island in the Zuyder Zee, according to an Amsterdam dispatch to the Daily Telegraph. A parsonage on the island has been rented for him and his suite.

[Wieringen island is in the northern part of the Zuyder Zee. It is south of Texel island and opposite the Dutch town of Helder.]

King Albert's Entry Into Ancient Antwerp Has Atmosphere and Setting of Medieval Days

BY PHILIP GIBBS.

Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.
[Copyright: 1918.]

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FRANCE AND BELGIUM, Nov. 21.—It was raining yesterday in Antwerp when King Albert crossed the Scheldt by the ferry boat, but the sunshine later broke through the wet mist and brought out the color of all this pageantry which had been gray before.

Antwerp is a city in which medievalism lives with modernity, and where old spires and towers of churches and houses built 300 years ago and more are wedged in between public buildings, shipping an banking offices, hotels, and shops belonging to the growth of prosperity in the half century before the war.

But yesterday, with long banners and standards floating down its streets and hoisted upon pinnacles of the belfry and falling in waves of rich color from many balconies, there was a sense of old things rather than of new, and the ancient history of this seaport, with its merchant princes, was about.

Boy Scout as Guide.

So it was with the people in the streets A boy scout perched on my motor car to guide the way, and the Antwerp policemen were so like the London "bobbies" that I wanted to ask the time of them, just for old time's sake; and the crowds were made up of well dressed men and women, such as one might see in Liverpool on a day of public festival.

But among these crowds were figures belonging to the past, as one sees in old Flemish pictures. Franciscan Friars, with their cowls lined back so that one saw their shaven crowns, raised themselves on tiptoe of their sandaled feet to get a glimpse of the king. From lattice windows under high gables round about the cathedral nuns poked their heads out.

Weep as Soldiers Pass.

I laughed and cheered and wept a little as the Belgian soldiers carried their colors past the king. Commissaries of police in cocked hats exhorted the people to keep their lines, but they were closed in by wild rushes when the king and queen came in their motor cars behind a cavalry escort. Their cars were laden with flowers, which had been given to them.

On the steps of the hotel de ville the sun glinted on the gold work on that masterpiece of the Flemish guilds, and now from scores of windows more flowers fell, so that they drove through a flurry of red and white petals.

Crippled Veterans Pass.

Before they went to the saluting base there was a procession which made emotion pass down the lines of the people like a wave. It was a crowd of men walking very slowly by the help of crutches and sticks, with a banner above them. Some of them were in the uniform of the Belgian army of 1914 and others wore armlets of the Belgian colors. They were the men who had been in the siege of Antwerp in October of the first year of the war and with their bodies had barred the way for a little while to the invading hordes.

The march past of the Belgian troops who had fought in the later battles at Dixmude and on the mud banks of the Yser and at Merckem a month or two ago was a stirring thing to see. These men who marched through Antwerp yesterday had lived to see the liberation of their country, and many were the lucky ones.

There was a Te Deum in the cathedral, but I could get no further than the transept because of the crowds. The air was heavy with incense, and music and the murmur of voices came down the aisles.

All over Antwerp bells were ringing and from the belfry of the cathedral the chimes of the gay carillons come tinkling down. They were playing "The Marseillaise."

I went out of the cathedral into the Place Verde by the statue of Rubens. Belgian girls made grave little speeches, as though learned by heart, thanking England for all she had done for Belgium; some of them had been refugees in England for a year or more and learned the language before coming back.

Finds Italian Prisoners.

Two men in the crowd were not Belgians. They stood saluting people who raised their hands to them as they passed. They were tall, sturdy Italian prisoners of war. They were captured seven months ago, and had lived miserably until the armistice. One man had been in Chicago and gone back to Italy to fight for his country as soon as the call came. Now they were happy.

In the crowds I heard about the last days of the enemy in that city. The German headquarters staff read the terms of the armistice with long faces and were profoundly downcast. Then one high officer, speaking for the others, said:

"It cannot be helped. We have done all we can to win this war and we have lost. Now we must pay the price of defeat."

Most of the high officers left in a hurry.

RUSS WARSHIPS BOMBARD PORT ON FINNISH COAST

BULLETIN.

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 21.—The Politiken's Helsingfors correspondent reports a three hours' bombardment at Vitialla, Finland, by three Russian warships flying the red flag of Kronstadt. The dispatch adds that the Finnish government has ordered the evacuation of the frontier districts, fearing hostilities.

VLADIVOSTOK, Nov. 19.—Delayed.—[By the Associated Press.]—Through a coup by the council of ministers of the new all-Russian government at Omsk yesterday Admiral Alexander Kolchak has become virtual dictator and commander of the all-Russian army and fleet. Two ministers, M. Avksentieff and M. Zenzenoff, who opposed Admiral Kolchak's dictatorship, have been arrested.

A portion of the directorate of the erstwhile Ufa government, which formed the administrative body of the new government and to which the ministry was responsible, supports Admiral Kolchak.

Telegrams received here from Omsk state that the move was "due to extraordinary circumstances and danger menacing the state." The council of ministers has assumed authority and transferred it to Admiral Kolchak. The latter has accepted the responsibility and, it is announced, has entered upon his duties as "supreme governor." Gen. Horvath, Gen. Ivanoff, minister of war of the Omsk government, and Gen. Renoff, former commander of the all-Russian forces, announce that they recognize the new authority.

M. Vologodsky, head of the western Siberian government, who is a member of both the directorate and the council of ministers, retains his post as premier.

FOOD SITUATION IN ITALY STILL CAUSES HARDSHIP

"Great injustice is done to Italy at this time," Count Bolognesi, Italian consul here, said yesterday, "by representing that food is abundant there when exactly the reverse is true. This is due, no doubt, to ignorance of real conditions and the fact that we have not complained. The people throughout Italy are still on short rations. Meat is permitted only twice a week. Bread is 85 per cent of substitutes for flour; two ounces of sugar a month is the allowance, while of butter and fats it is one pound.

"The scarcity is attested further by the fact that America shipped 90,000 tons of food to Italy in the month between Oct. 15 and Nov. 15.

"Besides the normal population of the country we are obliged to feed 700,000 in the Trentino, 1,000,000 in Triest and Istria, 600,000 in Dalmatia, 900,000 in Albania, and 800,000 in the invaded parts of Venetia. We are also feeding 1,000,000 Austrian prisoners of war and 200,000 Italian prisoners who have been repatriated from Austria."

775 Die on 145 U. S. Ships Sunk During the War

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—Loss of 145 American passenger and merchant vessels of 354,449 tons and 775 lives through acts of the enemy during the period from the beginning of the world war to the cessation of hostilities Nov. 11 is shown by figures made public today by the department of commerce's bureau of navigation.

Nineteen vessels and sixty-seven lives were lost through use of torpedoes, mines, and gunfire prior to the entrance of the United States into the war.

REVISED U. S. TAX PLAN SUBMITTED TO SENATE BODY

Bill Calls for 6 Billion in 1919, 4 Billion in 1920.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—A detailed plan for revising the pending war revenue bill so as to impose taxes and provide revenues aggregating about $6,000,000,000 next year and $4,000,000,000 in 1920, in line with Secretary McAdoo's recommendations, was submitted today to the senate finance committee by Chairman Simmons.

A decision on the plan was deferred. but a vote may be reached tomorrow.

Republican members vigorously opposed the proposal to establish 1920 tax rates in the measure, but Chairman Simmons said they were advised that if they obstruct passage of the bill with the majority's plan to provide 1920 taxation a straight levy of 80 per cent on war profits, to furnish the government necessary revenues, will be put through.

How Money Will Come.

Senator Simmons' plan to reduce the bill to $6,000,000,000 for 1919 proposes retention of the house rates on incomes and war excess profits, except the 6 per cent differential on undistributed corporation earnings; elimination of the 20 per cent tax on luxuries, and retention of other special, miscellaneous taxes, but at rates not to exceed an increase of one-third over those of the existing law.

For 1920 Senator Simmons' plan contemplates abolishing the war profits tax, reduction of individual and corporations' normal income rates from 12 to 8 per cent and reduction by about one-third in the excess profits schedule as now proposed in the revised committee draft. Also the special miscellaneous taxes would be continued at the 1919 rates.

May Pass in January.

The committee hopes to have the bill ready soon after the new session of congress convenes Dec. 2, but the Republican opposition and other considerations, it was generally expected, may delay its enactment until next January.

In his proposal for reducing the bill to $6,000,000,000 for 1919 Chairman Simmons took into consideration the prospective loss of about $1,000,000,000 as the result of the operation of the "wartime" prohibition legislation signed today by President Wilson. His plan contemplates raising about $5,000,000,000 next year from the income and war excess profits taxes.

LID ON NEWS OF PEACE PARLEY SEEN BY SENATE

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—[Special.]—Amid a blaze of Republican oratory in the senate assailing the policies of President Wilson as autocratic, socialistic, and defiant of the intent of war legislation, the second session of the Sixty-fifth congress adjourned sine die this afternoon.

Senator Sherman of Illinois and Senator Watson of Indiana condemned in unsparing terms the action of the president in taking possession of the express companies and the cable-telegraph lines after the cessation of hostilities, and charged that he had contravened the spirit, if not the letter, of his war powers. Senator Watson charged the president with breach of good faith.

See Wilson Control of News.

Both senators attached a sinister significance to the seizure of the cable lines by the government on the eve of the president's departure for the peace conference, pointing out that possession of the means of transatlantic communication will enable the administration to control the news reports of the great conclave for American consumption and the news reports of American public sentiment for dissemination abroad.

Lewis for Federal Ownership.

Senator Sherman attributed to the president the purpose of "framing up" a government ownership issue for the presidential campaign of 1920 and in this connection Senator Watson called attention to a resolution introduced by Senator Lewis today proposing a senate indorsement of government ownership of railroads, telegraphs, telephones, coal mines, and oil wells.

The session of congress closed with Senator Reed of Missouri, Democrat, assailing the president's proposal of a league of nations to enforce peace, which he said would place the United States at the mercy of the Bolsheviki of Europe and which it would be traitorous for any American to impose upon his country.

An Unprecedented Session.

For length, bulk of appropriations for the war, and the number and importance of legislative measures passed the session which closed today was regarded by leaders as unprecedented. At this session was was declared on Austria-Hungary and the members also saw the victorious end of all hostilities.

Appropriations passed aggregated $36,298,000,000, making the total for this congress more than $55,000,000,000, of which $19,412,000,000 was appropriated at the first—an extra—session at which war was declared on Germany.

Peace League Imperiled.

The attack by Senator Reed on the plan the president hopes to put through the peace congress is known to represent the views of so many senators that it is doubtful if the league of nations proposal would command today the two-thirds majority requisite to ratification.

These criticisms of the president went without defense from the Democratic leaders, although Senator Lewis attempted several times to obtain recognition, presumably for the purpose of replying.

Sherman Talks of Cable Seizure.

Senator Sherman launched at once into discussion of the president's forthcoming trip to Europe.

"After the first Monday in December," said Senator Sherman, "the White House will be transferred officially to Paris. There will be left the Supreme court of the United States, when it shall convene; the senate and the house of representatives, but the executive and the White House will be transferred to Europe, where they will remain according to press reports a considerable time.

"The president will be attended by the usual retinue. He will have his press body guard, the redoubtable Creel, who will 'Creel' every message in approved and official form before it shall be transmitted by cable to this continent."

Fears Creel Will Be Tempted.

Senator Sherman read a denial issued by Mr. Creel last night that he is going to France to censor the news of the peace conference, which, he said, reminded him of an old Spanish proverb: "Never lock up a reformed drunkard alone in a wine cellar."

"Can Creel with the entire telegraph system, with seventeen trans-Atlantic cable lines all resting in the palm of his imperial hands, resist?" Senator Sherman inquired.

"Did he not testify before a senate committee not many months ago that in his early days he was given somewhat to sophomoric excesses; that sometimes his language was too lurid; that he spoke sometimes in terms of red headlines from force of habit? A horse that balks once will balk again. Mr. Creel is still Creel."

Prophesies Grave Social Unrest.

Referring to the taking over of the express companies as well as the cables, Senator Sherman said:

"I know why these enterprises are taken. It is a part of the policy of framing up the issues of 1920. We might just as well face conditions, and I wish to talk to my southern brethren for a brief moment.

"There is in this country the radical element. There is the Bolshevist abroad in the land. The red flag is carried at the head of a procession in New York City. It has not been carried in Chicago, but no one knows the day when its cobblestones will be paved with blood as a result of an attempt to carry it. There is no room in the air of America for more than one flag.

"Every great metropolitan center in this country is a breeding ground to spawn radicals upon the law abiding citizens of the country. All of the radicals that are not in jail are in office under this administration. You are not proud of the company. Do not speak up. I will do the talking for you. It does not hurt me any, and it might hurt you. But you believe it just the same. You have no more use for them than I have. What the president is going to do I do not know. This administration is responsible for its kitchen cabinet and that cabinet headed by Col. House is a collection of radicals imbued with the vagaries of Karl Marx and of Lenine and Trotzky. You had better epurge your own household. There will be a cleaning some day that will rival the cleaning and the differences that we had in our unhappy family."

Watson Warns of Censorship.

Senator Watson of Indiana suggested that the cables were taken to suppress news of what is discussed at the peace conference.

"Now, after peace has come upon us," Senator Watson said, "we have the president violating the spirit, if not the letter, of the law, by taking over the cables. This comes just at a time when the president is about to visit a foreign country.

"I take it for granted that the president took over the cables so those who sit at the peace table will not know what is being said in congress and so the people of this country will not know what is going on at the peace table. I take it for granted that when the president leaves these shores the cables to all intents and purposes will be cut.

"Why is George Creel going along? He is going along to send back what news the president wants him to send back. With Creel at one end of the cable and Albert Burleson at the other, the senate, the country's treaty making body, will be deprived of its rights."

Mackay Presents Protest.

The action in taking the cable lines was also criticized by Senator Kellogg of Minnesota, Republican. "It demonstrates beyond all question that there never was such a necessity," Senator Kellogg said, "and, in my opinion, it is part of a plan to fasten on this country government ownership of telegraph, telephone, and cable lines."

A protest from President Mackay of the Commercial Cable company against the cable order was presented by Senator Kellogg, who said that government operation of telegraphs and telephones had caused increased costs to the public.

Reed Attacks World League.

Senator Reed, Democrat, of Missouri, delivered a bitter attack against President Wilson's plan to bind the United States to a league of nations to enforce peace. The senator characterized the idea as "the most monstrous doctrine ever proposed in this republic."

"Now it is proposed that we renounce our ancient policy," he continued, "and become entangled in every broil in Europe. That is a most monstrous doctrine."

"Imagine the condition of the American republic going into this court composed of representatives of these ruling houses—blood relatives. They make a spider's web into which the American fly is invited.

Monroe Doctrine Involved.

"Dare any man propose to submit the Monroe doctrine to any tribunal of European kings or of European nations?" Senator Reed shouted.

In discussing the composition of the league he asked if "the unspeakable Turk would be included with the Roman Catholic, Russian, Jewish, and Protestant churches." Europe, Senator Reed continued, has often been in war because of the hatred of rival races, and he said this hatred will spring into flame "as long as there are men and women on the earth."

Senator Reed estimated that the war would cost the United States fifty thousand million dollars.

Bill to Indorse Peace League.

Senator Phelan of California, replying to Senator Reed, argued that racial differences among nations, instead of militating against a world league, was a factor in favor of it. The freedom and democracy accorded to small nations of Europe would be worthless, he declared, unless some agency such as the league of nations was created to protect them.

In an executive session of the senate Senator Phelan introduced a resolution proposing that the senate approve the principle of a league "to prevent wars and enforce justice."

Senate to Probe Wooden Ship Program; Failure Costing Millions Is Charged

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—[Special.]—Charges that the entire wooden ship program had been a failure, involving a loss of hundreds of millions of dollars to the government, prompted the senate today to adopt a resolution for a thorough investigation of the shipping situation.

In explaining the purposes of the resolution Senator Harding of Ohio, who introduced it, said:

"The resolution is inspired by the publication in the press of utterances of the president of the shipping board and of the director general of the Emergency Fleet Corporation that there are places in the shipyards now for 200,000 men additional to the present force. It requires but a little figuring to present the fact that that means an additional expenditure over our present outlay of more than $600,000,000 a year for labor alone.

"No matter what the policy of the government may be as to the future and no matter how earnestly we all favor the construction of the largest merchant marine in the world, it is inconceivable that the government will go on appropriating money for ship construction at the present rate, which is from four to six times the normal cost."

Call for All Facts.

Senator Borah asked if the adoption of the resolution would bring out information as to the number of wooden ships sunk.

"The resolution," Senator Harding replied, "calls for the number of ships which have been constructed and the disposition made of them. If the senator accepts the sinking of a ship as a disposition of it I think an answer to the resolution will furnish the information."

Following the action of the senate Senator Calder of New York gave out the text of a letter he wrote to Chairman Hurley of the shipping board. In it he said:

"I have information that from 90 to 100 wooden ships have been delivered by the builders and of this number less than 30 have actually carried cargoes. I am also informed that the first of these vessels sank in ballast before it could be delivered to the transportation company to which it was assigned and the second one consigned to the same company sank on its first trip out.

140 Ships Not Started.

"I also understand that not one of these vessels has yet gone overseas, that none is fit to go, and that in the neighborhood of 140 wooden ships under contract have not yet been started. It is in reference to these 140 that I write to urge that immediate steps be taken to prevent anything being done upon them.

"A number of shipping men have been to see me and they state frankly that our whole wooden ship program has been a failure and that practically all the money invested in these ships will be lost to the government. These facts, of course, will be brought out in the investigation and, now that the war emergency is over, it seems proper to me that the building of any further wooden ships should stop."

Senator Calder said that the wooden ship program called for approximately 800 vessels, costing in the neighborhood of $400,000,000.

WOMEN HELD

Accuse Washington Police of Rudeness in Arresting Them.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—[Special.]—Mrs. Nicholas Kelly, sister of Mrs. Lola Maverick Lloyd of Chicago, was one of twelve members of the national woman's party arrested today at the capitol for appearing on the senate steps with a banner protesting against the failure of the senate to pass the woman suffrage amendment before adjourning.

Others arrested were Miss Alice Paul, chairman of the organization; Miss Clara Wold of Portland, Oregon; Mrs. Lawrence Lewis of Philadelphia, and Miss Bertha Arnold of Colorado Springs.

The violence with which the arrests were carried out was the subject of comment at the capital, and Senator Curtis announced his intention of laying the whole affair before the rules committee.

The capitol police tore the banners from their poles and ripped them to fragments in spite of the protests of the women, who were handled more roughly than at any previous arrest on similar occasions.

"The guards were positively ferocious," Mrs. Kelly asserted tonight. "They fell upon Miss Paul and dragged and pushed her about as if in a rage. Miss Wold was shaken like a rat by one guard."

CABLE SEIZURE CALLED WILSON AUTOCRAT PLOT

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 21.—[Special.]—Prof. W. H. Hobbs of the University of Michigan, in a lecture here this afternoon said in part:

"An American plot now about to reach its culmination has been successfully launched in this country, where personal government in violation of the constitution has been set up and where, on the pleas of war necessity, one after the other, the reins of power have been seized. Under the charge of 'disloyalty to me' congress has been clubbed into silence.

"The war has come to an end, but under various pretexts the president continues to use powers which were conferred upon him as war measures, not only in order to rule untrammeled by congressional checks, but with a view to dominating in Europe at the peace council and to rearrange Europe according to the Wilson-House formula.

"Five days after hostilities had ceased the president secretly seized all the cable lines, thus shutting every source of information not heretofore under direct control of the administration news bureau."

Senate Confirms Davis as Ambassador to England

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—Nomination of former Solicitor General John W. Davis to be ambassador to Great Britain was confirmed today by the senate.

Republicans Want Eagles Contract Discontinued

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—Republican members objected strongly to continuation of the contract for building Eagle destroyer chasers at the Ford plant at Detroit today during consideration by the house naval subcommittee of the naval appropriation bill for 1920.

Rear Admiral Griffin, chief of the engineering bureau, in explaining the bill, said the little craft may be valuable as gunboats and that it would not be economy to cancel the contract because of the state of completion and the amount of material on hand.

U. S. TO CANCEL WAR ORDERS FOR SIX BILLIONS

Action to Be Taken in Thirty Days, Is Advice.

Cancellation of $6,000,000,000 of war orders within the next thirty days is the program of the government, according to a well informed source. The cancellation is to take place gradually, but it is expected that it will be completed within the length of time named.

The cancellation means abandonment of about one-fourth of the government's annual program. Already contracts are being suspended at a rapid rate. This means that orders have been issued to begin no new work, but to finish work on hand. These orders are preliminary to the actual cancellations.

Borne Out By Dispatches.

Dispatches from Washington yesterday told of savings through war department readjustment, including cancellation of contracts, that were estimated at $1,336,000,000 by Secretary of War Baker. Dispatches of a few days ago told of the cancellation of contracts for work which called for expenditures of approximately $450,000,000 by the navy department. This means that in the last few days nearly $2,000,000,000 of the $6,000,000,000 worth of cancellations have been provided for.

The character of the production which is to be discontinued is not stated, but if the amount be as large as indicated, and the informant is in official touch with this phase of government operations, then it would appear that substantially every line of industry will be affected. It is not announced how the goods in actual process of manufacture are to be treated, but the point has been made that an unfinished article is without market value as against a finished one.

Affects Material and Labor.

If the cancellation is to apply only to orders placed, but not in the process of fulfillment, it still means there will be $6,000,000,000 less spent in specific industries than was contemplated prior to Nov. 11, and in any event there will be a reduction to the extent of the amount named in the demand for materials and the accompanying necessity for labor.

It seems apparent that no amount of optimism can undo the fact that the war business is over and that a readjustment is at hand from which there can be no escape.

BILLION SAVED, SAYS BAKER.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—Savings through war department readjustment orders, including cancellation of contracts, are estimated at $1,336,000,000 by Secretary Baker in a letter read to the senate today by Senator Martin of Virginia, chairman of the appropriations committee.

"On contracts which have been let, but upon which no work has as yet been done," Mr. Baker wrote, "cancellations aggregate a saving of $700,000,000.

"An order was made on Nov. 11 cutting out all overtime and Sunday work. The amount saved by this order aggregates about $2,900,000 a day.

Halt in Aircraft.

"In the bureau of aircraft production orders have been telegraphed stopping all production on a large number of items, including planes of various types, engines, parts, and special instruments, which aggregate the estimated saving of $225,000,000.

"In addition to the foregoing, plans have been made to begin the demobilization of the forces under arms in this country and to begin returning at once to the United States such portions of the armed forces abroad as are not needed for the purpose of occupying enemy territory. How rapidly it will be possible for us at present to return soldiers from overseas cannot be immediately determined.

Looks to Civil Business.

"In the termination of contracts for supplies and war material the war department is working in close harmony with the war industries board and the department of labor in order that there may be the utmost freedom for the resumption of civil business and the most complete opportunity for labor released from war industries and military service to find suitable and profitable industrial and commercial employment.

"I have no doubt that within a few days the figures above set forth will show substantial increases and the savings affected will mount day by day."

HAYS TO RESCUE

Arrives in Washington to Straighten Out Fight Over Boies Penrose.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—[Special.]—Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican national committee, has come to the capital to lend his assistance to Republican leaders in congress in shaping party policy with regard to reconstruction legislation and in straightening out the tangle over the restoration of Senator Boies Penrose of Pennsylvania to power.

Mr. Hays talked with Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the Republican leader of the senate, and other prominent Republican senators, including Penrose, Curtis, Poindexter, and Kellogg. He did not get into touch today with Senator Borah of Idaho, who is leading the fight against Penrose, but expects to confer with him tomorrow.

Mr. Hays' only utterance for publication was contained in the following statement:

"By our opportunities are our responsibilities measured. It is of our responsibilities that Republicans now must think."

There was no indication that Mr. Hays would take sides in the Penrose row. It was recalled, however, that Senator Penrose supported Mr. Hays in the contest for the chairmanship of the Republican national committee.

WATCH OUT FOR FOES AT HOME, GREGORY WARNS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—Attorney General Gregory in a letter today to the national directors of the American Protective league called on the officers and members of that organization to continue their effective aid and coöperation with the department of justice. They were asked especially to watch for and report illegal activities harmful to the public morale during the discussion of peace terms.

"The sudden termination of hostilities has reacted strongly upon the public and there is everywhere evident a desire to withdraw from war work. Such a course, if generally followed, would involve serious consequences," the letter said.

"The American Protective league has performed a great task. The number of investigations participated in by you, many of which have resulted in the uncovering of serious enemy activities and disloyalties, and the apprehension and prosecution of the individuals concerned, the large number of draft evaders detected, and your many other activities, have been an important factor in winning the war."

The National Protective league was organized March 22, 1917, as an auxiliary of the department of justice and now has a membership of 250,000.

Throw Away Straw Hat; War Board Lifts the Lid

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—[Special.]—Throw away the old straw hat you had saved from the wreckage of last summer's elements. The ending of the war has made unnecessary your patriotic salvage effort to be prepared for next summer. Today the war industries board decreed that all restrictions on straw hat manufacture are off.

UNLESS we are greatly mistaken there will be more than one Thanksgiving party this year that will owe its merriest moments to our Window Number Three this week. On an easel is shown a picture of a family of 1900 grouped about a piano and near it a poster asks you "Which of these songs of the past do you suppose they are playing?" From this a ribbon runs to a great placard on which appear the names of scores of songs you used to know, which if played on your Victrola this Thanksgiving will help to make it one of the gayest in your remembrance.

Those of you who have come to go out of your way for a weekly inspection of "Cable's Windows of Wonders" must not overlook the two smaller ones at 55 East Jackson Boulevard. You'll do a bigger day's work for a sight of the exuberant little Cupid (sculptor unknown) in Window Two, with his cheerful "You get out of life what you put into it."

Tomorrow Galli-Curci is to sing "Lucia" at the Opera and next Tuesday being the birthday of Donizetti, its composer, we are making a special showing of "Lucia" records. We think you will be interested in our unusual picture of Donizetti made nearly a century ago.

COUNCIL STARTS FIGHT TO PREVENT ALL HIGHER FARES

nary conditions of the last year or two and the wage increase allowed by the war labor board. I think the matter should be treated on the square. Let the people know—they do know that the increased fare is needed to meet these conditions.

"There is no necessity for the city to be backed up by the state's attorney. Only a few months ago this man tried to indict us or use his office to indict certain members of the city council. Now he asks us to back him up."

"I disagree about the Supreme court having decided this question," Ald. Schwartz replied. "The Supreme court came near, but did not say that the public utilities commission had the right to change the rate of fare. There is a constitutional provision that forbids the legislature to abrogate any law or contract between corporations and municipalities."

Don't Need State's Attorney.

"Pass the resolution directing the corporation counsel to take legal action," interposed Ald. Powers. "We don't need the state's attorney."

"I'm in favor of th. resolution," said Ald. Anderson, "except the appropriation of more money. I remember the gas suits and the fabulous sums that were used—the ridiculous prodigality attending that litigation. We spent $500,000 for expenses and got nothing for the people. Ald. Capitain was liberal in that case. Now he is against spending $5,000 to help the people in this case. Consistency, thy name is Capitain!"

Ald. Lyle also differed with Mr. Kennedy and insisted the Illinois Supreme court has stated specifically that the utilities board had the right to fix rates.
tion counsel's staff and said the city attorneys needed no help from Mr. Hoyne.

Wants Money Voted.

"The thing to do is to vote the money and let the corporation counsel go ahead," he said. "I think he knows where he will land, but give him a chance. I think he'll do a good job.

"I don't think we should listen to these men who want Mr. Hoyne in this case. They are the same men who a few months ago, when Mr. Hoyne was calling aldermen grafters, so ably assisted him to besmirch members of this body. I read the newspaper in which he called them gray wolves and grafters and I suggested that he be indicted for criminal libel instead of ourselves."

"I'm in sympathy with this move to check the raise in fares," Ald. Maypole said. "Now, the state's attorney went on record at the time the application for the raise in fare was made. He said he was unalterably opposed to it, that the commission couldn't do it, and pledged himself to the people that he would see that it wasn't done. Later he announced his candidacy for mayor and on his platform said he would oppose with every possible means at his command the effort to raise fares.

Ald. Richert said that the public doesn't desire to pay a higher rate of fare and added that the council might choose between two policies.

Favors Single Action.

"We might first, let the 1 cent rate boost prevail without a fight, and thus impress upon the people the necessity of getting home rule so that we may have something to say about the rate of fare," said Ald. Richert.

"On the other hand, we may take a stand to do all in our power to stop the collection of the extra cent fare. I think this is the proper step to take. It is immaterial to me whether the fight is made by John Jones or John Smith, by the state's attorney or the corporation counsel. But if one of these officials starts one proceeding and the other another in court it is going to drag along and we'll get nowhere. Let the two attorneys cooperate. Let us ignore individuals and fight this through."

Ald. Lipps declared that it was not the council's place to call on the state's attorney and "if he wants to go ahead and institute proceedings, let him. I move that all reference to the state's attorney be stricken from the resolution and that it read simply to direct the corporation counsel to make this fight."

The Vote on Hoyne.

The roll call, which showed Ald. Lipps' motion carried by a margin of three, follows:

YEAS.

Anderson, L. B., Hickey, Mulcahy, Nance, Ahern, Horne, Maypole, Smith, Olsen, Adamkiewicz, Powers, Bowler; Fick, Franz, McCormick, R. H., Walker, Ellison, Wallace, Roeder, Haderlein, Capitain, Link, Lipps, Pretzel, Watson, Littler, Adamowski, Hrubec, Lynch, Wm. J., O'Toole, Fisher, Lyle, Hazen—33.

NAYS.

Jackson, Iliff, Schwartz, Richert, McDonough, Fetzer, Guernsey, Woodhull, Furman, Johnson, Govier, Klaus, McNichols, Cullerton, Krumdick, Novak, Kaindl, Kunz, Pietrowski, Touhy, Bauler, Steffen, Kennedy, Byrne, Moran, Anderson, A.O., Kostner, Toman, Clark, Lynch, T.J.—30

The resolution as amended was then adopted by a unanimous vote.

To Proceed at Once.

"Therefore it is ordered," the resolution concluded, "that the corporation counsel be directed to proceed in the immediate prosecution of suits to prevent the collection of such higher fare.

It was voted to give the corporation funds left unincumbered in a special subway commission appropriation made in 1916 to the council transportation committee.

Ald. Kennedy jumped to his feet at once to present his so-called "blacklist" resolution. Mayor Thompson ordered it read. The preamble cited the increase of elevated railroad fares to 6 cents, in clear violation of agreement to carry passengers for 5 cents, and without the consent of the city council or the people.

Suggests a Resistance.

"Be it resolved," it concluded, "that we, members of the city council of the city of Chicago call upon the people of this city to resist in every practical manner the overriding of their rights by the "L" railways and call upon them to travel wherever possible on the surface lines or in other conveyances."

The resolution then was sent to the transportation committee.

Corporation Counsel Ettelson immediately after the adjournment of the council announced that he would begin plans for court action this morning. He said that if it is agreeable to the transportation committee he would get former First Assistant Corporation Counsel Chester Cleveland to assist in the legal work. It is probable that the city's fight may include other proceedings besides an appeal to the courts from the commission's decision.

Asked to what extent he and State's Attorney Hoyne had already coöperated, as suggested by Ald. Schwartz, Mr. Ettelson said that Assistant State's Attorney Berger had visited the city hall on Wednesday and that a two hour conference had followed.

"It was just a discussion of the general situation and the laws that might apply," he said.

Hear Surface Petition Here.

From Springfield last night came the word that the surface lines fare case will be taken up for consideration by the utilities commission at a Chicago session of the board some time next month.

State's Attorney Hoyne last night was not yet ready to give an outline of his intentions, but expected to formulate them today.

Henry M. Ashton of the Chicago Municipal Ownership league last night issued a statement in reply to one issued by President Leonard A. Busby of the surface lines, in which were quoted figures from the petition showing the necessity of a fare raise. Mr. Ashton held that Mr. Busby's figures would not bear analysis.

"The application for the increase in fare is absurd," he said. "Last year the surface lines after paying 5 per cent on their capital account of $50,000,000, and 5 per cent on the $100,000,000 of bonds, had a profit of approximately $4,500,000. It is plain that the companies are earning about 9 per cent."

HOYNE'S REPLY

State's Attorney Comments on Council's Action Rejecting His Fare Increase Fight Aid.

Regarding the vote of 33 to 30 by which the city council eliminated the state's attorney's request for a fund from the city treasury to enable him to aid in litigation to prevent increases in traction fares, State's Attorney Hoyne last night said:

"It is a matter of history that where public utilities violated contracts with the city, the city always properly defrayed the expenses of litigation for the protection of the public.

"One striking illustration along these lines will suffice:

"The Chicago Telephone company had for many years charged illegal rates, when in 1903, as assistant corporation counsel, I was assigned by the mayor to the duty of compelling compliance with the city ordinances. At my request the state's attorney brought quo warranto proceedings. All the state's attorney did was to sign the information; I conducted that litigation, which went to the supreme court of the state, covering a period of four years.

"It is interesting to note that of the thirty-three aldermen who did not desire the assistance of the state's attorney—the only public official who could give help—two have been elected members of the sanitary board, one has been elected judge of the municipal court; three others were directly accused of taking money recently for votes on the passage of the traction ordinance, and at least a half dozen others were involved in the graft charges in connection with the traction ordinance."

"These increases are absolutely illegal under the law and I'll stand on the ground I have taken. I announced that I would proceed to act in one way or another Friday morning. It may be that there will be a slight delay, for these things take time, but I'll stand on my statements already made in connection with the traction matters."

FADING INCOME AND HIGHER WAGE NEW FARE BASIS

Surface Lines' Petition for Increase Cites Financial Drain.

In the petition filed by the surface lines, the story of the advance of wages to the 13,000 employes upon recommendation of the city council and the national war labor board is recited. It is stated that at the time the 40 per cent advance in wages was requested the management of the lines explained that the financial situation faced by the company would necessitate a raise in fare if the wage increases were granted.

"The actual wage increase under the rates established by the national war labor board amounted in the month of August, 1918, as compared with the month of August, 1917, to $262,770.03; and in the month of September, 1918, as compared with September, 1917, to $274,898.93; in October, 1918, as compared with October, 1917, to $272,966.18, aggregating, for the three months' operation under the new wage scale, $810,665.14 increase.

Big Increase in Year.

"Estimating the increase in pay roll for the year ending July 31, 1919, on the basis of the actual experience of the companies for the months of August, September, and October, 1918, a prospective minimum increase in pay roll for the year ending July 31, 1919 (including increases in pay for length of service under said award), is in excess of $3,700,000 over the pay roll for the year ending July 31, 1918."

The petition then continues:

"The following is a comparative statement of the wage scale fixed by said contract of June 1, 1917, and paid to employés prior to Aug. 1, 1918, and the new wage scale effective on and after Aug. 1, 1918, established by the national war labor board:

First year	$2.70	$4.20	$1.50
Second year	$3.00	4.20	1.20
Third year	3.30	4.20	.90

Commenting upon the increase in federal taxes the petition says:

"The total federal taxes paid by the four surface line companies for the year 1917 was $89,088.47 and for the year 1918 $141,904.48. The federal tax bill before the senate at the present time provides for a rate of 18 per cent as against a rate of 6 per cent for the year 1918, and it is under any circumstances fair to assume that the federal taxes payable in 1919 will be at least double those paid in the year 1918, or approximately $284,000."

Shows Lower Earnings.

The petition included figures showing that a comparison of the earnings of the company for the three months ending Oct. 31, 1918, and the three months ending Oct. 31, 1917, indicated that the gross earnings of the surface lines decreased from $9,026,826.47 to $8,773,732.58, a difference of $253,093.89, and that the total operating expenses increased $1,087.47 during the same period.

"It appears," the petition continues, "that in the pre-war period and until July 31, 1917, the net earnings of the Chicago surface lines were increasing in spite of the increases in wages up to that time, but that, as between the year ended July 31, 1917, and the year ended July 31, 1918, gross earnings of the surface lines decreased from $35,350,409.21 to $34,569,458.05, a difference of $780,951.16, and that total operating expenses increased from $32,600,601.54 to $33,343,823.99, a difference of $743,222.45, producing a loss in net earnings between the two years of $1,523,173.61.

Expense Cost Mounting.

"The result to the surface lines for the year ending July 31, 1919, unless an increase in fare is allowed by this commission, will be as follows: (a) A decrease in earnings, due to reduction in travel, amounting to at least $569,458 less than the earnings for the year ending July 1, 1918, and $1,350,409.21 less than the earnings for the year ended July 31, 1917; (b) an increase in expenses amounting to at least $3,857,176.01 more than the expenses for the year ended July 31, 1918, and $4,599,898.46 more than the expenses for the year ended July 31, 1917; and (c) a consequent decrease in net earnings amounting to at least $4,426,634.06 less than the net for the year ended July 31, 1918, and at least $5,949,807.07 less than the net for the year ended July 31, 1917."

The petition concludes:

"Therefore, your petitioners show that a 5 cent fare is no longer adequate to meet the increase in cost of labor and materials; that they are now furnishing service at far less than the actual cost; and that relief must be given to enable them to perform their public obligations and render adequate, efficient service; that the only possible means to accomplish this and meet the present emergency is by an increase in the rate of fare.

"Wherefore, your petitioners pray that after due hearing and investigation this commission make an order granting the right to charge a 7 cent rate of fare."

I want to hear from capable applicants, either with or without traffic experience who are ambitious to qualify for important railroad or industrial traffic work leading to traffic managerial positions.

Our organization, with a large staff of Interstate Commerce, Railway and Ocean Traffic Experts, and with representatives throughout the United States, has been called upon to help meet the unusual demand for trained men resulting from the readjustment of commerce and industry to a peace basis.

The industries are in need of trained experts who can determine the lowest transportation costs, determine quickest deliveries and shipping economies, and increase traffic efficiency generally, in order to expand domestic as well as foreign business.

Railroads, Lake and Ocean Lines need more than ever before men with an expert knowledge of Interstate Commerce laws, rate construction, classifications, routing and adjustments of freight claims.

I have been requested to interview desirable applicants who wish to qualify for important traffic positions through training. This can be done while holding your present position. COUNCIL TO HOLD SPECIAL MEETING ON GAS UPROAR

Richberg to Protest to State Commission on Complaints.

A special meeting of the city council will be held this afternoon to ratify action taken yesterday by the council committee on gas, oil and electric light, to have the council's special counsel in gas rate matters formally protest to the state public utilities commission in behalf of the many complaints from gas consumers.

The commission is to sit in Chicago Tuesday to go into the hundreds of complaints against overcharges of the gas company. It was decided by the committee to recommend that Donald R. Richberg, the city council's special counsel in gas rate matters, be authorized to attend the commission's hearings and to present the complaints of consumers.

Richberg Outlines Plan.

Mr. Richberg appeared before the committee and outlined a plan of procedure.

"There have been hundreds of complaints," said Mr. Richberg, "and I believe every effort should be made by the city to prevent the company from making any overcharges."

"I agree with this," said Ald. W. O. Nance, "as there have been many charges of exorbitant bills. The company has said that bills have been made out on guesswork and that the fault is due to incompetent employés. I want to make sure that the company corrects these errors and makes the proper refunds to overcharged consumers."

Fred Abele, gas supervisor in the department of public service, told the aldermen that about 60 per cent of the complaints were due to improper bookkeeping and about 40 per cent to inefficient meter reading.

Indignation Meeting.

"That's the trouble with this situation," said Ald. Nance. "Here we have a city official who throws up his hands and says bad bookkeeping is to blame for this situation. Let us get somewhere."

Before the committee held its session a "public indignation meeting" against the gas company was held in the city council chamber. There were only about forty persons present, and only four specific complaints were made, although the meeting was thrown open for the reception of all complaints.

"The gas company admits that errors have been made and wants to correct them," said Boetius H. Sullivan, attorney for the company. He told how incompetent employés were to blame for the muddle.

Promises to Adjust.

Theodore Purcell, secretary of the gas company, made a public declaration of the company's intention to adjust all complaints. He said he would handle every complaint personally and see that no time was lost in adjustment.

"The only way we ever will have lower gas bills and keep away those complaints is by municipal ownership of the gas company," said Carl D. Thompson of the Chicago Municipal Ownership league.

SCHOOL WORKERS FACE DISTRESS IN PAY ROLL ATTACK

Low Paid Employes Target in Latest City Hall Maneuver.

The city administration has begun a new form of attack on the school payrolls, which already has brought scores of employés face to face with want and privation.

A previous attack of the same general nature was the holding up of all pay rolls through the refusal of the city hall to recognize the authority of Jacob M. Loeb and Lewis E. Larson, as president and secretary, respectively, of the board, although they had been returned to office through Supreme court decisions.

This latest maneuver is different in that it recognizes Mr. Loeb and Mr. Larson's signatures on the pay rolls, but the rolls are mangled before that is done. The civil service commission, headed by Percy B. Coffin, former business manager of the school system under the "solid six," strikes off—with doubtful legal authority in many instances—the names of scores of employés.

Unorganized Workers Hit.

In this way the commission has refused to approve the payment of salaries and wages to approximately 250 employés, but the effect has been to tie up every section of the pay roll thus mangled. Four letters directed to the civil service commission asking for a statement of their causes of action have been unanswered. As a result, the incomplete rolls are still held at the board offices and have not been forwarded to the city controller for payment.

The employés "red penciled" by the merit board do not include the teachers. Most of them do not belong to organizations of any power. Among them are the following:

Forty-three of the seventy-three engineer-custodians in charge of school buildings, whose checks also cover their own pay rolls of window washers, scrub women, etc.

Seventy-three carpenters, painters, and laborers.

Forty temporary employés, substituting for soldiers and sailors.

Ten cooks and kitchen employés of the war training schools.

Eight watchmen.

Ten office boys.

All Old Employés.

"The natural assumption," said an employé of the board, "would be that these men, women, and boys were put on the pay roll by the present board and that the city hall was chopping them off for that reason. That is not the case.

"None of them are new employés. Some are civil service appointees. Others are exempt under the law. Apparently what the civil service commission is doing is to direct that wherever there is any foundation of legal excuse employés must be cut off.

"Most of those affected are minus their pay for the first half of November, but there are a number who have not been paid for the second half of October. The result has been hardship. Many of them have had to borrow money to live."

Supt. Peter A. Mortenson yesterday said he had considered favorably a suggestion that ability to write a complete text of the national anthem be made a prerequisite of graduation from either the grammar school or the high school.

REPUBLICAN AND DEMOCRATIC MANDARINS.

The opposition to the continued Democratic control of congress was not only successful, it was sound. It was an opposition to the continuance in power of a parochial oligarchy, the dominance of congress by men who necessarily would dominate it if the Democratic party were the majority party in congress.

In spite of extraordinary war conditions, which gave emotional value to Democratic argument, the Republicans won upon this issue because it was a sound issue. They won because a worse than mandarinic policy had prevailed, worse because no conception of fitness prevailed in the ruling caste. A man had position and authority, power to obstruct or destroy needed legislation, because for a certain number of years a certain section of the country had sent him to congress.

This system of government, preposterously conceived, had the injurious consequences to be expected of it. A political caste which had never thought nationally was in control of congress when it had to act nationally.

The Republican party has its mandarin caste, not so sectional as the Democratic mandarin caste, but almost as pernicious. The east furnishes more mandarins than the west. The Republican party, having fought against southern mandarinic government, cannot now afford to commit itself to a perpetuation of it.

The elimination will be begun by the abolishing of the doctrine of seniority and the destroying of the system of interlocking committees. Mr. Henning's Washington dispatches show that unless customs are changed the senate will be dominated by Senators Penrose, Warren, Smoot, Dillingham, McCumber, Lodge and Townsend.

Under the seniority rule they will take charge of the important committees automatically. They not only have this great authority but, under what is called the interlocking committee system, their membership on other committees forms them into a close corporation for the control of legislation.

It is proposed to abolish the rule of seniority. It is proposed to adopt a rule to prevent the chairman of any one of the designated major committees from being a member of any other. These two rules are needed to break up the Republican mandarin caste.

The liberalism of the Republican party, a liberalism necessary to the success of the Republican party in congress as an instrument of national progress and welfare, will be effective if it can escape from the chains of congressional custom.

If it does not escape, congress will be in the hands of Republican tories and ultra conservatives and the cause against Democratic sectionalism will seem to be defeated in the force which won the fight against mandarinism.

The policy of the Republican party in congress seems to be plain and manifest. It is to divest itself of rules which restrict its real expression. It is to divorce itself of customs which maintain the mandarinic caste. It is to establish itself as a nationalistic, nonsectional, liberal party, freed by the new rules it maintains in congress, for the work the nation requires and thus proves that the opposition to Democratic sectional oligarchy not only had a motive but can have consequences.

NO TIME FOR STAGNANCY.

An emergency, particularly one affecting nearly every home in the nation, does not seem the expedient time for the suspension of legislation. It is not surprising that members of congress protest against the tacit ruling of the president that during his absence the national legislative body will remain innocuous and torpid.

Broadly stated, the understanding in Washington is that Vice President Marshall and the speaker of the house will refrain, in the absence of the president, from signing any bills. The bills are to be held up until Mr. Wilson's return from abroad so he may examine them, and if he sees fit, approve them.

Mr. Wilson's participation in the Versailles council has received much favorable comment, although, of course, there may be those not specially enthusiastic over the project. There are great enterprises needing attention in Washington. Certainly they require executive supervision. Likewise the peace council. But had Mr. Wilson elected not to attend the peace discussion it is conceivable that international affairs would progress as favorably as with him. It seems also reasonable to assume that without Mr. Wilson in Washington there be those in the councils of the nation competent to keep the ship of state under compass.

It is not as if the nation were pursuing its even course in peace time and the president anxious merely to delay official approval of measures which could as well wait. These are days of much anxiety to the general industrial structure of the nation and to each citizen; for where is there an American not immediately concerned in some degree with reconstruction policies as with war preparations eighteen months ago?

The mere widespread feeling that the executive and legislative branches of the government, the brains of the national being, are dormant, cannot fail to arouse a disposition toward irritation—that good time is being wasted when it should be utilized to the general profit.

Tremendous constructive problems confront congress. It is debatable if the administration mechanisms organized for war purposes are suited to the opposite requirements of peace. At all events these are things proper to congressional discussion and Mr. Wilson underestimates the popular zeal for industry when he proposes to pigeonhole the affairs of the United States while he embarks on another task. Let legislation be unhampered.

CREELED CABLES?

If Postmaster General Burleson is to control the cables and if George Creel, the quack doc of journalism, is to crowd them with his doped news of what is happening in Europe, American intelligence will have to take the drug cure after the debauch.

There is now approaching a period in which the military censorship relaxes because the enemy is being made incapable of further resistance. At this time is the political censorship, whether it is established by a downright prohibition of matter or created by the priority of Mr. Creel's inspirations and doped news, to be made more absolute?

Burleson is notorious as a hard boiled egg. When a periodical offends him he casts it out—out of the mails. He is the most restrictive influence which has been felt by journalistic expression in two decades. As postmaster general he sits in judgment—and not as a Solomon.

Creel is notorious as the most vigorous partisan pleader, the most notorious partisan evangelist known to politics in two decades, not even excepting William J. Bryan. If government assumption of cable control, after the armistice had been put in effect, after the necessity of military censorship had diminished and was passing away, means that Creel at the European end is to crowd the cables and Burleson at this end is to see that nothing but Creel gets across, then American information regarding the gigantic changes proposed and impending in Europe will be formed according to the ideas of George Creel.

American intelligence will be Creeled intelligence. Is the partisan Burleson to hold the wire, and is the rhapsodic quack doc of journalism, Creel, to fill it? Is the American nation to get no opinions and no news except the news and opinion of Mr. Creel?

TRACTION FARES AND TRACTION SERVICE.

The people of Chicago apparently rejected the proposed traction ordinance because they feared it would mean an increase in fares. At any rate, the politicians and agitators who led the opposition made this accusation the chief feature of their campaign. They likewise minimized or misrepresented the substantial benefits which would accrue through unified operation and the construction of rapid transit lines.

The advocates of the ordinance insisted that an increase in fares was more than probable unless the new settlement were adopted. There was hope under this settlement to keep fares at the old level, partly because of the economies that could be effected by unified operation and partly because the ordinance was designed to restrict the companies' return to 6 per cent.

The ordinance was defeated, but the fare on the elevated lines has been raised to 6 cents and it is quite possible that the surface lines will soon be authorized to charge the same amount or more. It should be understood that neither the city council nor any other local agency has had the slightest connection with the latest developments. Nor, on the other hand, did the public utilities commission take any part, one way or the other, in the pre-election controversy. The commission acted quite independently of Chicago and Chicago sentiment in granting the elevated lines an increase. The commission contends, moreover, that it has an independent right to control not only the fares but the service of the surface lines.

We do not presume to express any opinion as to the justification for increased fares. That the cost of materials and wages has advanced enormously, every one knows, and there is no question but the companies can make an impressive showing as to the need for more revenue. Nevertheless, we think it is highly proper for the local authorities to test the commission's decision in the courts.

Meanwhile the straphanger has to pay more money for the same inadequate service which he has been enduring for years. Granting for the sake of the argument that fares might have been raised under the proposed ordinance, nevertheless the straphanger would have got immensely better service for his money. Now he pays more and gets nothing better.

Under the settlement, moreover, we should have regained control over the traction lines. The people of Chicago would have had some voice in the regulation of fares and service. Now we must submit to the dictation of the utilities commission, an outside agency appointed by the governor of the state and not amenable to the wishes or sentiment of the people of Chicago.

In reflecting on the obvious consequences of the defeat of the traction ordinance, there ought to be no spirit of recrimination, no disposition to renew an old controversy just for the sake of a controversy. What is desired is an intelligent consideration of our traction problem free from prejudice and political bias. Only by approaching the problem in this way shall we ever hope to get adequate transportation for the city of Chicago. Surely by this time most people have come to the conclusion that it is about time to shut our ears to the delusive utterances of politicians and fanatics.

WHAT'S HAPPENED TO OUR HEARTS?

Chicago is several days overdue in providing its share of the United War Welfare fund. Have we grown suddenly selfish now that peace is at hand and our personal interests seem no longer in danger? Are we to be known for a people who send their sons to war with a great clamor and enthusiasm only to forget them and see them deserted in loneliness in the most grateful season of the year—Thanksgiving and Christmas? And in such a jubilant season as this one? It seems unthinkable.

There must be some reason for Chicago's failure to respond. There has been a thorough attempt to rouse all citizens, to make sure they know of the need the soldiers are in and the efforts made in their behalf. Neighborhood solicitations have been made with great care and, in the loop, most persons have had an opportunity to contribute. Still the quota is far from filled, though the sum required of Chicago is not large in proportion to other sums previously asked.

And the need for the money is really greater than heretofore. During hostilities the men in the fighting lines were occupied with the business of conflict and the stern processes of discipline. Now there comes a certain relaxation from these strictures. Naturally there is the desire for home. Time falls heavily on the hands of men who have lived so strenuously. They require some small comforts. They are much smaller than the mildest amusements we are used to here. And yet there is a hesitancy about supplying them!

Make it a point this morning when you take your hand out of your pocket to fetch a coin or a bill with it—to be given to the United Welfare agencies.

It has been reported to us that some low-lifed scoundrel, that puts themselves up as human-beings, broke some whiskey bottles, lamp chimneys, and other glass, in the passageway of a building of Dr. Lacy's that is used as a garage by Clee C. Hale. Had Mr. Hale not noticed these broken bits of glass before he drove his car over them he would probably have cut his rubber tires to pieces. Not knowing, we were unable to say who perpetrated this heinous and malicious trick, but it is beyond human hyperbole to believe anyone could have such an arch enemy, who would deliberately, feloniously, and with malice aforethought, desire to injure another's property in such a hellish scheme as this. In our humble judgment, we can not bring ourselves to believe it was done purposely, but thoughtlessly."

HIGH HEELS—THEIR PRICE.

S. WRITES: "I send you copies of our house organ. As you will notice, we run a health article in each issue, or almost that often. Our floor managers and shop bosses tell us that one reason the girls have no endurance is because they wear tight, high heeled shoes. What can we do about it?"

REPLY.

Try to persuade your girls to wear broad toed, low heeled shoes. I think it would pay you to buy a pair of army shoes, Munson type, cut one longitudinally and leave the other intact. Display them under glass conspicuously in your factory. Attach a short readable text, calling attention to the history of this shoe, why it was designed, and its good points.

This will call the attention of your employes to the truth; that they can do more work and suffer less from fatigue, as well as various kinds of aches and pains, if they will wear proper shoes.

In the early part of the year the French Academy of Medicine adopted a report made by Drs. Quenn and Menard. The report said: "The academy, emphasizing the danger in the use of high heeled shoes by women, protests against this absurd and harmful fashion and considered its abandonment greatly desirable."

French heels stabbed at their own fireside! I hope the French girls will take the advice of their learned counselors. High heels drive the weight forward onto the ball of the foot and the toes. They cause broken arches, painful feet, twisted toes, bunions, corns, and calluses. I can understand why brides whose newly acquired husbands have written poetry about their sweethearts' beautiful feet insist on putting out the light before they pull off their stockings. The brides aforesaid are afraid to let "hubby" see the twisted, gnarled, knotty members.

At the same time it is to be hoped that the French girls—for American girls are far too sensible to wear high heels and think ahead of the time when hubby will see the bunions, corns, and spavins—will lower their heels gradually. As matters now stand, their calf muscles are not long enough to reach if the heels are let down. A sudden drop to low heels means leg cramps and undue fatigue. A better plan is to reduce the height of the heels gradually. When shoe heels are even moderately high the foot has some tendency to slip forward and pinch the toes.

To remedy this tendency Longstroth devised what is called an anterior heel. This is made of sole leather and is fastened inside the shoe. It extends in front as far as the front of the instep or about one inch behind the ball of the foot. To begin with, it is one-eighth of an inch high, but this height may be increased to a quarter of an inch.

Posteriorly it either stops at the front of the heel or else it may extend backward as a thin glove fitting under the heel and extending to the counter. The heel or pad serves to hold the heel snug and prevents the foot from slipping forward. It is especially serviceable in cases of corns, bunions, cramped toes, and Morton's painful foot.

QUIT WORRYING.

Anxious writes: "My heart misses beats. I have been examined by three physicians who pronounced my heart absolutely free from any organic trouble. I worry a great deal about it. What would you advise me to do?"

REPLY.

Quit worrying.

PROTEIN POISONED.

L. C. writes: "Two doctors tell me that I have protein poisoning because I have a rash whenever I eat eggs. Meat and cheese cause hives. For six months I have omitted eggs from my diet, four months without meat, very little cheese, chocolate, candy, pastry. I have gas in my intestines, some in stomach, after any hearty meal. My bowels move twice a day, and I take outdoor exercise, do my own housework, and look and feel fairly well. I weigh 140 pounds and am 5 feet 4 inches in height. For breakfast I eat two slices of buttered toast and one cup of vacuum treated coffee with much cream and one spoonful of sugar. Bowels always move after drinking coffee. I drink it once a day.

"What can I eat? How can I overcome the protein poisoning? Sweet or starchy food always causes more gas distress. Is it necessary to omit all foods under these heads? I crave sweets. The acid fruits also cause gas. I have a good appetite and am hungry all the time now. I do not eat between meals and am not what you would term a hearty eater."

REPLY.

It is plain that you are hypersensitive to eggs, meat and cheese. Do not eat these or any other food to which you are oversensitive. Live largely on soya beans, peanuts, other nuts, vegetables, fruit, bread, cereals, fat meat, butter, oleomargarine, nut margarines, breads. From such a list of foods you can select at will. You will get enough nourishment as well as variety.

DIVERGENT ADVICE.

B. S. D. Writes: "I am suffering from an infected gall bladder following typhoid fever. An X-ray reveals no gallstones. A surgeon advises the removal of gall bladder. Other doctors advise against an operation. Would osteopathic treatment be sufficient in such cases? I am 57 years old. Have done lots of hard work. Am in a fair state of preservation. Have always had to fight constipation."

REPLY.

I do not think osteopathic treatment will help you. Infected gall bladder without gallstones calls for operation or not according to the amount of invalidism it produces. Whether you are operated on or not correct constipation by a diet of vegetables and bran.

ROSENOW VACCINE.

A. P. W. writes: "Can a physician out of Chicago get the Rosenow vaccine to prevent influenza and pneumonia? If so, where?

"2. In what quantities would it be given to children of 6 months, 3 years, and 5 years? Could it be administered safely to children of these years?

"3. How about malted milk as a regular diet for children when cow's milk cannot be secured"

REPLY.

1. It is for sale by standard manufacturers of vaccines. It is distributed free by the Illinois health department and the Chicago health department but not to people outside of Illinois. The Mayo foundation likewise distributes it free.

2. I do not think there would be any danger in giving it to young children. The dose should be one-thirtieth to one-third the adult dose. It is all right.

AMERICA'S WAR EFFORT OVERSEAS

AMERICAN HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, Nov. 19.—[Delayed.]—[By the Associated Press.]—The extent of America's military effort in France at the time the armistice was declared is shown by statistics which the Associated Press is now permitted to make public. While the stupendous figures in themselves are amazing, it should be remembered that they show only a part of the great effort.

On the morning of Nov. 11 the United States had in France 78,391 officers and 1,881,376 men, a total of almost 2,000,000. As has already been announced, there were 750,000 combat troops in the Argonne action. This number does not include American units engaged elsewhere.

The American army has brought over to France and has in operation 967 Standard gauge locomotives and 13,174 standard gauge freight cars of American manufacture. In addition it has in service 350 locomotives and 973 cars of foreign origin. To meet demands which the existing French railways were unable to meet, 843 miles of standard gauge railway were constructed. Five hundred miles of this have been built since June 1. On top of this, the department of light railways reports the construction of 115 miles of road and 140 miles of German light railways were repaired and put in operation. Two hundred and twenty-five miles of French railway were operated by the Americans.

These figures represent only a fraction of the transport effort, since modern warfare is motor warfare. In building new roads, in keeping French roads repaired, and in constructing bridges American engineers worked day and night. The whole region behind the American lines is full of American road machinery.

The American army had in operation Nov. 11 more than 53,000 motor vehicles.

Even at the present stage of the armistice, which may precede peace, it is not permissible to hint at the vast stores of munitions and armament brought over and held in readiness.

As to food, it will be seen that the American forces were in no danger of being placed on short rations.

In army terms, one ration represents the quantity of each article each man is entitled to daily. Now the Americans have 390,000,000 rations of beans alone, 183,000,000 rations of flour and flour substitutes, 267,000,000 rations of milk, 161,000,000 rations of butter or substitutes, 143,000,000 rations of sugar, 89,000,000 rations of meat, 57,000,000 rations of coffee, and 113,000,000 rations of rice, hominy, and other foods.

There are also 761,000,000 rations of cigarets and tobacco.

The Associated Press is informed that the American army had engaged to give the French 2,000,000 pounds of meat, 5,500,000 pounds of beans and rice flour, and milk in proportion. To the British 8,000,000 pounds of meat were promised, while the Belgians were assured that they would receive 4,500,000 pounds of rations of all kinds.

It is difficult to describe in exact figures what the American expeditionary forces have done in the construction and improvement of dockage and warehouses since the first troops landed.

This development of French ports, however, increased facilities to such an extent that even if the Germans had captured Calais and other channel ports, as they had planned, the allies' loss would have been strategically unimportant.

NOT THE LAST WAR, BRITON SAYS

This is not the last great war. Disarmament will not come with peace. There will be no "league of nations."

These were the opinions expressed last night by the Rt. Rev. Henry Russell Wakefield, bishop of Birmingham and colonel in the British army, at the Hotel La Salle, where he arrived on a tour of the United States.

Bishop Wakefield spoke freely on the war, peace, and reconstruction, explaining, however, that he talked as the bishop and not as a representative of the British government.

"Is this the last great war?" he was asked.

"N—no. It is not," the answer came. "I can see no other war for fifty years. But the human is quick to forget and human nature is strong. I can see no new war arising from the one just ended."

"Will peace bring disarmament?" was the second question.

"Well, Secretary Daniels asked for an increased navy the other day," said the bishop with a twinkle in his eyes. "It does not appear to be a step in that direction. I believe the allies feel that if they had disarmed after The Hague peace convention Germany would have overrun the world by preparing secretly. The allies have beaten Germany down, and they would be afraid to disarm at once."

"Will there be a league of nations, with Germany as a member?"

"Germany would like to be a member of such a league, but I do not think England and America would stand for it. I believe there will be a league of the allies, with England and the United States at the head, to keep the world in peace."

"What are the greatest problems among the allies as they assemble around the peace table?"

"As an Englishman I can see two. First, England will not give up her navy. President Wilson has declared for the 'freedom of the seas.' The depth of this problem depends upon the construction of this phrase, as England feels that her sea power is vital. It saved her life in this conflict.

"Second, England's dominions will insist upon taking away Germany's colonies on the ground that they are a menace."

The bishop spoke yesterday on the problems of reconstruction at the City club, and he will address the Hamilton club today.

The FRIEND of the SOLDIER

The Friend of the Soldier will coöperate with the war risk insurance bureau of the treasury department, 1307 Stock Exchange building, Chicago, and with the committee of the Chicago Bar association on legal assistance to soldiers and sailors, 105 West Monroe street.

Address inquiries to Friend of the Soldier, "Chicago Tribune." Answers to as many as possible will be published in this department. To insure a personal reply an addressed and stamped envelope should be inclosed.

No attention will be paid to anonymous letters.

WAR RISK INSURANCE.

Camp Grant, Ill., Nov. 19.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—What becomes of a soldier's war risk insurance now? Is this canceled? PRIVATE.

The government is urging the men to keep up their war risk insurance. After you leave the service you may still carry the insurance, but must change it to another form within five years after the close of the war in order to continue it beyond that time.

S. A. T. C.

Evanston, Ill., Nov. 20.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—Will the S. A. T. C. men be held in training until the college year is up? The reports about this branch are so varied and nothing very definite seems to really be known. MEMBER.

The plans are now being formulated for demobilization of the student branch of the army. The war department is trying to relieve colleges from their obligations in the students' army training corps.

NOT IN RAINBOW DIVISION.

Marinette, Wis., Nov. 19.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—Could you kindly tell me if the Forty-seventh infantry was part of the Rainbow division? MRS. J. S.

The Forty-seventh regiment of infantry is in the Fourth division. The Rainbow division has the One Hundred and Sixty-fifth, One Hundred and Sixty-sixth, One Hundred and Sixty-seventh, and One Hundred and Sixty-eighth regiments of infantry.

SERGEANT AT ARMS.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—[Friend of the Soldier.—I have been elected sergeant at arms in a club. Will you please tell me the duties of this office? B. J. B.

The duty of this office in any organization is to see that order is preserved.

MOTOR TRANSPORT.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—I am a registrant of Sept. 12, 1918, and as soon as possible I joined the motor transport corps. Is there any chance of us getting over? JACK.

Very little, if any.

CENSORING MAIL.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—Do you think that the mail will continue to be censored? The news for papers is not censored now. N. F.

The board of censorship has announced that only the press censorships have ceased. Other censorships remain in force.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

As but limited space can be given letters in this department, writers must confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Unless they give us their full names and addresses their letters will not be considered. No manuscript will be returned unless the writer sends postage for that purpose.

THE PLANS OF THE POTSDAM GANG.

Ottawa, Ill., Nov. 20.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—In light of the recent happenings in relation to the great European war, permit me to call attention to a few things which appear ominous in connection with the recent armistice with Germany especially.

That the military power of the ex-kaiser has collapsed there is no doubt, thanks to Marshal Foch and his able assistants, including our gallant army. But one thing has by no means surrendered; namely, the will and ability of Count Wilhelm and his Potsdam gang to scheme and plan to save all out of the wreck for themselves possible. In so far as I am able to read the meaning of recent events, they appear as follows:

Wilhelm finds his army beaten. He must "get out from under," so he casts about for a plan. Here it is. Prince Max is a nobleman with supposed Socialist leanings. Just the man. He appoints him chancellor. Max asks for an armistice. It is granted. Wilhelm with feigned emotion abdicates and with the leaders of the gang goes to Holland. The chancellor passes the government over to leaders of the Socialists. Some staged "revolutions" ensue and much talk of "awful food conditions" in Germany. But the government is now in the hands of "the people," just as President Wilson said it must be before any peace conference could come. Conditions all satisfied. Everything lovely. This brings us up to date.

What follows, I admit, falls within the dangerous realm of prophecy. The peace conference assembles with innocent looking representatives of the "new German republic" at the table. They plead the cause of the poor deluded German people. They denounce the "Potsdam gang." They are willing to make much restitution. To give up the bulk of the German navy. To convert the Krupp works into a plant for the manufacture of hairpins and mouse traps. To turn over the mustard gas factory as a meeting place for the board of directors of the league of nations to enforce peace.

Finally the articles of peace are signed. Everybody shakes hands. Col. House packs his valise and slips home, and the world once more settles down to quiet and order. But presently there are rumors of disorder in the "new German republic." Bolshevism is reported at various places. Finally the order loving Germans recall Count Wilhelm from his "long" exile and make him a "constitutional" monarch.

In the writer's opinion if the allies fail to get possession of the persons of the ex-kaiser and his leading aids and put them where this coup cannot be consummated William of Hohenzollern will be drawing his monthly pay check from the Potsdam palace by the time the great peace conference has become history a year.

W. E. HOWARD.

IMPROVING THE STREET CAR SERVICE.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Now that the much cussed and discussed urban transportation problem is due for another airing, it really seems that, from a standpoint of economy of both time and money, not to mention comfort, stress should be put upon these two apparently sane features: (1) Making the skip-stops accurate and permanent on all surface lines; (2) forbidding by ordinance all vehicle traffic to use surface car tracks between the hours of 6:30-8:00 a. m. and 5:00-7:30 p. m. where open outer roadways are accessible. Only financial interests can appreciate the great power loss in the unnecessary single block stops, and only the patient patron the bore of being jostled twice where once is good and plenty. It is my candid opinion that these two features should be made permanently operative in any final settlement of municipal surface car transportation. O. O. LEABHART.

SMOKE AS A GERMICIDE.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Admitting that smoking in railroad cars causes a certain degree of untidiness, it does not appear to be detrimental to health, according to the following extract from a news item in the London Weekly Times of Oct. 25, page 864, second paragraph, under article headed:

INFLUENZA SCOURGE.

"In many workshops where no danger is incurred by the practice, smoking is now permitted as a germicide."

The foregoing has always been my understanding of the effects of tobacco smoke, and, incidentally, my family doctor told me recently that it would be a moral impossibility for any germ to survive in the atmosphere created by the various brands of tobacco smoked in elevated cars. D. BENSON.

T. R. FOR PRESIDENT.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Already the guns of the 1920 presidential campaign are sounding in the distance and the question arises as to who will be the next president of the United States. In my mind there is only one logical candidate and that is Mr. Theodore Roosevelt. J. R. M.

AMERICAN BOYS AND FRENCH GIRLS.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—In the "Voice of the People" column there was a severe criticism of the "contest" held by an army paper. This contest invites American soldiers in France to write which they like better, American girls or French girls. This silly criticism is, to say the least, in rather poor taste, as the writer hints that American soldiers should deliberately lie, saying they liked American girls better when in reality they liked the mademoiselles of France the best. CRIPPLE'S LAST $2 IN WAR FUND WHILE CITY LAGS

Late Pledges Roll In, but Quota Still Is Far Away.

A paralytic in the Cook county hospital, she fashioned slowly and painstakingly a bead bag. She found a buyer for it and got $2. Yesterday Miss Ella Collens, the paralytic, sent the $2 to the United War Work fund to help the boys in France. Has any other given like this?

Of course, there are Robert M. Cutter, Arthur C. Strelow, and Franklin Wood, who gave their lives. But, for these heroes others must now give. Chicago has learned that it must stretch itself or admit failure in raising its quota. "Last ditch" subscriptions are coming in fast.

A typical last ditch subscription was one just received from the south side real estate board, which does not exist. This organization passed into oblivion with $150 in its treasury. During the fourth Liberty loan campaign A. C. Kussman and other members bought bonds with the money.

Bonds for Heroes.

Now they have sent the bonds to the United War Work fund with the request that they be converted into cash for the good work over there. At the headquarters of the campaign workers last night it was reported that the city and county apparently had "let up" a full half million dollars short of the quota required.

Some of the gifts reported yesterday are Quaker Oats company, $4,430; Black Cat club at the Edgewater Beach hotel, $161.20; Slovak Dramatic club, $27.70; employés of the offices of the General Electric company, $2,850.

Four young women of the west side decided to help and after a few hours of work handed in cash and pledges totaling $2,000, all obtained in the vicinity of Kedzie avenue and West Madison street. They are the Misses Margaret Clement, Florence Kelly, Edwina Perry, and Nelly Hickey.

Honor for Twenty-first Ward.

The Twenty-first ward, with a quota of $250,000, had subscribed up to last night $465,726. Of this amount the woman's committee, under Mrs. Cyrus Hall McCormick, has raised $350,000. The ward expects to double its quota.

Charles H. Hermann, chairman of trades committee No. 7, covering hotels, clubs, and the liquor and tobacco trades, reports the following late subscriptions:

Spaulding & Merrick company, $2,000; employés of Spaulding & Merrick company, $680; Havana American company, $500; Weyman Bruton company, $1,500; employés of the Weyman Bruton company, $370.50.

Late Subscriptions.

The following subscriptions were announced last night:

Last hour subscriptions collected by the machinery trade committee, which promises to go to $500,000, against a quota of $306,000, include these:

Western Electric company employés, Hawthorne plant, $14,000; Western Electric company employés, Clinton street plant, $1,023; C. F. Elmes Engraving company and employés, $1,678; Hardinge Brothers and employés, $1,500; Aermotor company and employés, $4,239; Link Belt company, $5,000; Link Belt company employés, $4,219; Armstrong Brothers Tool company and employés, $2,600; U. S. Ball Bearing company and employés, $4,000; Norton company, $1,000.

New York, Nov. 21.—Although the national returns as reported last night were more than $15,000,000 short of the $175,000,000 goal, George W. Perkins, a member of the committee, predicted that the goal would be passed by Monday. The results now depend on New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, St. Louis, and Minneapolis, he said. These cities, except Philadelphia, which is operating from a war chest which will be reported on Saturday, have started new campaigns and are working hard to reach their goals.

BELGIAN DAY

Chicago Asked to Aid in Victory Celebration.

"FLY the Belgian flag today. If you have none, fly the American flag alone."

Residents of Chicago with all the people of this country are thus appealed to by the Belgian minister at Washington and Dr. C. Vermeren, the consul here, to celebrate the return of King Albert and his army into Brussels. Dr. Vermeren yesterday received the following telegram from Washington:

"King Albert, at head of his victorious army, will enter Brussels Friday. Please give full publicity. Inform all Belgians as well as possible of fact and fly Belgian flag Friday.
"BELGIAN MINISTER."

Dr. Vermeren took the question up with President L. P. Teter of the Chicago Association of Commerce, who enthusiastically indorsed the plan.

"Tomorrow ought to bring the greatest display of Belgian flags Chicago ever has seen," said Mr. Teter. "It will be the supreme day in the triumph of Belgians after four years of suffering, and Americans, who first saved the nation from starvation and then aided in restoring Albert to his capital, ought to observe the occasion by flying both the American and Belgian flags everywhere."

The Belgian residents of this city will give a banquet to celebrate the occasion tomorrow evening at 518 South Wabash avenue, and on Sunday at 11 a. m. a "Te Deum" will be sung in the Belgian church at Logan boulevard and Maplewood avenue.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result.

RED CROSS GIVES HAPPY YULETIDE TO 3,000 YANKS

Soldiers' Kin Storm Bureau for Lonesome Labels.

At 6 p. m. 3,000 persons, who have waited in vain for the Christmas package label from their boy in the expeditionary forces, had been welcomed at the new Red Cross station at 54 East Washington street, had obtained special licenses giving them a right to the prized overseas label, and had seen their boxes of Christmas cheer mailed to the boy in Europe.

Hundreds more waited in the street line to be served and the corps of station workers forgot dinner and their weariness in the pleasure of watching disappointment and worry dropping like a discarded mask from the faces of their visitors.

Crowd Overwhelms Clerks.

Costly cars and expensive furs mingled with run down heels and ancient shawls in the motley procession of Christmas givers who stormed the room during the day. When the station opened at 8 a. m. a line reaching well toward Michigan avenue charged the doors and put to rout the five Red Cross workers on early duty.

Hurry calls were sent out and volunteer workers answered. Several brokers rushed to the battle front from the stock exchange pit and found themselves in their element in the excited label run. It required the services of four policemen to bring about order and to start the long line forward through the systematic "mill."

Quick Work Brings Results.

Lightning work on the part of John E. Bellot, chairman of the Christmas parcels committee, and J. W. Champion, Chicago chapter executive secretary, brought instant results from the war and postoffice departments' announcement that the mailing date for overseas parcels can be extended to Nov. 30, inclusive, and that the Red Cross may issue a Christmas label to the nearest relative of a soldier whose mailing permit has not yet reached his folks here at home.

At the first of a series of desks the applicant was given a special label license to be filled out with the name and organization of the soldier relative. Relationship and the fact that no label from the soldier had yet been received, and that if it is received it will be destroyed, was sworn to by each applicant. The official label and regulation overseas box then was received by each visitor, who promptly bolted from the building to fill the box with three pounds of Christmas cheer.

Dodging of Rules Detected.

Workers in the regular loop station found themselves deluged with packages to be inspected, wrapped, and mailed as a result of the new organization. Detective work in the station was also increased to Holmes-like proportions. One woman when asked whether she had included writing or money in her box answered in the negative. The inspector picked up a pair of gloves from the top layer in the package and found a $5 bill tucked in one finger and a letter in the thumb. A tiny gold locket, the next article examined, opened to reveal another home letter written in minute characters. Another Christmas letter was found tucked in the toe of a woolen sock! Government regulations forbid the sending of written matter or money in the regulation parcels.

It is estimated that only about 20,000 of the 75,000 Christmas labels authorized for Chicago people with boys in the service overseas have been received. Red Cross leaders are preparing for an unprecedented run on the shop in consequence.

SHRAPNEL

Orders were sent to local draft boards in Illinois yesterday by Adjt. Gen. F. S. Dickson to finish classification work and seal their records Dec. 9, subject to further orders from the governor, or provost marshal general. Nothing was said in the order regarding future activities of the boards, but it is understood they are to cease Dec. 9.

MOONEY VICTIM OF CONSPIRACY?

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 21.—A letter from Judge Franklin A. Griffin, who tried and sentenced Thomas J. Mooney, to Gov. Stephens asking that Mooney be given a new trial because of evidences of a fraud conspiracy against him was made public here today. The letter was written Nov. 19.

Commenting on his previous plea to U. S. Webb, attorney general of the state, that Mooney be retried, Judge Griffin said in the letter:

"I believed then that simple justice and fair play demanded such action, and from that position I have never for a moment receded. On the contrary, that stand has been by later developments greatly strengthened."

In the letter Judge Griffin characterized as open to attack the testimony of Frank C. Oxman, Oregon cattleman; Mrs. Mellie Edeau and her daughter Sadie, and John McDonald.

Held on 18 Charges of Passing Worthless Checks

Roy F. Wall, 28 years old, of 4836 Calumet avenue, was ordered held to the grand jury in bonds of $18,000 yesterday when he was arraigned before Judge Haas in the Hyde Park court on a charge of operating a confidence game by passing worthless checks.

Wall was faced by eighteen complainants who had cashed worthless checks for him in the last two months.

GIRL WORKERS FIND HARDSHIPS OF WAR IN PEACE

Hundreds Face Loss of Jobs, with No Others in Sight.

Cessation of hostilities on the battle lines is bringing some of the trials of war home to women workers who were doing their part by taking the places of men. With soldiers coming back to their former positions and the dropping of many war activities 1,000 or more girls have been ousted. The prospect that fighting will not be resumed has put an end to the work of several organizations that employed many women and girls and has limited the activities of others.

The majority of those who have lost their positions are in Washington. Recently an appeal was sent out from the national capital for 5,000 stenographers. After a number of young women had given up their positions to aid in war work the call was canceled.

Difficult to Get Jobs.

Attention was called to this situation by the fact that twenty girls who were dropped by the Military Training Camp association, in the Consumers building, had difficulty finding work at the salaries they obtained before they gave up their positions to go into war work. These girls have been unable to find work through employment agencies, but it is expected that many wives of soldiers soon will go back to their homes and that young women who are not forced to work will lose their war enthusiasm and desert their typewriters. These vacancies, it is thought, will provide openings for those who have been dropped from pay rolls on short notice.

Employers said last night that the uncertainty regarding women workers is only temporary and that they are confident the general revival of activity in business and the industries will furnish employment for all who wish it.

Sees No Problem.

Marquis Eaton, chairman of the Chicago branch of the Red Cross, said last night: "I do not know that we face any immediate problem with reference to our young women employes. It is hardly possible to speak definitely, as yet, for we have not been informed regarding the after war program of the Red Cross. Our course will depend upon the degree of responsibility which we are to take in the work overseas under peace conditions.

"Our regular work requires a large force, and we depend largely upon volunteers, so I do not expect we will have much of a problem regarding paid workers."

Places Still Open.

Expressions of views from the employers of war workers follow:

E. A. RUSSELL, head of the ordnance production department for the Chicago district: All our stenographers are civil service employés. But for the present we are not letting any of them out. If any of the girls want to go back to their old positions—the ones they held before offering their services to the government—I will let them go. After the work is completed those who want to may go on the civil service list and take government positions according to the regulations of that service.

ROBERT STEVENSON, deputy food administrator for Illinois: There will be no immediate cutting down of our staff. We will be very busy for at least three months and perhaps longer. There is a big program ahead for us and we will need all of our stenographers and workers for some time. Most of the stenographers came over to us with their old employers when they volunteered their services and it is more than likely that the stenographers will all be reëmployed.

Uutlook Uncertain.

D. E. FELT, war industries board for Illinois: I wish I could answer these questions. I have no idea how much longer we will be in existence.

MRS. JOSEPH T. BOWEN, head of the woman's committee of the State Council of Defense: We will stay in existence as long as the state council is working. That will be until after peace has been signed and the president issues his proclamation. We will take care of all our employés some way. It is more than possible that some of our branches will remain in existence and in that case, of course, the girls will stay, too. For instance the Americanization board may be taken over by the Woman's City club and the help kept; the social hygiene board may be taken over by the Y. W. C. A. That is not certain yet, but it is an example of what may happen. But at any rate we will make every effort to take care of the girls.

Six Chicago Alien Foes Go to Internment Camp

Six alien enemies living in Chicago were dispatched to Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., yesterday for internment by United States Marshal Bradley. They are Edward Otto, 5237 Broadway, former riding instructor at Highland Park; Carl Wisser, 405 South Marshfield avenue, a cook, who was held for a time as a suspect in the federal building bomb explosion; Rudolph Boerner, formerly a chef at the Baltimore restaurant, 18 East Quincy street; Charles Morgenthaler, 336 West Van Buren street, a sign hanger; Carl Thurnblaser, 1707 North Halsted street, a carpenter, and Frank Meisel. Twenty more enemy aliens were to be added to the train en route.

PEACE PROBLEMS CALL LUMBERMEN IN MEETING HERE

The huge problems connected with supplying materials with which to rebuild the devastated parts of Belgium and France are to be taken up at a convention of lumbermen from all parts of the United States, which is to open this morning in the Congress hotel.

The convention has been called by the National Lumber Manufacturers' association because of the signing of the armistice and the stopping of work on cantonments and other war department construction, which took the entire output of the mills. Lumber which would have gone into war work now will be used in the areas where the destruction has been worst. All branches of the lumber industries are to be represented.

Members of the newly formed Association of General Contractors at their closing session at the Hotel La Salle yesterday sent a telegram to Bernard A. Baruch, chairman of the war industries board, asking that all war restrictions that affect reconstruction work be taken off as quickly as possible.

WE would have you know that we look upon our association with our depositors as an opportunity to help in the solution of their problems and to aid in their march to success.

Put Your Feet in My Hands

If You Would Enjoy Perfect Foot Health and Real Shoe Comfort—

IF you are sick in body you consult a physician—IF your eyesight is impaired you consult an oculist—IF your teeth are out of order you consult a dentist—when your feet are out of order you should consult me.

I am the only Shoe Specialist in Chicago who makes shoes enabling the lame to walk, correcting deformities, such as broken-down arches, weak ankles, corns, callouses, bunions, sore and tender feet, and keeping well feet from becoming ill.

If you have any foot troubles, I will build you a pair of special shoes that will give you immediate relief. I make plaster casts of your feet and build shoes over the cast, so that every detail is considered and the resulting shoe is perfect for you and gives you the desired comfort.

Private Fitting Room for Ladies with Lady Assistant in Attendance.

Larson's Special Shoes Are Recommended by Physicians and Surgeons.

No Two Pairs of Feet Are Alike

You know that you cannot wear your Father's or Mother's or Sister's or Brother's Shoes. Even your own two feet are different from each other. Why then should you insist on forcing your feet into shoes made thousands to a pattern without any consideration of your own individual difficulties or the contour of your feet? It is no wonder that the result from such forced fittings are weak ankles, broken arches, deformed feet, corns, callouses, bunions, and sore, tender feet. Even more serious troubles that you cannot trace are due indirectly to misfitting shoes. If you give up this practice of torturing your feet today and see me for a permanent cure, all these pains and discomforts will vanish at once. Treat your feet to refreshing comfort in a pair of

Larson's Special Shoes

Thirty-two years of experience and a thorough knowledge of foot anatomy make it possible for me to diagnose your case and prescribe relief. Thousands of former sufferers have been relieved by me.

Tell Me Your Foot Troubles

Many is the time you have complained of sore feet, or corns, and of other foot troubles. But you did not tell them to me or you would have been relieved. You would have known the pleasures of real foot comfort. You would have forgotten all about shoes and shoe difficulties. Aside from the direct pain mis-fit shoes cause you, there is a bad effect on your disposition and your general health, and even if you have no pain if you wear shoes not properly built for you they may be causing you hidden damage. I have a complete knowledge of all these matters and can tell you just what the difficulty is and build you a pair of shoes to remove that defect.

There are nerves which start in the brain, lead through the spine and end in the toes—these are the nerves that pain and ache and cause so much trouble when the arches are broken and muscles and ligaments torn. Nerve tonics, rheumatism cures, electric treatments, chiropractic treatments and the like only endeavor to cure the effect. MARTIN LARSON SPECIAL SHOES get right after the cause, and by removing the cause make all these other cures unnecessary.

Even Physicians Are Sometimes Confused

by the symptoms of rheumatism and broken down arches. Many of my customers have had their cases diagnosed as incurable rheumatism, whereas the real cause was broken down arches and the resulting strain. I have relieved hundreds of so-called "incurable" cases by removing the cause, by building shoes to fit correctly in every respect. No long drawn out visits to the doctor are necessary for temporary relief. MARTIN LARSON'S SPECIAL SHOES will at once give you permanent relief and save you many hours of suffering and much expense.

Larson's Shoes Are Also Fashionable

You need not sacrifice style for comfort with my shoes. While constantly bearing in mind the need for health I do not lose sight of the fact that the shoes must also be stylish. In fact, by having complete charge of the making of the shoes I am able to build them according to the very latest models. This is an important feature. While the first cost of Larson's shoes is higher than other shoes, the comfort and long wear easily outweigh the original cost.

Larson's Anatomic Sta-Right Shoes

This is my triumph! I consider this the most effective shoe possible. Here are combined years of study and in this accomplishment I have designed a shoe that has in it the most careful construction and features to bring relief to foot ailments of all kinds. Every sign of flat footedness vanishes when you wear the Sta-Right. This masterpiece in shoe building is reinforced with a steel plate to hold the arches up, and with the additional support of whalebone in the lining, every ligament of the foot is called on to perform its function—no lagging when this shoe is worn. The weight is evenly distributed as was intended by Nature, and the result is a neat appearance, a sprightly walk and a decided comfort.

Larson's Bunion Remover

My thorough understanding of feet enables me to state definitely that all bunions are caused by tight, ill-fitting shoes that squeeze the nerves and pull the muscles into a congested mass, causing this inflammation and enlargement. The only remedy known for bunions is shoes that fit all parts of the feet equally, allowing these muscles and nerves to relax and return to their proper place and perform their intended functions with ease and freedom. The Larson Bunion Removers are the only shoes on the market today so made that when the feet have bunions they will remove all the pressure and do not bind and hinder the muscles. In this way the bunions gradually disappear, and this is the only way in which they can be made to vanish permanently.

PERCY ANDREA WARNED "WETS" OF "DRY" PERIL

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—Excerpts from the record of an executive meeting of the United States Brewers' association, held at Atlantic City, N. J., five years ago, were read at today's session of the senate committee investigating brewers' propaganda, in an effort to throw light on the association's alleged political activities.

The excerpts quoted a speech by Percy Andrea of Chicago, organizer of the National Association of Commerce and Labor, said to be a subsidiary brewers' organization, declaring that two out of every three members of congress would support the national prohibition amendement and that the main fight would have to be made in the election of state legislatures.

"This is the last bulwark of our rights and liberties that we must first proceed to strengthen at any cost," Andrea was quoted as saying, "by organizing in enough states to prevent the ratification of such a resolution by the necessary three-fourths of the legislatures."

A supplemental statement by C. W. Feigenspan of Newark, N. J., who negotiated a loan for the purchase of the Washington Times by Arthur Brisbane, and who was one of the underwriters of a loan for the purchase of the Montgomery Advertiser, was submitted in the form of a letter to Chairman Overman.

Newberry Fund Fight Dropped by Committee

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—[Special.]—The proposed investigation into the election of Truman H. Newberry, Republican senator elect from Michigan, by the senate privileges and elections committee was dropped today by vote of that committee. The reason given by the senators voting against the inquiry was that Mr. Newberry had been elected to the senate for a term that begins next March 4 in the Sixty-sixth congress, while this is the Sixty-fifth congress, which had no jurisdiction in the premises.

DRY CONFERENCE CHEERS NEWS OF U. S. PROHIBITION

Newsboy Makes Dramatic Figure in Midst of Discussions.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

Columbus, O., Nov. 21.—[Special.]—The National Anti-Saloon league conference had its most explosive moment today when the announcement was made that President Wilson had signed the prohibition bill which will make the nation dry on July 1.

The method of the announcement was itself dramatic and unusual. The Rev. Father J. J. Curran of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., was in the chair and Miss Jennie V. Hughes was just finishing a plea in behalf of China when a newsboy stalked down the aisle. Walking clear up to the altar of the Central Methodist Episcopal church, he held up an afternoon Columbus newspaper and called out:

"The president has signed the prohibition bill."

"Read What It Says!"

With a leap the audience sprang to its feet and began shouting. Some one yelled:

"Read what it says!"

Sam Small grabbed a paper and, mounting the platform, read the announcement, which was brief but explicit. Three cheers were given for the bill and then three for President Wilson.

"Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow" was sung. After the restoration of quiet Howard H. Russell, founder of the Anti-Saloon league, was delegated to represent the conference in sending a telegram of thanks and appreciation to President Wilson for having signed the bill.

Another sensation was the applause following an address by F. B. Willis, former governor of Ohio, who was defeated at the election Nov. 5.

"The wet Republicans of Cincinnati defeated me," said Mr. Willis, "but in doing so they pulled down the house upon themselves. Ohio went dry, thank God, and the whole nation is going dry."

Whitman Brings Cheer.

"I am pleased to report to you," said Gov. Whitman, "notwithstanding the fact that the returns may show that the liquor traffic has succeeded in defeating a governor of New York who declared for prohibition, state-wide and nation-wide, it has not been able to elect a pledged anti-ratification legislature. The next New York legislature has been saved from Tammany and is safely within the control of the Republican party, and most of those Republicans are committed to ratification."

Walk-Over
SHOES

A More than Stylish Shoe

Take a special look at the toe of this model. It sounds the note of Style. And yet this shoe, being made upon a full-fitting English last, has a broad shank, a low heel and a generous tread.

Very aptly has it been called a free-fitting shoe. That is to say, it is perfectly proportioned for your foot and comfort-giving, not when well-worn, but from the moment you first put it on.

It makes your foot feel and look young.

Supporting your relatives

Does it pay?

What ought we to do about it?

Turn them down and be blamed, or try to help and be blamed?

Put them on a pension roll, or give them absent treatment?

In the December number of The American Magazine is the personal experience[1] of a man who has worked it all out for himself.

He passes it on to the rest of us for the good it may do us.

The author says, no man is so poor that he does not have somewhere some relative poorer than himself. It is a common problem, handled in an uncommon way. There is something like this in every number of The American Magazine.

How many families in Chicago pay more than $50 a month rent? How many less than $25? The Tribune's BOOK OF FACTS will tell you.

Can you re-bottle a Woman?

WHEN the men come back, the women will welcome them with open arms. But will they welcome them with open jobs? Will they hand over the positions in which they have "made good" during the men's absence? Will they hand over the nice fat pay envelopes they've enjoyed?

Helen Ring Robinson opens up some pretty exciting questions in this article. Can you re-bottle a woman? How can you pour all these women in industry back into their homes and put the cork in?

For the most interesting thing is not that women are turning lathes, working in munitions, making airplanes, building ships, but that they are reaching out for executive positions! Think what that means!

And what is to become of that old standby, the "sponge" woman? Will she be sunk without a trace, that pretty little parasite who contributes nothing?

How is the adjustment to be made, what of the home, how do women themselves regard it? Helen Ring Robinson has some very pertinent glimpses of woman and her position in the new world after the war in "Releasing Women for the Top."

The man who jumped into the sea

BY ISRAEL SOLON

After the solitary life boat, already overcrowded with men and women.

"Get away! Keep away from us!" they shriek. "Knock him on the head—brain him, somebody!"

Then from the water came the proposal, "Sell me a place, one of you—I'll pay you well for it."

Who was this man that another, a man with wife and children, jumped into the sea in his place? This is one of the strangest stories of the war that has come to light.

The kind of wife he had

He was sick of it. Sick of the same meals, the same office, the same wife. He went to New York.

What women his friend's wife and sister-in-law were! He'd been a fool to marry the first girl that came along. Eagerly he saw more of the wonderful women. And then it happened!

A scream—a woman's scream cut suddenly through the thick darkness of that house. When he got back to his hotel he knew! Don't miss this illuminating story of the crisis in a man's life—"Just Plain Wife" by William Dudley Pelley.

Christmas color pages for the children

Wonderful, bright-colored pages, made especially for the children! One full of merry, irresistible Christmas cards all ready to be cut out and mailed to little friends. Two more of holiday fun with the beloved Twelvetree Kiddies.

Others with fat Christmas stockings and holly wreaths for the doll house, puppies and kittens, the Christmas tree blazing with candles, and Dolly Dingle herself with her soldier boy—all just waiting to be cut out and played with.

Special patriotic Christmas pictures

These are Arthur I. Keller's "Keep the Home Fires Burning" and "There's a Long, Long Trail Awinding," and S. J. Woolf's wonderful and poignant "His Soul Goes Marching On". In the ruins of an old church at Rambecourt, destroyed by the Germans, this great American artist secured his inspiration for this masterpiece.

Little homeless children whose mothers and sisters have been carried away to horrors worse than death!

A little baby girl waiting on a gutted doorstep—a little baby girl with a face like an old woman, rocking herself back and forth, back and forth, droning, "I'm hungry, I'm hungry." And all about her the village—crumbling, wrecked, deserted. One of thousands of children lost in the mad flights from burning villages! When you hang up your holiday wreath and light your Christmas candles, think of them.

CUEIST KIECKHEFER NEARS WORLD'S 3-CUSHION RECORD

CHAMP CONJURES IVORIES TO ROLL AT HIS BIDDING

BY JOE DAVIS.

During this whirlwind display the challenger gathered 25 points, leaving Augie in the lead, 100 to 52, insuring his retention of the title until he meets Pierre Maupome, the next challenger.

In reaching the century mark in eighty-one innings, Augie placed himself within reach of the world's mark of 133 innings for 150 points made by him in his recent match with McCourt. If he can complete his string tonight under fifty-one innings, he will set a new mark and interest will center largely in this prospect.

Record for Single Block.

Although the powers that be did not accord official recognition to the mark of thirty-five innings made by Alfredo De Oro in the second block of his match with Kieckhefer on Dec. 3, 1915, there seems no adequate reason for refusing to grant an official record for a single block in a championship match.

Kieckhefer's fine performance on the first night proved a magnet, and another fine crowd turned out. It is no exaggeration to say the crowd was spellbound at the superlative work of the champion, while the fact that Cannefax was in much better form and held his opponent even for fifteen innings, when they both averaged over one, added greatly to the interest in the battle.

Jake Schaefer of Angles.

Veteran Charley Mathews, who marked most of the big billiard matches for a quarter of a century, said it was the greatest three cushion performance he ever had seen, remarking that Augie was the Jake Schaefer of the angle game.

Kieckhefer, who had finished the first block with a run of seven, opened last night with a fine force follow around the table, bringing his run to eight. For six innings he made connections, pulling off several spectacular shots.

At the sixth inning he led, 12 to 5, but Cannefax caught his stroke and began to score freely. A well played run of three in the fourteenth inning, which ended with a kiss, tied the score at 17, and there was every prospect of a nerve wrecking contest.

Cue Pyrotechnics Follow.

This expectation was soon dissipated as Augie in his next six innings gathered sixteen points by as great a display of shot making as ever was seen on any table. He opened the sixteenth inning with a great reverse follow along the foot rail, and later doubled the side rail on a long shot, coming out for a perfect count. Cannefax tried to follow the pace and scored well, but missed several shots by narrow margins.

A brace of fours in the next ten innings enabled Kieckhefer to increase his lead, a string of six misses putting Cannefax farther in the ruck. They turned the thirtieth inning with Kieckhefer leading, 41 to 24, and it did not look as if Augie then had a chance to pass De Oro's mark.

Run of Eight for Record.

Two singles and a cipher brought his total to 42, leaving him one inning with eight to make. He counted with several open shots and made his fifth by a great swing around the top half of the table. Two fast three cushion shots brought his total to seven, and he went out amid a round of applause with an around the table shot, which rolled slowly up to the white in a corner, narrowly escaping a kiss on the way down.

GOPHERS' STAR BACK IN GAME

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 21.—[Special.]—Football prospects for next Saturday's game with the Municipal Pier team took a bit rosier hue today than they have at any time during the past week. It was due to the return of George Miners, star halfback, to the lineup. Miners, one of the best ground gainers on the squad, took part in scrimmage.

Today's was the last hard scrimmage before the contest. Larry Doyle, the team's center, injured his leg late in the practice and was carried from the field. His injury is not believed to be serious and he will undoubtedly start against the Chicago gobs.

Speaker and Pipp Ask Release from Service

The men said they expected to play baseball next season.

RETURN OF REBER HELP TO MAROON IN ILLINI GAME

There was joy in gobs on Stagg field yesterday, when there suddenly appeared in the midst of the struggling gridironites a bundle of strength to aid in the anticipated tough stand against the sturdy Illini on Saturday. Reber, termed the best center the Maroons had this season, returned from Fortress Monroe, where he had been ordered shortly after the Michigan game, donned football togs and got down to business. As Swenson, who has been filling in at center, is still on the sick list, the return of Reber naturally caused elation.

Another player, however, probably will be missing from the lineup Saturday, partially offsetting the gain made by Reber's return, for Miller, who has been playing guard, was taken to the hospital to have an infected leg repaired. Two other players, McCuaig and Tays, also are unlikely to get in the game.

PURPLE HOLDS FINAL PRACTICE

Northwestern university football players took their last united practice of the season yesterday, with the medical and dental players from Chicago in attendance. It was their final workout for the game at Iowa City tomorrow, which ends the Purple schedule. Signal practice today will be the only action before the departure of the team for Iowa.

Lieut. John Shea, representing the military; Prof. William V. Pooley, conference representative; and Athletic Director Wilson will go to Iowa City for the game and attend the dinner Saturday night in honor of the team, and Coach Murphy will continue west to his home in Denver for his first sight of another Murphy heir, who arrived during the football season.

FLETCHER TO GET CHANCE IN GAME

Urbana, Ill., Nov. 21.—[Special.]—Ralph Fletcher may start at right half back for Illinois against the Maroons on Saturday, replacing Walquist. Bob Zuppke admitted today that he was considering this move. Fletcher's performances in the second half of the Ohio game were valiant, and it is likely that if Zuppke was asked to select his best pair of half backs they would be Kirkpatrick and Fletcher, although Walquist and Sabo push them close.

Headed by Zuppke and Lieut. Veitch, the S. A. T. C. athletic officer, the Illini will entrain for Chicago tomorrow evening, where they will be located at the Chicago Beach hotel.

Save on Old Shoes

Good shoes often have a longer life than you believe possible; frequently when soles and heels are completely worn away, the uppers are still so good that new soles and heels, at a very moderate expense, give you practically a new pair of shoes. We operate one of the largest and best shoe repair departments for men's and women's shoes in Chicago. We use the best oak tanned leather soles; or any of the good waterproof fiber soles; and all brands of rubber heels. We guarantee the work. PURPLE OFF TODAY FOR IOWA CONTEST; READY AND HOPEFUL

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Overcoming obstacles which in former years have been handicaps in the development of strong teams, Coach Fred Murphy of Northwestern tonight will lead his Purple warriors to Iowa city where Iowa will be met tomorrow in the final game of the season for the Evanston eleven.

Devising a scheme whereby members of the team attending downtown schools could practice every day at Hardin Square and report in a body once a week at Evanston, Murphy developed a team which defeated Chicago in the only conference game played, held the strong Great Lakes eleven to a scoreless tie, defeated Knox but met with defeat at the hands of the strong United States Auxiliary Naval Reserve school.

Hope for Title Claim.

The victory of the Purple over the Maroons was so decisive that Northwestern fans believe the team is entitled to championship consideration if Iowa is beaten tomorrow. It is true the eleven has shown improvement with the playing of every game and it would have been a much harder aggregation for the pier team to have beaten if Murphy could have had his full squad together every day for practice.

Northwestern was compelled to cancel its early season games because of war regulations and the influenza epidemic. The cancellation of these contests deprived the team of much needed experience and the calling off of the Michigan game was a severe blow.

Coach Gains Good Results.

That Murphy has accomplished the best results with the material placed at his disposal was shown in the Great Lakes game, the first struggle of the season, which resulted in a scoreless tie. This game was played on a muddy field.

That contest gave the players confidence and much needed experience. From then on the team improved until the pier aggregation was met, but in this contest Northwestern was outclassed. But Illinois, claimant of the conference title, and Chicago also suffered the same fate. After this setback the Purple players showed the proper stuff by winning from Knox and Chicago.

Style of Team Alike.

In meeting Iowa, Coach Murphy will meet his own style of play. The Hawkeyes are tutored by Howard Jones, former Yale back. Murphy also learned his football at Old Eli, and the outcome should be interesting.

Iowa will depend upon the forward pass receiving ability of Capt. Reed, unquestionably one of the best ends in the conference colleges. Lohman, the fullback, is as good a line plunger as there is in the Big Ten, while Scott, the half back, is certain to make ground off the Purple tackles.

Northwestern will pin its hopes on Underhill, who is about the best quarter back in the western organization; Cigrand, a reliable half back; Peyton, who did good work at full back against Chicago, and Holmes, half back.

Tomorrow's contest will be the third conference game to be decided in Iowa City. Iowa was put out of the conference championship race by Illinois on that gridiron, and Minnesota suffered the same fate by being defeated by Iowa.

In the Wake of the News

By RING W. LARDNER

GIVE UNTIL IT CHOKES.

The week of Nov. 25-30 will be given over to a drive for which the public has not yet been asked to subscribe. Towit, the R. W. L. Relief. The initials stand for the name appearing at the head of this column.

That no financial assistance has been asked previously speaks volumes for the efficiency and care with which the organization's activities have been carried on. Now, however, financial assistance is necessary or the New Year will be begun under a cloud of debt.

The sum sought is so small in comparison to that asked and obtained in other drives that the committee feels confident the minimum limit will be obtained in the first three days. For safety's sake, however, twice that time has been allotted, which means that the average must be $833.34 per day, for a total of $5,000. Strictly, six times $833.34 is $5,000.04. If that sum is realized, Chairman Lardner promises to give the extra $.04 to some worthy elevated cashier so she can make change for a dime.

Chicago's quota of the $5,000 is $5,000.

The sum, when collected, will be divided among various interests which have been aided in the past by the R. W. L., including a department store, an insurance company, a doctor, a bank, a green grocer, and etc. Part of it, too, will go into Liberty bonds, so no subscriber need feel that the element of patriotism is lacking. Another part will be utilized in the purchase of Christmas presents for the Lardner children and one of the slogans is:

"Give with a will
For John, Jim and Bill."

Other slogans are:

"Give all you can

"Give all you're able

And these alleged comical ones:

"Give all you please
To that large piece of cheese."

"Give all you wish
To that fresh water fish."

"Give all you choose
To buy young Lardners shoes."

Female workers on the Tribune will be asked to serve as Gimme Girls and will be stationed at prominent corners in the Loop and the outlying districts. Buttons will not be given to all subscribers, but will be sewed on where needed. However, each subscription will be accepted with a smile, which, believe me, is some condescension from some of these birds.

Exhaust Echoes

By SHEPPARD BUTLER

H. M. ALLISON, who has been in charge of Packard distribution hereabouts since 1906, announced his resignation yesterday as president and general manager of the Packard Motor Car Company of Chicago. No explanation of the move was given.

Mr. Allison has been identified with Packard affairs here and in Detroit for nearly fifteen years. For two years he was president of the Chicago Automobile Trade association, and it was largely due to his efforts that a national used car market report was launched by the Chicago dealers.

A member of the Packard executive staff at Detroit is said to be slated as Mr. Allison's successor.

Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club has written Acting Chief Alcock asking the aid of the police department in stopping the "ride mooching" habit.

"A great many accidents are reported to this office," he says, "the result of children standing out in the street, hailing and stopping automobiles for a ride. In some cases boys ranging in age from 9 to 16 have stepped out in front of cars, with the result that many of them have been hurt. In others automobiles have collided with each other because drivers have found it necessary to swerve sharply in order to avoid striking these children.

"We have received so many complaints recently that I have determined to take some action to remedy this evil."

SKATERS ROUSED BY WINTER AIR; CALL MEETING

Wintry winds and a forecast of freezing weather caused a stir among members of the Northwest Sportsmen's club yesterday. It made them think of ice skating and championship races and immediately a meeting was called for tonight at the new headquarters of the club, 2758 North avenue.

Although forty members of the club are in the service, among them Art Staff, Roy McWhirter, and Fred Buendgen, all champions, those who still are here propose to get things going at once. New officers will be elected at the meeting tonight and plans made to organize a squad of skaters for the approaching season. Of course, unless some of the speedy ones return from war in the near future, the club will have to be represented by the best of the "old boys" and the juniors, some of whom are about ready to jump into the championship class.

ONLY SIGNAL DRILL FOR THE GOBS TODAY; OFFICIALS CHOSEN

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 21.—A light signal drill tomorrow morning will wind up the training of Great Lakes football team for its contest with the Navy at Annapolis Saturday. Great Lakes has been shaping up at Homewood field here for the big event. The officials for the game have been chosen as follows:

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 21.—Due to the fact there will be no Army-Navy football game this season, naval people here and local football devotees are exhibiting great interest in the contest between the Middies and the eleven of the Great Lakes Naval Training station of Chicago to be played here Saturday. Both teams will be in fine fettle for the fray.

The outcome is being viewed here in the nature of a championship struggle, because of sectional issue, coupled with the fact that Great Lakes is an all star combination, and the fact that the Middies have shown their mettle in previous performances.

Harry Kaad hung up a new season's bowling record last night for local pin men to shoot at when he reeled off a series with an average of 243 1-3. He had counts of 258, 246 and 226 while anchoring for the Fritzi Scheffs of the Kaad league, and despite the big figures his team was lucky to win one game from the Primas.

VOX POP ON QUAIL.

Chicago.—[To the Editor.]—Your article in last Sunday's TRIBUNE regarding the quail situation is most interesting. We have just returned from a few days' hunt in a locality southwest of Springfield, Ill., to which we have gone for several years.

The country is rough with excellent cover for game provided in the undergrowth and deep gullies. Quail, pheasants and rabbits have always been plentiful until this year. The pheasants appear to be holding their own, but other game was very scarce, although they say that it is seldom that any one else hunts birds in that particular section.

If any effort that we can make towards feeding the quail would be of practical assistance in carrying them through the coming winter, we feel that it should be done, as we are certainly under obligation to Bob White for many a day's sport. The rabbit situation, I presume, is rather different, and they can be relied upon to multiply as soon as relief from the present market price of fifty cents apiece and an open winter gives them a chance.

Will you be so kind as to put me in the way of securing details as to the method of providing food for the quail through the winter. C. H. K.

[Editor's note—Your intentions are good, but one man, especially one man living 200 miles from the quail cover, could not do much toward feeding and protecting the quail. What is needed is an organization made up of local sportsmen, bird lovers, and farmers working in coöperation with the local district warden. Sportsmen living outside who are unable to give their time to the proposition should be asked to kick in with some money when they go into the district to hunt, which no doubt they would be willing to do. This is just a rough outline of what can be done. Later we will have an article on an association of this kind and what they have actually accomplished. One man effort, no matter how willing and able, cannot get very far on such a big job.]

Big Crowd Sees Boats in Fort Sheridan Ring

Fort Sheridan, Ill., Nov. 21.—[Special.]—The post gymnasium was well filled for the weekly boxing tournament directed by Charley White tonight. Company B won over Company A. The card consisted of five bouts, added attractions being a six minute wrestling bout in which Grischewis, Company B, won the decision over Vanzeth, motor transport, and musical entertainment by the Misses Landwer and Lorenz of Chicago.

SHOOT AT GREAT LAKES.

Great Lakes, Ill., Nov. 21.—A big turkey shoot for officers and men and a special division for Chicago gunners will be held by the Great Lakes Gun club next Wednesday. Ten gobblers have been set up as stakes. All events are so handicapped that the poorer shooters will have a chance to land a prize.

MISS E. PACKARD ELECTED TO HEAD WOMEN GOLFERS

After piloting the Women's Western Golf association through four years, Mrs. James P. Gardner turned the helm over to Miss Edith E. Packard of the Beverly Country club at the annual meeting and election held yesterday at Mandel's.

In appreciation of her services, especially those during the war period, Mrs. Gardner was presented with a silver chop plate of the Lafayette pattern. This was subscribed for by nearly 200 members of the Chicago clubs, a scroll containing their names accompanying the present.

Miss Packard, who has been closely associated with Mrs. Gardner during her four years of work, is well adapted for the leadership of the most influential women's organization in the country.

Donate Fund to France.

Despite war conditions last season was as successful as could be expected. The report of Mrs. E. I. Cudahy, the treasurer, indicated a donation of $672.70 to the fund for the fatherless children of France. This came from the entry fee for the western tournament at Indian Hill, the prizes being donated by the association.

For the first time in its history there was a tie for the individual record cup, Miss Corella Lukens of Edgewater and Mrs. Melvin Jones of Glen Oak each getting 56 points. They each received a silver bowl. Mrs. H. D. Fargo of Edgewater was third with 47, Mrs. C. O. Gilette of Ridge having 46, and Miss Dorothy Klotz of Indiana Hill 40.

Point Cup to Flossmoor.

Flossmoor won the point record cup with 201, Edgewater having 190, Glen Oak, 184; Windsor, 169; South Shore, 155, and Westmoreland, 149. The annual competition for the par trophy was won by Janesville, 36 down to par. Glen Oak was 37 down; Indian Hill, 43; Inverness, Toledo, 47; Edgewater, 51; Onwentsia, 52, and White Bear, Minn, 57. The Interstate cup was retained by Sheboygan, Wis., without competition.

The treasurer's report showed a membership of eighty-six active and seven associated clubs. Two clubs were admitted to membership, Coronado C. C. of California, and Delavan C. C. of Wisconsin.

It is planned to hold the next western championship tournament outside of Chicago, and the location will be determined at a meeting in January.

THIS will be an unexpectedly happy Christmas for most of us. But Christmas plans should be completed early just the same.

The War Industries Board asks you to shop early for Christmas—shop in the morning, if possible—carry small packages whenever convenient—and send all gifts for those out of town on their way before December fifth.

And self-interest also should prompt you to do your Christmas shopping now—for in this store now are many stocks of Christmas merchandise which cannot be duplicated and many others which, if they were duplicated, would cost us more and, consequently, you more than these are priced.

NOTED ARTISTS WILL CARRY ON PATRIOTIC WORK

Gibson Pays Tribute to Burnham in Cliff Dweller Banquet.

Led by Charles Dana Gibson, chairman of the National Pictorial Publicity association, the men who have made the posters and written the pictorial epics to put over first the mobilization of the nation's forces and later the Liberty loans and war work funds to keep the army advancing, decided unanimously to hold their national organization intact and to go on with their work of educating and inspiring Americans to Americanism as a permanent part of their service to humanity.

Artists and educators of international reputation were featured on the program at the artists' banquet given by the mid-west group of the association in the Cliff Dwellers' club. Oliver Dennett Grover, toastmaster, declared that never since war called American artists to the colors had so much talent been gathered together under one roof. He thanked Karleton Hackett, president of the club, for the privilege of entertaining the bright lights in art, who included Mr. Gibson, Claire Briggs, Joseph Pennell, H. T. Webster, C. B. Falls, H. Devitt Welsh, F. De Sales Casey, Roy Greenleaf, and William Ireland.

Gibson's Tribute to Burnham.

"The men who have given their best work to the nation since artists volunteered to do their bit," said Gibson, "men like Greenleaf, Charley Falls, Pennell, and the hundreds of artists who have helped create the stories written in posters and cartoons, have shown the spirit of Daniel H. Burnham, and that spirit will live through the years of peace. I have sat at the feet of Burnham. I saw his first drawings of the world's fair and saw him destroy them and call in talent from the whole country to help him meet new situations and make his plan the most beautiful in the world.

"We must meet new situations now and do our bit to bring Uncle Sam through the rough waters ahead. The Hun is finished, but other problems of as great importance to our country will come. And we'll be in those problems —up to the neck!

"Don't talk of recognition from the government. Think of recognition from the people and become one of the people. Do things the people want."

What They've Done.

F. De Sales Casey, art editor of Collier's and secretary of the Pictorial Publicity organization, read reports showing that between April 17, 1917, and Nov. 15, 1918, fifty-eight departments have been working steadily to create the national spirit through posters and picture stories. Seven hundred poster designs, 287 cartoons, 60 paintings for the food administration, and 1,438 Liberty loan drawings have been turned over to the government free by the organized artists. The 1,400 posters cost Uncle Sam just $2 each, and were "just as good as the country's best artists could make." It was pointed out that the posters will perpetuate the art of the decade through the centuries, as every war poster will be preserved.

Joseph Pennell urged the artists to hold together and carry on first in the peace era and then through reconstruction and labor problems and changes to come.

Capt. del Lungo of the Italian army, Capt. Blake of the British army, and the British and French consuls were included among the guests.

SQUINT EYE AIDS MAIL PILFERER, THEN BRINGS FALL

Some two years ago Arthur Thornsen of 807 North Mozart street, embarked upon a new enterprise in the format of easy finance. It was, pro forma, directed against the postal communications of secretaries and other officials of fraternal and life insurance organizations in Chicago.

Arthur was equipped with a cigar, a woman's hatpin, fashioned after the design of a fishhook, and a squinting, or, in the definition of Webster, a cockeye. With the hatpin he would fish out letters from the mail boxes in apartment house lobbies. Abetted by the cigar, he would invoke the cockeye to register unconcern by glancing over the heads of untoward visitors at the scenes of his daily pilferings.

A good day's catch would net Arthur perhaps $50 or $100. Splendid success was attending his emprise when the cockeye proved his undoing. Victims in recounting their losses remembered the presence of a man who squinted over their heads. That was the case with John B. Eaton, an official of the Masonic lodge, living at 5706 Washington boulevard.

Therefore it was that Detective Sergeants Joseph R. Blais and Curtis Taylor of the Austin police station arrested Arthur when they encountered him yesterday in the lobby of Mr. Eaton's apartment house. Arthur confessed to cashing more than 700 checks, postal and express company money orders in the last two years.

Suspends Aid, Who, in Resigning, Roasts Her and City Hall.

Mrs. Louise Osborne Rowe of "Maizie says you've got to come across" fame yesterday came back into the limelight.

By grace of Mayor Thompson's payment of her salary out of his contingent fund Mrs. Rowe has retained her titular rights as commissioner of public welfare in spite of the city council's refusal to authorize such an office.

Mrs. Rowe recently notified Miss Eleanor Myers, assistant superintendent of employment, that she was suspended for thirty days.

Miss Myers replied by resigning, that step being represented by a 1,000 word letter teeming with denunciation of Mrs. Rowe, the civil service commission, and the Thompson administration. She gave a copy of the letter to the Civil Service Reform association, which intends to place it in the hands of every member of the city council committee on finance for consideration.

"No Cause for Suspension."

Miss Myers charges that no cause for suspension was disclosed to her.

"This action of yours," she wrote Mrs. Rowe, "might well be regarded as an expected culmination of the illegal lay-offs, unauthorized transfer and petty persecutions that have followed my appointment.

"I have made social service my life study and work and was appointed to this position because I obtained first place in a competitive civil service examination. But the position's environment makes it absolutely impossible for me to retain it and at the same time maintain my ideals and keep my self respect."

She recited the "intolerable conditions" in the department, including the "laying off" of civil service employés for about six months in 1917 and the use of the money thus saved "to pay former employés for whom the council had made no appropriation." She further charged that her duties were given to a woman political appointee who was paid out of an appropriation for a "gardener" and she herself was assigned to a bureau of information unauthorized by the council.

"Jobs for Friends."

And she said most of the work of the employment bureau was "getting employment for persons who came with letters of recommendation from aldermen or other friends of the administration."

She spurned the chance of going before the civil service commission for a hearing or trial.

"Having in mind the results of the Funkhouser and other trials," she said, "one would be credulous indeed to hope for justice at the hands of this politically appointed body."

Following the "Maizie" incident, the city council refused to appropriate any salary for Mrs. Rowe's position, but she has retained it because Mayor Thompson has paid her from his contingent fund. Asked about Miss Myers' suspension last night, she said the young woman had been guilty of "insubordination."

INDIANA TO ACT ON WALTHALL'S QUICK MARRIAGE

The nutpial NOT of Henry B. Walthall, movie star, assumed somewhat more of Gordian complication yesterday.

It will be recalled that Mr. Walthall, who was divorced from No. 1 Nov. 15, was married to No. 2 Wednesday at Crown Point. The ceremony was illegal, according to Judge H. H. Loring, on the grounds that the Illinois statute, which prohibits marriage until one year after divorce, is operative in Indiana.

Assistant Attorney General U. S. Lesh of Indiana said last night at Indianapolis that an investigation would be started at once and that "such action as the laws provide will be taken." He was of opinion that the marriage would be held illegal by the courts, "as Indiana respects the Illinois laws." He said the violation of the Illinois statutes might carry with it a sentence of contempt of court.

Another phase of the case, the status of Indiana justices of the peace who continue taking fees for performing illegal ceremonies of marriage, was placed before Mr. Lesh. He said it was doubtful whether they could be held responsible and liable to impeachment proceedings.

TEN STORY BOOK, 'SEX MAGAZINE,' ATTRACTS U. S.

The "Ten Story Book," which advertises itself as "the world's most daring sex magazine," and as being "smarter, snappier, breezier, livelier, and saucier than all the rest," has run afoul of the postoffice authorities.

Yesterday, on complaint of Dana F. Angier, a postal inspector Guy W. Whitcomb, publisher; John Hamilton, managing director, and John Irving Pearce Jr. were summoned before Francis Borrelli, assistant United States attorney, to explain who was responsible for the literary efforts the magazine contains. After Hamilton and Pearce had given conflicting testimony as to responsibility, the three men were ordered to appear again this morning.

The magazine, which has been published for several years, has headquarters at Clarendon and Montrose avenues, in the same building occupied by the "Bankers' Trust company." The latter, which has been a heavy advertiser in the magazine, purports to be selling stock in the Powdered Coal Emergency and Equipment company. n advertisements it is stated that "you may pay for your stock with Liberty bonds." The federal authorities have become much interested in the company and its stock.

PACKING HOUSE EMPLOYES ASK BIG WAGE RAISE

File Demand for 25 Cent Hour Increase with Alschuler.

A demand for a flat increase of 25 cents an hour for all Packingtown employés and that women workers be paid the same wages as men for the same work has been made to Judge Samuel Alschuler, arbitrator under the "war working agreement" entered into last December by Francis J. Heney, counsel representing the fifteen employés' unions operating in the packing plants and at the stockyards.

The new wage demand, which means an increase ranging from 10 to 50 per cent per day, varying according to class of employment, directly affects nearly 75,000 employés working here as well as in plants operated by the "big five" packers in other cities. It is a direct request for from $2 to $2.50 per day increase for each employé and comes on top of the $1.45 per day increase granted when the "war working agreement" was entered into.

To Fix Hearing.

Judge Alschuler informed Mr. Heney yesterday that he would notify him before the end of the week when he will be able to take up the petition. There are forty new points made in the petition, the question of a "closed shop" figuring in some of the requests. Under the terms of the December agreement entered into between the packing concerns and employés they were privileged to ask for revision or changes at any time during "the period of the war."

As the agreement entered into before Judge Alschuler, as arbitrator, was only for "the perior of the war," there is some doubt as to whether any award made by him under the new demands would hold beyond the time of the signing of the peace treaty. It is generally believed that any agreement as to wages or working conditions beyond that time would necessarily be a new one.

"The principal grounds for the request of a general increase of 25 cents per hour for all employés is the increase in the cost of living since the agreement was entered into," said Mr. Heney, who spent yesterday conferring with John F. Hart, international president of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butchers' Workmen's organization. "Living budgets have increased measurably and the employés believe that more money is due them.

Women Question Up.

"The question of women workers receiving the same pay as men for the same work, which was heard before by Judge Alschuler, is another of the principal contentions. The matter of lunchroom arrangements is another issue.

"The wage increases would run from 10 to 50 per cent, varying according to wages paid the various employés and all workers in Packingtown represented by the unions, as well as those elsewhere, who are working under the award, are principals to the petition. While the Alschuler agreement was made only for the period of the war, there is nothing to prevent an arrangement being entered into covering a five year period, if such were considered necessary."

John G. Condon, one of the attorneys representing the packing concerns in the wage dispute, said last night there has been no charge made in the petition that the packers have violated their agreement in any way, and that for the period of the war they would continue to abide by any decision made by Judge Alschuler.

WATCH PACKER PROFITS.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—After a conference between representatives of the big Chicago packers and officials of the federal food administration today it was agreed that the perfected system of accounting to assure close supervision of profits is to be continued under direction of the Federal Trade commission after the food administration ceases to exist.

The rules, agreed upon some time ago, apply only to the packers whose sales are in excess of $100,000,000 a year. Included in this class are the Swift, Armour, Morris, Wilson, and the Cudahy companies.

"DARLING DAVE" HAGGARD AS JURY PONDERS HIS FATE

"Darling Dave" O'Connor and Prof. Louis Alberti will not know their fate until 10 o'clock this morning. Their case went to the jury at 9:15 last night but when at 11 o'clock they had failed to return a verdict, Judge Kavanagh ordered the jurors locked up for the night.

"Darling Dave" was haggard and nervous. The announcement that the jury, after an hour and three-quarters of consideration, had failed to reach a verdict, apparently increased his fears.

He had been visibly jolted when Prosecutor Hayden Bell, in his closing argument, indirectly demanded life imprisonment for O'Connor.

Alberti's pretty bride of three months came from the rear of the courtroom to sit with him while they waited in vain for the jury to come back.

Ridicules Temptress Story.

"Can you imagine a 15 year old girl leading on a man 30 years of age, a successful member of the board of trade, a divorcé?"

The prosecutor charged Alberti with being an accessory to the crime, but he devoted but little attention, on the whole, to the dapper little linguist. He made his great assault on "Darling Dave," who cringed in his chair under the prosecutor's vitriolic attack.

George W. McGurn, attorney for O'Connor, pointed to his client's sailor uniform in making his closing argument, and pictured "Darling Dave" as a man who had "enlisted in the service of his country, ready to make the supreme sacrifice."

"I see no overseas service stripe upon his sleeve," was Prosecutor Bell's retort. "And one of the reasons we went to war was because German soldiers outraged French and Belgian women."

LOSES $400,000 ALIMONY ACTION

William J. Howey, Chicago millionaire, emerged victorious yesterday in the court proceedings instituted by his first wife, Mrs. Ella Howey, for divorce and alimony of $400,000. Judge Burney, in the Circuit court at Kansas City, Mo., ruled against Mrs. Howey.

Mr. Howey and his second wife, Mrs. Grace Hastings Howey, a former stenographer in his office, are living at 5415 Cornell avenue. They were married April 13, 1916. Mr. Howey is a member of the South Shore Country club.

Mrs. Howey No. 1 filed her suit for divorce and alimony last April. Mr. Howey had obtained a divorce in Bartow, Fla., April 12, 1914, but she alleged this was not legal.

PRIVATE BANKER FOUND GUILTY

William B. Sluz, erstwhile private banker, real estate and ticket dealer, of 739 West One Hundred and Nineteenth street, was convicted of larceny in Judge Windes' court yesterday. He faces a sentence of one to ten years in the penitentiary.

According to testimony introduced by Assistant State's Attorney Edward J. Prindiville, the defendant by various means embezzled $3,600 intrusted to him by a number of poor factory workers in the neighborhood of his private bank. On Dec. 21, 1916, the doors of Sluz's bank were closed and he fled to Detroit. He returned to Chicago in February of 1917 and later was arrested and indicted.

FORTIFIED FOR LONG DRY SPELL

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 21.—[Special.]—A wealthy and well known Philadelphian of middle age came into the office of an insurance company the day after the bone dry legislation was passed in Washington and asked if the insurance concern would tell him what his normal "expectation of life" might be.

One of the actuaries looked up the statistics and found that for a man of his age the expectancy was that he would live for about twenty years more. Mr. —— thanked the concern, offered to pay a fee for the information, and said:

"The reason I wanted to know is that I intend to go out and buy enough liquor to guarantee me a quart a day."

SOFT HEART AND AN ITCHING PALM COST LOUIS $1,1[illegible]

Sympathetic, Yes, but 300 Per Cent Is What Got Him.

Here's another slicker story. Poor Louis Zatega! Louis lives at 339 Bridge street, Grand Rapids, Mich., but he came to Chicago.

He was walking up State street, looking in windows, waiting for train time, and marveling in his own mind how feathers and furs can cost so much. Pretty soon, he told the police last night, he saw a man leading another up the street. The second man was crying.

Soon to Be Rich, So He Cries.

"His brother is very rich," said the man who had been leading the weeping man.

"For that should he cry?" asked Louis.

"His brother is dying and he will soon be very rich," said the stranger.

"And he cries?" asked Louis.

"Sure, he cries," said the stranger. "He is crying because while he has so much money he has got no money at all. He has his brother's money, hundreds of dollars of it, but he can't even pay for a doctor for himself, and he is sick. Now, if he could borrow some money for a few days he could give his brother's money for security."

"I've got a little money," said Louis.

"He will give you $3 for each $1 you will loan him," said the man who led the weeper. The weeper choked his sobs and nodded.

"How much have you got?" asked the stranger.

"I've got $1,100, but it is in a bank in Grand Rapids," said Louis.

He Gets It All.

Louis went and got it all, he told Detective Sergeants Stapleton and Boschulte last night. He brought it to Chicago, and they met him at the train, the stranger and the sobbing man. The sobbing man felt better. Louis was coming to his help.

"I don't see how in the world they did it, but they did," said Louis to the police. "They took my money and their money, hundreds of dollars of it! They counted it all out right in front of my nose. They nailed it all up in a box and gave me the box. When I opened the box there wasn't anything in it but paper.

"I saw 'em put the money in and I saw 'em nail up the box. Isn't that funny?"

The detectives agreed that it was.

Only Pitied "Lonesome Sailors," Wife's Defense

Mrs. Lulu McAndrens of 361 West Harrison street, wife of James J. McAndrens, business manager of the Elevated Railway Employés' union, filed a cross bill in the Circuit court yesterday, in answer to her husband's suit for divorce. She denies that she had been friendly with sailors from the Great Lakes Naval Training station as alleged in the bill filed by her husband.

"I just talked to some sailors when they looked lonesome," she states in her bill. She also relates a woman whom she knows only as "Hilda" is the object of her husband's affections.

Judge Waterman's Estate Sues Swifts for $10,000

Louis F. Swift and Edward F. Swift, trustees of the estate of their father, Gustavus F. Swift, were sued for $10,000 yesterday by Joseph B. Bowles, administrator of the estate of former Judge Arba N. Waterman. Only the praecipe was filed. Attorney Nathan C. Moore stated that the suit is for fees owed to the late Judge Waterman.

FOOD SAVING TO SAVE TEUTONS IS NEXT BIG TASK

How can the idea be "sold" to the American public that it is its duty and privilege to feed the starving Germans and Austrians this winter along with the rest of the famine threatened peoples?

This problem, which raised quite a crop of pessimists in Washington and caused Herbert Hoover to "swallow hard," was explained to the 101 county food administrators of Illinois yesterday by Mrs. Beatrice Forbes-Robertson Hale, official representative of the national food administration, fresh from conferences in New York and Washington.

To Be "Hard Winter."

As she elaborated on the subject and went into its psychological phases, putting forward this and that idea as a possible good "selling point," it dawned upon her audience that this is going to be a hard winter. All our food saving of the war period is as nothing to the great campaign of education that the country is to undergo beginning Dec. 2. The United States has economized to feed 22,000,000 among its allies. It must now assist in the feeding of an additional 200,000,000.

Mrs. Hale passed from subjects of love and hate and fear and common sense to the spiritual aspect of the problem, leading her audience with her to the heights of altruism. When she had finished they told her that Illinois would carry the program through, even though it involved sacrifices to feed Germans and Austrians that we have been taught to hate.

Specifies "Selling Points."

These are the selling points in the campaign which, Mrs. Hale said, have recently been under discussion by the expert propagandists:

FEAR—The menace of Bolshevism. Famine is the mother of revolutions. If we do not feed Germany and Austria those countries will be swept by anarchy and a stable government will be lost.

COMMON SENSE — Germany broke because a ration endurable under military hope became unendurable. She cannot pay unless she has peace and a stable government.

ALTRUISM—Think of our well fed boys in the occupied German cities approached by women and children pleading for bread. Think of the 10,000,000 Russians who may die this winter.

"I am a professional propagandist and have studied many campaigns," said Mrs. Hale. "In a recent discussion of this subject it was suggested that we soft pedal the idea of doing good to those who fought you for a few weeks until the public swings around from a war to a peace psychology.

Spread Hope and Courage.

"Don't play up fear—but spread hope, courage, altruism, and love of humanity.

"Instead of all this talk about the dangers of anarchy, instead of a depressing picture, say that America is the only country left in the world that is rich in men and resources. This is her greatest opportunity.

"Mr. Hoover has given us no definite program for the present. In about two weeks he will tell us what to save first. He has gone to see. Butter and milk we will have to save and in about another month there will be a cry for fats. We must make a greater effort at conservation of food than we did last year."

CAPTURE BANDIT; THREE PALS FLEE AFTER GUN DUELS

In the capture of Harry Shatz, 19 years old; following a revolver battle, the police believe they have one of the men who last Saturday night took part in a robbery in which Simon Levi, 1318 South Springfield avenue, was fatally shot. Levi misunderstood the command of the bandits to hold up his hands.

Shatz was captured last night after the gang had held up the drug store of Eli Metcoff, 1500 West Van Buren street, and shot the druggist.

When the bandits entered the drug store a clerk, Leo Fitchner, was alone. He was robbed of $7. Metcoff came in attracted by the cries of customers who had fled from the store.

Metcoff, although unarmed, beat two of the men and his clerk fought off the third. Metcoff was shot in both arms. Then the bandits ran to the Reliance garage, 1341 Jackson boulevard, where they had an automobile they had stolen a week ago from Joseph Simon, 1001 South Ashland boulevard. As they were about to start out, Detective Sergeants Dillon, Sullivan, Kelly, and Considine ran toward them. At the same time Detective Sergeants Carmody and Moran ran out of the rear of the garage and tried to head off the men.

In front of the garage a revolver fight took place, the bandits backing away after firing shots from behind telephone poles. Shatz surrendered when Carmody and Moran came out of the alley. The other men then ran east in Jackson boulevard, where Lieut. Ira McDowell and several more detectives opened fire.

The bandits who had weathered the cross fire of the police then sought to make their last stand in Throop street near the Mary Dawes hotel. The two squads of detectives followed them into the alley and in the dark shots were flying in all directions. Suddenly the shooting ceased, and when the police ran forward they learned the bandits had escaped.

CLUB NOTES

Mrs. Frank Fuller, regent of the Chicago chapter of the D. A. R., yesterday resigned, her position falling automatically to the first vice regent, Mrs. T. Henry Greene. The second vice regent, Mrs. James T. Barnet, it is understood, will fill Mrs. Greene's position. The resignation was read to the members of the chapter in a meeting in the Fine Arts building, but was not officially accepted. A motion was adopted to ask Mrs. Fuller to reconsider her action. Mrs. Fuller plans to go abroad in search of news of her son, an aviator, who was reported killed in action.

How to keep the home fires burning with soft coal will be the problem discussed at the luncheon of the Woman's City club next Monday. David Kennedy, director of the domestic heating section of the United States food administration, will be the speaker.

The fall meeting of the Chicago Wellesley club will be held Tuesday, Dec. 3, in the College club rooms.

WOMAN'S WORK IN RECONSTRUCTION

BY LUCY CALHOUN.

A slim little woman with white hair and a youthful face held an audience of 500 women for more than forty-five minutes yesterday while she told them what their work under the banner of the Red Cross had done for the relief of suffering Europe. She was Mrs. August Belmont of New York, who has just returned from France and who came to Chicago representing the National Red Cross War council.

She told of the work of the women in the canteens over there, and of the men's canteens, which worked so close to the front that they were not permitted to claim protection of the Red Cross flag. She told of the destitute condition of the civilian population of France.

"There have been some who have said the Red Cross should not have paid so much attention to the civilian relief," she said, "but I believe that the $1,000,000 spent by the Red Cross for civilian relief was the best money ever expended."

More Work to Be Done.

The reconstruction period following the war, Mrs. Belmont said, will require more work of the Red Cross than ever.

"We cannot tell just what we will be called upon to do until Henry Davison returns," she said. "We must just stand steady and await the commands of our superior officers."

With Mrs. Belmont on the platform were Mrs. John MacMahon and Mrs. Joseph M. Cudahy, vice chairman of the Bureau of Personnel of the Central Division.

Mrs. Gleason Tells of Work.

Mrs. Arthur Gleason addressed an audience of women at the Cordon at luncheon yesterday describing the work of the American women in Y. M. C. A. service in England and France. Later she talked to the members and friends of the Junior league at the Casino.

An appeal for volunteers who will tag on Monday for the permanent blind war relief fund is made by Mrs. Charles E. Frankenthal, who asks that all who can possibly do the work call at her office, 120 West Adams street, or telephone her at Randolph 4350. ceeds of the tag day will go to the fund to provide training for blinded soldiers.

An American soldier in France is worrying about his mother in Chicago. He has not heard from her for months. The American Red Cross in France cabled the home service section in Chicago to find Mrs. George W. Connor (or Comper), living somewhere on Kenilworth avenue.

Hoosiers, Proud of War Record, Plan a Notable Reunion

Hoosiers from many parts of the country are preparing to meet here on Dec. 7 for the fourteenth annual dinner of the Indiana society of Chicago.

It is announced that many prominent persons of the military and naval forces of the United States and allies will be present.

The members claim a Hoosier was the first of the American expeditionary force to land in France; that a Hoosier fired the first American gun of the war, and that a Hoosier was one of the first three Americans to give up their lives for their country.

Among the commanding officers of the army Generals Bundy and Haan have stood out for their achievements in decisive engagements in which the Americans took part.

The society's membership includes prominent Chicago citizens. Among them are George Ade, John T. McCutcheon, Judge Francis E. Baker, E. J. Buffington, Edward Rector, Ernest A. Hamill, George T. Buckingham, and John C. Shaffer.

There's No Remedy for Biting the Lips

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

WAS IT YOU?

There's a certain young woman with a very pretty face indeed and she wears pretty clothes and all that, but, like almost every other young woman with a mirror to face, she has a beauty ill which bothers her exceedingly. But being inconsistent—again like almost every other young woman—she wants it remedied without any voluntary contribution on her part.

When I tell you her trouble is lips that she has made jagged and chapped and coarse looking by the nervous habit of perpetually biting them you will readily understand why she may be accused of inconsistency after she writes to the beauty editor and sends up a prayer for a swift and early remedy.

Now, no beauty editor can effect that remedy. The girl must do it all by herself. She has to stop biting her lips before they get colorless and thick, which will result if she doesn't. In the meantime she may get a camphor ice stick and apply it frequently to the lips to repair the damage done to the skin, but the camphor ice will be of no permanent value unless the nervous habit is cured.

Thrift Luncheon for Women.

A thrift luncheon will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the east room of the Hotel La Salle under the auspices of the woman's committee, war savings committee for Cook county. The guests will be 200 women war workers, who will receive final instructions on the "over the top" drive, which opens Thanksgiving day.

Cheer Up! For You're Always Sure of Something Worse

Produced By Fox Film.

THE CAST.

Colette	Evelyn Nesbit
Andrien Walcott	Irving Cummings
Don Walcott	Robert Walker
Prince Vacarra	Eugene Ormond
Delia Picard	Dorothy Walters
Boris	Russell Thaw

By Mae Tinée.

It is the habit of many, after viewing a Fox spasm, to inquire wildly "Could anything be worse?" Something always could. That is the next Fox spasm. "The Woman Who Gave" is just another convulsion.

Don't misunderstand me. Fox can, and sometimes does, put out a good picture, but they seem always sure to hark back to mawkish trash. Goodness knows why, I don't. Certainly the public as a whole is not eager for such stuff.

The picture in question is a melodrama of the wildest dime novel type with Evelyn Nesbit featured as a demure and virtuous artist's model. She is posing in Paris for an American artist who is attempting to finish his masterpiece before he goes blind. (A little Kipling stuff, you see.) This artist has a brother. Both brothers adore Colette and she is devoted to them. Well, along comes a Romelian prince.

Now, I never have met a Romelian prince, have you? But it seems that they are snaky looking gentlemen who have but to cast their evil eye on a lady to draw her within their spell. They wed their women whether they will or no and carry them off to their Romelian fastnesses where in huge and gloomy castles they treat them as chattel and spank them with rawhides. Well, a Romelian prince charmed Colette away to his lair.

You never saw anything so full of coincidences as this picture! The poor artist, unable to finish his picture because Colette has deserted him and gone whither he knows not, is taken back to America by his devoted brother who says maybe sometime, somewhere, they will find Colette. Ha! The Romelian prince, back from war, and tired of his barren country, decides to take his wife and their small son to New York. Ha! Once there he gives a stag dinner at which he commands his wife to dance. The brother of the now blind artist goes to the stag dinner. Ha! She sees the brother, refuses to dance, faints, etc., whereat her prince, considering she is becoming far too independent takes her to a mountain hunting lodge.

The brother decides that the mountains would be good for his blind brother's sight, so away they go. Ha! To the same place. Ha! And now as you can well imagine just about everything happens. Such a monkey business!

No doubt in the world but that Evelyn Nesbit, her little son, Russel Thaw, a dear little chap, Eugene Ormond, and Robert Walker do wondrous well with what they have to do with. It is kinder not to mention the others.

I think "The Woman Who Gave" is awful!

THE SUCCESSFUL HOME GARDEN

BY J. F. H. HEIDE.

No. 253.

APPLES IN THE HOME GARDEN.

[Copyright: 1918: By J. F. H. Heide.]

During the brief period of its blooming, beginning about May day, the most beautiful thing in the landscape is the apple tree. All varieties come in flower about the same time, not over a week between the first and the last.

If adornment of the home grounds is to be combined with utility planting, two thrifty, vigorous, symmetrical trees are entitled to first consideration —Maiden's Blush and Red Astrachan, both singularly beautiful in blossom or in fruit. The latter is the handsomest of the white blooming and bears a deep crimson colored fruit, in season from July till September; the former has a dense mass of pink blossoms and a velvety lemon colored fruit with a brilliant red cheek turned to the sun, in season from then till November. Both are desirable for dessert or cooking and, though they rank but "5 to 6" in a decimal quality scale of 0 to 10, are far superior to the Ben Davis.

If there is room for only one or two trees, it is well to bear in mind that Duchess and Wealthy are good for cooking when only half grown, providing for culinary requirements during six weeks or more previous to ripening. The latter is of very good quality for all purposes.

Apple growing on the small scale of the city and suburban garden is profitable only in the summer and fall varieties. This because of the difficulty of getting good summer and fall market apples. The best summer varieties deteriorate too fast for shipment. The graphic tables published next Sunday should be carefully studied in planning the plantation to provide both dessert and kitchen apples continuously from July till superior winter market apples are available. Cut out that chart and preserve it for kitchen and planting reference.

The price of two year old trees (the best age for this climate), singly, is now about 50 cents, with perhaps 20 per cent discount in lots of 100. Shapely grafted stock, with an abundance of fibrous roots and true to variety name, should be obtained from the nearest responsible nurseryman of good repute. In the case of Grimes Golden, perhaps the best of our winter dessert apples, it pays to buy "double worked" graft (a combination of three trees) to circumvent collar rot at the surface of the ground, though such a tree will cost double.

What Determines Meat and Live-Stock Prices?

Some stock men still think that Swift & Company—and other big packers—can pay as little for live-stock as they wish.

Some consumers are still led to believe that the packers can charge as much for dressed meat as they wish.

This is not true. These prices are fixed by a law of human nature as old as human nature itself—the law of supply and demand.

When more people want meat than there is meat to be had, the scramble along the line to get it for them sends prices up. When there is more meat than there are people who want it, the scramble all along the line to get rid of it within a few days, while it is still fresh, sends prices down.

When prices of meat go up, Swift & Company not only can pay the producer more, but has to pay him more, or some other packer will.

Similarly, when prices recede all down the line Swift & Company cannot continue to pay the producer the same prices as before, and still remain in the packing business.

All the packer can do is to keep the expense of turning stock into meat at a minimum, so that the consumer can get as much as possible for his money, and the producer as much as possible for his live-stock.

Thanks to its splendid plants, modern methods, branch houses, car routes, fleet of refrigerator cars, experience and organization, Swift & Company is able to pay for live cattle 90 per cent of what it receives for beef and by-products, and to cover expense of production and distribution, as well as its profit (a small fraction of a cent per pound), out of the other 10 per cent.

Swift & Company, U. S. A.

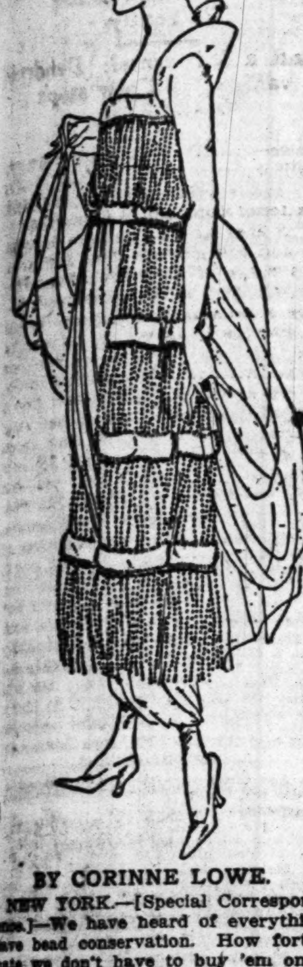
FASHION'S BLUE BOOK



BY CORINNE LOWE.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—We have heard of everything save bead conservation. How fortunate we don't have to buy 'em on a card and explain to the grocer there are five in family! For beads are now a popular center of interest on both frocks and hats. Even veil borders now and then succumb to their magic touch. Above is a frock for the young girl made by an American designer and certainly one of the most delightful fairy story things we have seen in a long time. White satin is the foundation and over this hang strands of gold beads hung from bands of unspotted ermine. Just imagine!

Italian Sculptor Tells How Nation Saved Art in War

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

Chicago is becoming slowly but surely the Mecca of each foreign traveler of importance whom governmental missions bring to our shores. Last week it was a group of English and French dignitaries of the church, yesterday a French architect, and today an Italian sculptor. Lieut. Ettore Cadorin spoke Wednesday afternoon in Fullerton hall of the Art institute on the subject of saving Italy's art from the invading forces of Austria.

He recalled several points of great interest. It seems the removal of most of the treasures from the churches and palaces and museums took place at night. The hour of 2 a. m. was particularly sacred to this duty, and the citizen who was returning home late would chance upon groups of men moving slowly, silently, carrying great boxes or rolls, in which were packed the paintings of the Venetian masters, to be sent on barges down the Grand Canal and thence to the south.

Two thousand paintings were taken from Venice to safety. The first things to be removed were the bronze horses on the church of St. Mark. The most difficult of removal was the horse and rider by Verrochio. But in time this was taken from its pedestal to a safe harbor.

Lieut. Cadorin brought with him from New York several exquisite portraits carved in ivory on thin ivory plaques, photographs of some of the lovely monuments he has erected in Italy. One of a girl leaning against, almost melting into the block of white marble of which her form is part, is beautiful. A bronze figure symbolizing Belgium is graceful and sympathetic. One can see in it the soul of Belgium crying out upon her oppressors.

D'Annunzio, the Italian poet, says of Cadorin that he, of all the sculptors Italy has produced, can best embody the soul of woman in his clay. It seems a true saying.

One asked the artist how he liked Chicago. "I will tell you," he said. "I like New York very much for a month or so, Washington for a few days, but Chicago—I could live here."

Does Your Coiffure Satisfy You?

No matter how well a woman is gowned, she can never attain distinction if her hair is badly arranged, her hair pins ill-chosen, her coiffure not in accord with the time of day. Where does one learn these so-important little things—one's coiffure, gloves, shoes, veils, handkerchiefs—things that make all the difference between a woman who is, and one who—just isn't?

Foods for Vitality.

The subtitle of Prof. E. V. McCollum's book, "The Newer Knowledge of Nutrition," is: "The Use of Foods for the Preservation of Vitality and Health." Few laymen will care to read this book, which delights the student of nutrition, because few laymen are willing to study into the hows and whys. Give them results! Yet any layman will be interested in the conclusions of this book, because they are so simple and easy to grasp.

Prof. McCollum, through years of study and exact experiment, has discovered that there are two hitherto unknown properties or qualities in certain foods which are absolutely necessary to growth and the preservation of health over long periods of time. One of these is in butter fat, which is of course suspended in whole milk, so we get enough of it if we taken enough milk, but get the safest amounts by eating butter, and the other is to be found in comparative abundance in the leaves of vegetables.

Note carefully that Prof. McCollum calls these "fat soluble A" and "water soluble B" or sometimes unknown A and unknown B. He does not call them vitamines.

These two McCollum food properties are being made the subject of many popular articles. Since these are all supposed to be highly instructive, we have a right to ask that they be not misleading, as so many of them are, and for various reasons. For instance, in an article in a leading publication of its kind, an article with a sentimental but presumably patriotic title, the first of Prof. McCollum's unknown substances was called "soluble fat A."

These unknowns constitute that illusive thing, food quality. Much better informed people than the writer of the article in question call these unknowns vitamines. Prof. McCollum says the reading public has an extravagant idea about the importance of these latter substances.

Church Progress Planned.

Plans for the new era movement of the Presbyterian church, by which more progressive methods would be employed in church management and procedure, were discussed at a dinner in the Hotel La Salle last night.

Bright Sayings of the Children

"The Tribune" will pay $1 in thrift stamps for each childish saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Please write on one side of the paper. Address bright sayings to Aunty Bee, "Tribune," Chicago.

Katherine had been served with hot chocolate on several occasions at a neighbor's, and her mother had quietly told the woman not to use her best china lest it get broken. One morning the neighbor sent over for Katherine to come and spend the afternoon of that day with her and when the message was given her she exclaimed, "Oh, goody; but somehow I always get the broken saucer and crackeldy cup!" M. T.

At breakfast a member of the family was dutifully eating cornbread. When asked why she ate it, instead of eating fresh wheat rolls, she answered, "Because I am Mr. Hoover's little lamb!" at this her little brother said "I am Mr. Hoover's little goat." W. B. N.

One morning the youngest pupils were obliged to sit upon a movable bench to recite; soon there was a commotion in the midst of which Edith waved her hand excitedly and said: "Teacher, Johnnie tipped the seat and I almost fell off the class!" I. M. C.

OBITUARY.

HIGH TRIBUTE TO DR. VAN HISE

Madison, Wis., Nov. 21.—Bishop Samuel Fallows of Chicago paid high tribute to President Charles R. Van Hise as a geologist and as an administrator in his sermon at the funeral in the state historical library here this afternoon. He resented the charge of disloyalty that had been made against the institution.

"I repel with all the force of my nature," said Bishop Fallows, "the charge that may have been made against the supreme loyalty of the institution to the government of the United States in the winning of the war.

"You might as well question the power of the grip of gravitation upon this planet as the grip of the University of Wisconsin upon every fundamental principle underlying honor and welfare of our beloved country."

GRAIN FUTURES HELD STEADY BY MIXED TRADING

Closing Trades on Both Corn and Oats at Gains.

BY CHARLES D. MICHAELS.

All bulges in grain futures met liberal selling for profits and by leading shorts, while breaks called forth support from local professionals friendly to the buying side and commission houses on resting orders. Closing trades here were at gains of ⅝ to 1c on corn and ¼ to ⅜c on oats.

Corn in the southwestern markets closed ¼c lower on November to 1½c higher on December at Kansas City, while St. Louis was ⅜@¾c higher. Oats in the southwest were unchanged to ⅜c higher, with Kansas City in the lead. Minneapolis gained ¼@⅜c and Winnipeg ⅜c, with only 79 cars received.

Mixed Trade in Corn.

Sentiment in corn was somewhat more mixed, and, while the local element were disposed to take the buying side, especially on dips, reversing their operations of late, commission houses sold freely on the bulges. Prices had a range of 2⅜@2½c, with finish at intermediate figures. November closed at $1.31, December at $1.29⅞, and January at $1.32¼.

Reports that the southwest was bidding for the cash grain in central Illinois and that the feeder demand continued in other sections had some effect on sentiment. Conflicting reports were received as to consignment notices, but a majority of the local houses said they were light.

Husking is now getting under way in Illinois, and is expected to be general shortly. Forecast was for freezing weather, the first of the season, with low temperatures expected for the balance of the week. This was expected to help operations, but no great increase in arrivals was looked for as yet.

Local arrivals were 105 cars, with sample values unchanged to 2c lower, closing easy. Domestic shipping sales 65,000 bu. Deliveries 15,000 bu. Argentine clearances for the week were estimated at 1,800,000 bu, the largest in some time, and compared with 550,000 bu last year. Efforts are being made at the seaboard to secure import licenses.

Cash Oat Premiums Firm.

Oats showed fair strength and closed within ⅛c of the top, with cash houses on the buying side of December, removing hedges against sales to the seaboard from outside markets. Business aggregated around 200,000 bu. Early there was some selling by cash houses against purchases to arrive, but aside from this trade was of a local character.

November was 75⅛c at the last, December 74⅝c, and January 74⅜c. Premiums in the sample market were somewhat firmer at ⅝@1c over December for No. 3 white, and ¼@½c over for standards, closing about the top. Sample values were unchanged, with receipts 189 cars. Domestic shipping sales aggregated 35,000 bu. Deliveries were 50,000 bu. Liberal country offerings were in evidence slightly above the market.

Country Buys Rye.

Country buying orders were in evidence in rye, and futures closed ½@1c higher, but the cash was ½c lower. No. 2 on spot sold at $1.73½@1.73¾, and in store at $1.72. Receipts, 24 cars. Milwaukee was unchanged, and Minneapolis 1½@2c higher. The northwest received 115 cars.

Barley demand was slower, but spot sales showed no change at $1@1.08½, while 35,000 bu were bought to arrive at $1.05@1.08. Futures declined ¼c, with the country a fair buyer. Receipts, 18 cars. Milwaukee was 1c higher on choice and 1c lower on poor, while Minneapolis was unchanged. The northwest had 110 cars.

Flax seed at Duluth closed 3½@5c lower; November, $3.92; December, $3.89. Winnipeg, 2¼@4c lower; November, $3.71; December, $3.58⅝. The three markets had 82 cars.

Timothy seed unchanged; March, $[illegible] bid. Toledo, 10c higher; December, $5.30; March, $5.45, per bu of 45 lbs. Clover seed unchanged. Country lots, $20@37, per 100 lbs. Toledo, unchanged to 5c higher; December, $25.65; March, $25.85, per bu of 60 lbs.

Easier Tone in Provisions.

Limited buying support part of the day and especially at the last gave the provision market an easy tone, with losses of 25c on lard and short ribs and [illegible] on pork, the finish being at a small rally from the inside. There was buying of January lard and ribs early by the packers, and the Armour house sold November lard, which was taken by shorts, and 50,000 lbs were delivered after the close.

Hog supplies are heavy and packers are hampered in taking care of them, owing to the labor shortage. Prices were lower and the artificial support makes some operators bearish. It is understood that all the product to be made for the next two months has been placed, and all the hogs that come will find a market. Fancy cuts of meats are wanted at good prices. Shipments of lard and meats exceed last year's. Prices follow:

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

The car situation in the central west is the best at this time in recent years. This is due to the methods adopted by the railroad administration and to a falling off in business the last few weeks. Not only are box cars generally in good supply, but there are also more coal cars available than the bituminous mines are able to load, and coal shippers report slowness in getting shipping directions so that coal is accumulating on leading roads.

The permit committee has issued permits for all applications to date for moving grains to Chicago. These are averaging 1,200 cars a day, or 200 more than last week. Not that many cars are being loaded, however. The permits include 200 cars each of wheat and corn and 275 cars oats. Oats are being given preference and permits are wired to interior stations as soon as issued so that oats may be rushed here. Permits are also mailed to the shippers as usual. Shippers of intermountain wheat in Idaho have their permits wired them. By this method one to three days are saved the shippers in loading grains. Permits for loading grain are now required at fourteen primary markets.

Gossip on corn was mixed last night. Longs, who bought on breaks, encountered opposition from a number of aggressive short sellers on all bulges. The longs, however, had the best of it in the finish. A larger array of bearish news was presented than for a long time. There were reports of Argentine corn being cheaper than American, but permits have to be secured to import it. Larger arrivals of new corn were talked of. The reduction in the grind of 5,000 bu corn a day by glucose factories and reports from New York of a lessened output of corn sirups were given a great deal of attention. A Corn Product official, however, said the demand for their product was as good as ever, and the lessened grind was unimportant. A great deal of comment was heard regarding the Paris cable reporting a reduction of 25 to 50 per cent in grain prices in France. This was taken as indicating liberal supplies there. The cable, however, was very indefinite.

There is apparently no hedging pressure in corn, and most of the selling comes from the shorts. It is natural to look for an enlarged movement at this season of the year, and the colder weather will put the corn in better shape for marketing. Local shorts were the best buyers of bids while commission houses took the offers. It is a kind of free for all market for the present.

A saving of 2,029,000,000 lbs in the amount of grains and other material used by brewers was effected during the year July 1, 1917, to June 30, 1918, as compared with the previous year. Total of all material was 1,910,000,000 lbs, including 460,000,000 lbs corn or cerealine, or 206,000,000 lbs less than the previous year; malt, 36,097,000 lbs, against 81,498,000 lbs last year.

Trading in coarse grains for delivery in February will start today. The food administration has extended the trading period one month, so that hereafter trading in coarse grains will be permissible for ninety days in advance, against sixty days as at present. On Dec. 2 trading will commence in the March delivery.

Based on reports from 5,000 special returns, the department of agriculture estimates that the number of hogs on farms in the United States in September was 3.9 per cent in excess of August, cattle 2.7 per cent smaller, and sheep unchanged. From March to September inclusive, hogs gained 37.6 per cent, cattle 12.1 per cent, and sheep 40.2 per cent.

COTTON TRADE NEWS

Exports today were 23,005 bales, making 1,081,863 so far this season. Port receipts, 19,780 bales. United States port stocks, 1,402,215 bales. Futures:

A letup in the demand for yellow corn was noticeable in the local sample market. Early sales were at unchanged prices, but the close was 1c lower on new and 1@2c lower on old. INSURANCE NEWS IN ALL BRANCHES EAST AND WEST

Profit Sharing Plan on Risks Written for Government.

BY THOMAS R. WEDDELL.

Insurance agents complain that the government objects to paying them the usual commission for services, especially in connection with war work. The housing corporation is placing insurance direct with certain companies which reduce the rate by cutting out the agents' commission. The government insists also on a sharp reduction in the commission on compensation business.

The war department has reached an agreement with the casualty companies over the rates on compensation and liability insurance on cantonment and other work done for the government. The government insists upon a profit sharing plan and has approved a proposition formulated by the companies. Under this the cost to the government of its casualty insurance is based upon experience. The business is to be written at loss cost plus taxes, a reasonable overhead, and an allowance of 7½ per cent for field service, which is to include the agents' commission. The companies are to be allowed a normal profit of 1½ per cent and a contingent profit, based upon low loss cost, with a provision that such contingent profit shall not exceed 3½ per cent of the initial premium.

ALIEN RISK STOCK SOLD.

New York, Nov. 21.—At today's auction by the alien property custodian of the 2,000 shares of capital stock of the International Insurance company of New York the Chase Securities corporation was the highest bidder, its figure being $576,500. The National Surety company has appointed the Commonwealth Insurance Agency of St. Louis its general agent for eastern Missouri and southern Illinois. Earl Thompson, Emmet V. Thompson and F. Denchler are members of the firm, and Leslie J. Nichols, former local manager of the National, will be associated with them. The National Surety discontinues its St. Louis branch office.

MISSOURI FIRE LOSSES.

The underwriting situation in Missouri is unsatisfactory, and a number of companies are readjusting their business in that state, limiting their lines and retiring from certain sections. The report of the Missouri insurance department for 1917 shows a loss ratio of 61 per cent on protected business and 60 per cent on unprotected. On frame dwellings and their contents the loss ratio was 102 per cent in the protected class and 105 per cent in the unprotected class. On unprotected schools the loss ratio was 114 per cent. For many companies the 1918 record is even worse.

CHICAGO BOARD MEETING.

The Chicago Board of underwriters at its special meeting yesterday adopted the revised alien enemy clause, and the new church and school forms, prohibiting absolutely the use of motion picture machines using inflammable films. A gold star appropriation of $1,000 was made to the United War Work campaign in honor of Edward M. Franz, an employe of the board who was killed recently in France. An informal meeting followed, at which memorial resolutions were adopted for the late Charles M. Rogers, and Secretary Trimingham thanked the members for the honors paid him on the occasion of his eightieth birthday.

INSURANCE NOTES.

A special meeting of the Western Sprinkler leakage conference has been called for noon on Monday, Nov. 25, at the Grand Pacific hotel. It will consider the new rule suggested by the eastern conference covering blanket policies. This provides that blanket policies must have the average distribution clause and co-insurance, with a 5 per cent inventory clause.

A property loss of $300,000 was caused by the burning of three fine suburban residences at Grosse Point near Detroit, with insurance of $152,500. The fire was started by an electric iron on which the current had not been turned off.

PLAN TO FOSTER BOND BUYING ON PART PAYMENTS

One House Already Starts Propaganda for That Purpose.

BY GLENN GRISWOLD.

A bond house yesterday issued a pamphlet captioned "The Savings Payment Plan for Purchasing Safe Bonds" as a part of propaganda used in a broad gauged attempt to utilize the powerful movement toward thrift and investment developed by the sale of Liberty bonds on the partial payment plan and to interest as many self-supporting Americans as possible in continuing to lay aside a fixed proportion of income for safe investment.

This is the only house that has attracted attention by any sizable effort to prevent complete loss of the enormous if temporary momentum gathered by the thrift movement. The average bond dealer and banker admits that the partial payment plan, if continued by reputable dealers, would make thrift a fixed habit for a large proportion of the twenty or more million persons who bought Liberty bonds on the installment plan, but says the business is too expensive and petty to be worth while.

To Cultivate Savers.

A few bond experts believe that there is magic in the possibilities of systematically cultivating the little saver, born in patriotism, and raising him to be an investor. In the recent past there was not a single Chicago bond house that had any definite policy or organization for handling partial payment purchases of securities and inquirers have been referred to New York specialists, of whom there are several of unquestioned reliability. The difficulty has been that there are not a few "specialists" in New York who under guise of selling investment securities on small payments, bucket trades, sell questionable securities and swindle clients as openly as possible within the bounds of safety.

Many Buy on Installment.

There are no accurate figures available, but it is probable that there are between two and three million persons in the Chicago reserve district, legitimately the field of Chicago investment houses, who have bought government bonds on partial payment plans. The majority of these have been astonished at the ease with which their recent savings have been accomplished, are proud of their showing, and should be easy clients to the dealer who can show them how to continue the practice with safety.

The National City company yesterday sold $6,000,000 ten year, 6 per cent bonds of the American Thread company at 101, bringing the yield of a new industrial short term bond under 6 per cent for the first time in nearly two years. Another interesting index of the market's tendency was the sale of of $7,000,000 city of Philadelphia bonds at a new high price record yielding but 4¼ per cent.

COFFEE PRICES.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The text of communications which have passed recently between the coffee trade and the food administration was published by the coffee exchange today. They indicated that the Washington authorities had offered to rescind the rules governing trading in futures on the New York exchange, but that existing regulations and rules regarding transactions in actual coffee would continue. Members of the exchange objected to reopening the futures market for unrestricted trading while restrictions remained in force in the spot markets, and a petition embodying these objections was sent to Washington yesterday with a request for reconsideration.

Pending the outcome business remained at practically a standstill in both cost and freights and the local spot market. A small lot of Rio 7s was reported sold in the spot market at 10⅝a.

The official cables reported no change in Brazilian markets except Santos futures, which were unchanged to 75 reis higher. Brazilian port receipts, 35,000 bags; Jundiahy receipts, 24,000 bags. Santos reported clearances of 9,000 bags to New Orleans.

NORTHERN TEXAS ELECTRIC DIVIDEND.

The Northern Texas Electric company has declared a dividend of $2 a share on the common stock, payable Dec. 2 to holders of record Nov. 22. The usual semiannual dividend of $2 a share was paid on this issue on Sept. 3 last.

To Consumers of Gas:

About Gas Bill Errors

Mistakes will happen in any business that has to send out between 650,000 and 700,000 bills per month, as we do. The total complaints of customers filed with us are but a small percentage of bills rendered. Practically all of the gas bill mistakes happening lately are due to the following conditions:

Since the war began, the army and navy have taken nearly 600 of our employes. War industries have drawn away a still larger number. Vacancies have been filled in harmony with the U. S. Government recommendations—women in place of men where possible.

The personnel in many departments has been entirely changed in the sixteen months—in some of them several times. Green help has had to be broken in. We have now nearly 300 more employes than we had before the war, with practically no more business to care for; but many departments are still short-handed because inexperienced help does less work, no matter how willing. Every business that has a large clerical force has had similar experience.

The recent influenza epidemic aggravated the situation. Our meter-reading and book-keeping departments, which get out the bills, have been hit the hardest. A consequence of all this has been the errors in bills of the past month.

These errors are being promptly and carefully corrected as soon as detected, and everything that can be done to prevent errors is being done. In the meantime:

> Under the rules of the Illinois Public Utilities Commission, our customers do not lose their discount privileges during the investigation of complaints filed with us.

We do not gain by inconveniencing our customers. We are working under abnormal conditions. We ask only that our customers extend to us a little of the patience which the times demand. As war conditions pass, our service will be restored to the highest possible degree of efficiency.

OIL MEN READY TO MAKE PLANS FOR PEACE TRADE

Meeting Next Week Will Consider Changes and Conditions.

Beeman G. Dawes, president of the Ohio Cities Gas company, was in Chicago yesterday. Speaking of the general oil situation, he said:

"Next week there will be at Atlantic City a meeting of the national petroleum committee and all the various subcommittees through which the government has been regulating the oil industry during the war. We do not know what changes will be recommended at that gathering, but it will be the most important meeting of oil people that has been held and will make suggestions for the conduct of the business under the conditions now expected to obtain. Up to this time there has been complete regulation of every department. The trade in which each company might engage, the people with whom it must deal, the disposition of its output, and the prices obtained have all been directed by Commissioner Requa through the national petroleum committee and the subcommittees. We shall know better where we stand when the conference is over and whether the restrictions which now hold are to be relaxed or lifted.

Oil Supply Short.

"With the uncertainties ahead for some months, a prediction might easily go wrong, but it is true that whereas seven years ago there was on top of the ground sufficient surplus oil for two years' consumption, there is now not more than a three months' supply. In the end the outlook for the industry is highly favorable. The position of the oil companies is a reversal of the one that obtains in many lines. Whereas in the latter war contracts and engagements to meet a prolongation of the war have led to large supplies and a possible congestion of products, the oil industry finds itself with an under instead of an over supply of products. The coming of peace finds the demand for oil greater than the production.

"The regulations imposed during the war were perhaps necessary and worked out right. There was one feature, however, that curtailed new production. That was holding down the price of crude oil. New discoveries of oil are generally made by the small capitalists, who risk what may be their entire fortune on the chance of striking oil. Under present prices of labor and material it costs fully twice as much to drill a well as before the war, while, in the event of profits, the 80 per cent tax of the government takes most of it away. For these reasons production has been halted while consumption has continued.

Demand Is Reduced.

"The cessation of the war has reduced the demand for aviation gasoline and for the fuel oil demand for battleships. But in the meantime this and other countries are building a merchant marine which will require large supplies of oil, so that it cannot be foretold how the changes will work out.

"The conduct of the business during the war brought about new policies of coöperation that may hold to some extent in the future. This has been one of the striking developments. The Standard Oil companies, regardless of what may have been thought in the past of their policies, have certainly come to the scratch in every coöperative effort.

"When freed from the restraints that war made necessary, domestic and world conditions are right for a long season of prosperity in the oil business."

Steel Prices Stand.

Inquiry among steel manufacturers and steel exporting concerns discloses, it is reported, no tendency toward underselling maximum government prices. But there is some feeling of insecurity among manufacturers regarding the steel situation, as a whole. This is tempered considerably by the fact that the War Trade board is adopting a liberal attitude toward export licenses. More are being granted now for general trade, as well as for government needs. The removal of the time limitation licenses is also assisting in easing the situation.

Need for an early adjustment of this country's foreign trade is considered manifest. Americans will find, it is feared, markets closed to them, and will lose many opportunities for trade and permanent connections if the export situation is not carefully handled and present difficulties expeditiously reduced.

TALK OF THE STREET

Copper shares were under considerable pressure, owing to expectation of competition among producers and lower prices for the metal. Some of the smaller companies were reported to have made sales at 24c a pound against the government fixed price of 26c. Somewhat reassuring, however, was the reported inquiry from the French government for 200,000 tons of copper for a certain portion of which payment of 28c a pound would be made. The producers may not sell, however, for more than 26c. It seems probable that lower prices for the metal may be expected in the natural course of supply and demand.

Bethlehem B stock for the first time in weeks showed real strength and advanced to 66½. The market had the notion that C. M. Schwab would find a way to utilize the company's large war plant in meeting peace requirements. There was, however, no definite announcement.

Commission houses continue to hope for easier money and yesterday the expectation was that following the payment of the second installment on the Liberty loan a change might be expected. There was no announcement from any of the money committee to warrant this conclusion.

A few sales of commercial paper were reported on 5¾ per cent basis, but the market as a whole continued firm at 6 per cent. Inquiries in Boston and Philadelphia showed no break in the 6 per cent rate.

The Maxwell Motor shares were nervous. After an early advance of 1½ points the first preferred sold off, but closed a little better than on Wednesday. The second preferred declined 2 points. It must be said that the action of the board in cutting off the scrip dividend was unfavorably received by both the banks and the stock market.

CHICAGO STOCK TRANSACTIONS

The packing house stocks came into more favor, especially Swift International. The shares worked up to 49¼, being within a fraction of the high price touched last week. Some mystery attaches to the earnings, which are considered extremely large, and the income of the concern, a South American company, is free from the heavy taxes of this country. The buying is unusually general.

Wilson & Co. shares were also higher, advancing 2½ points. The rise was accompanied by announcement of the establishment by the company of foreign branches. Libby, McNeill & Libby was fractionally better, while Swift & Co. sold off 1 point. A feature of the market was an advance in Union Carbide and Carbon of 3 points to 66. When selling waves in the shares subside, a general buying movement usually follows, based on expectations of the company's future.

In the street railroad issues trading was dull but prices firm. Connecting Railway 5 per cent bonds advanced 1⅝ to 54. The selling pressure seems to have been removed. Wilson & Co. 6 per cent bonds advanced 5½ points to 98½.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Cotton goods and yarns were generally quiet, with prices lower where any trading was reported. Wool manufacturers and merchants were awaiting decision on the disposition of wool in the hands of the government before planning for future offerings. Burlap and silks were quiet.

Peace Investments to Net 6% with Real Safety

IN the vast changes of war and returning peace none is more striking than the creation of a great new bond buying class in the United States. Twenty-five million people have learned the lesson of thrift and are regularly laying aside a fixed sum from income every month. They have learned what a bond is, and have learned to invest savings in safe bonds.

To all these new bond-buyers we offer the services of S. W. Straus & Co. in the investment of funds. We call attention to the record of this House—thirty-six years without loss to any investor. This record proves the soundness of the bonds we sell and the care with which we protect the interests of our clients. It is a record which has gained vital importance under war-time conditions. It is a record which entitles this House to your confidence.

The bonds we offer are first mortgage serial bonds, safe-guarded under the Straus Plan. Each bond is simply a part of a first mortgage on the best, stablest, most solid security in the world—improved, income-earning city real estate or an established, prosperous industrial corporation of proven stability and earning power. These bonds are issued in $100, $500, and $1000 denominations. Since they mature serially, they enable you to select the date when your money will be paid back to you. They yield 6%—the highest rate consistent with perfect security. And they are safe.

Call at our office and let one of our officers explain the merits of these sound bonds to you. Or, if you wish, write for our booklet, "Safety and 6%," and ask for

U. S. TO LIMIT HOG SHIPMENTS BY PERMIT PLAN

The government intends to regulate receipts of hogs so that excessive supplies in the future will not occur. This will eliminate congestion such as hampered the market earlier this week.

All shipments of hogs hereafter to stockyards at Missouri river cities or to stockyards east of the Missouri river will require a car permit, such as is in use for giving the food administration orderly control of the movement of grain. Stockyards directly affected include Chicago, Kansas City, St. Louis, Omaha, St. Paul, Louisville, Nashville, and Pittsburgh.

F. W. Doty of the United States bureau of markets said that the authorized ocmmittees in charge of the issuance of permits would have as a member a representative of the bureau of markets at each of the cities named except Louisville and Nashville.

Aggregate receipts at Chicago, estimating Friday and Saturday, for the week total around 525,000 head of stock, over 105,000 consisting of cattle for a new record. There will be approximately 9,000 cars received, standing larger than ever before, the former record being 8,471, offered the week ending Dec. 13, 1902.

Despite an embargo hog receipts yesterday totaled 30,000, standing much larger than expected. Nevertheless the market was well sustained in early hours and some offerings held steady, with top at $17.95, only 5c off, but late trade was weaker, especially on light grades, which were in liberal proportion.

To Keep Down Receipts.

It is expected that arrivals of hogs here will be kept at not to exceed 40,000 a day, or 240,000 a week, and 1,000,000 a month for the next few months. This will enable the packers to handle them without any trouble. All packers have a large number of hogs on hand that have been held two or three days or more and the shrinkage in weight is serious.

"The labor situation is getting easier," said a packer. "That is, more men are applying for work. But they say they have been getting $8 to $10 a day and want us to pay that rate, which is out of the question. They say they will not work for less, and it looks as though they will do no work so long as they have money in their pockets unless paid high wages."

Cattle Quality Poor.

Quality of cattle was poorest of the week and buyers were only active competitors for the few good lots on sale, consequently the clearance was badly delayed, as plain to medium grades were slow from start to finish.

Average price of hogs at Chicago was $17.55, against $17.60 Wednesday and a week ago, $17.82 a year ago, and $9.50 two years ago.

Receipts for today are estimated at 8,000 cattle, 20,000 hogs, and 18,000 sheep, against 6,597 cattle, 28,268 hogs, and 8,495 sheep corresponding Friday a year ago.

SUBDIVISION

A HEART TO HEART TALK.

Are you making the money you ought to make for the hard work you are doing?

The only way you can, in these times, earn what you should is by putting your work on property which carries no inflation over its actual cold, hard cash worth, and which is sold with absolutely no interest nor any other charges.

As an owner, with no middlemen's profits, I can pay good producers more than they are now getting.

How many more shoes could you sell at $2 than you could if you were trying to sell shoes not so good for $5?

Do Your Windows Speak Cheerily to Passersby?

AT this season, and especially this year, the windows of thousands of homes speak out with stirring messages. Some tell of boys serving across the sea, others of War Work, Liberty Loan and Food pledges. At Christmas time, practically every home flashes forth a merry greeting. People's eyes are riveted to the windows to see the green and red of holly wreaths, and beyond, often, the glitter and color of Christmas trees.

So Every Home-keeper Will Look to Her Windows—and Profit by This Special Selling of Irish Point and Brussels Lace Curtains!

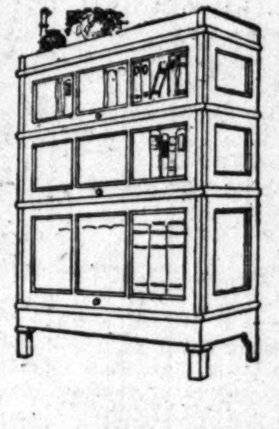
Give Sectional Book Cases

to That Ambitious Young Friend

"When it comes to be understood that books are necessaries of life—indispensable furnishings of every adequate home—even the poorest people will find ways of purchasing them."



NEXT to the possession of good books is the ownership of adequate housing for them. Sectional Book Cases provide an ideal means. They grow as one's library grows, can be arranged to fit any wall space, can be kept low for the kiddies' own reference, or built high if limited space makes this desirable. A gift of even one Section is an incentive to the collection of a library and would make most any recipient happy!

There Is Value in Patriotism and in Good Clothes
